[ Price Thirteen-pence Halfpenny. ]

AT the Court at St. James's, the 18th of February, 1795,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Twenty-sixth Day of December, 1792, to promise and declare, that the Bounties of Five Pounds for every Able Seaman, and Two Pounds Ten Shillings for every Ordinary Seaman, fit for His Majesty's Service, should be paid in the Manner thereby directed to every such Able and Ordinary Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should, on or before the Twenty-eighth Day of February then following, enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy, either with the Captains or Lieutenants of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels, or Officers employed on Shore for raising Men for the Service of the Royal Navy: And whereas His Majesty was also graciously pleased, by His said Proclamation, to declare, that all Able-bodied Landmen, not above the Age of Thirty five nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should so enter themselves as aforesaid, should receive the Sum of Thirty Shillings each Man, as His Majesty's Royal Bounty: And whereas His Majesty was also graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Sixteenth Day of the said Month of February, 1793, to promise and declare, that a Reward of Twenty Shillings for every Able and Ordinary Seaman, fit to serve on board His Majesty's Ships, should be paid to any

Horse Guards, February 28, 1795.

A Dispatch, dated Rheine, February 11, 1795, of which the following is an Extract, has been received by His Royal Highness the Duke of York from Lieutenant-General Harcourt, and communicated by His Royal Highness to the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

I HAD the Honor to inform your Royal Highness, in a Letter, dated January 21, from Deventer, of the Arrival of the Troops in their Cantonments behind the Yssel. The Frost having precluded all Communication with England since that Time, it has been out of my Power to acquaint you of the Movements which have since taken Place, and it is only within these Two or Three Days that the Thaw again offers a Prospect of it's being open.

In consequence of the Arrangements made, in conjunction with, and in pursuance of General Wallmoden's Orders, to place the Army in Cantonments behind the Ems, we marched on the 27th of January from Deventer and the rest of the Cantonments on the Yssel, leaving Lieutenant-General Abercromby with the Guards and Colonel Strutt's Brigade, the Advanced Posts still remaining at Appeldorn, Low, &c. to take the necessary Steps for the Removal of the Sick, Stores and Provisions, and for the Destruction of whatever of the latter could not be conveyed. Lieutenant-General Abercromby was to march the next Day, and I am happy to say, that by the Exertions which were made, and principally by those of Lieutenant-Colonel Brownrigg, which on this, as well as on all other Occasions, have been of the most essential Service, the Number of Sick left at Deventer, Zwell and Zutphen, did not exceed Six Hundred, most of whose Cases would not admit of Removal; Major M'Murdo, with a Captain, Two Subalterns, and the necessary Medical Attendants, was left in Charge of them. The greatest Part of the Stores and Provisions were removed or destroyed. The Ammunition, which had been brought from Arnheim to Doelburg, has likewise, in great Part, been got off, and is now at Bentheim.

The first Column arrived at and near Halten on the 27th, marched from thence to Delden on the 28th, and proceeded on the 29th to Oldensaal. On the 30th they arrived at and near Bentheim. General Coates's Brigade had marched some Days sooner, and was then cantoned at Skutorpe, Rheine and other Places, near and behind the Ems.

General Abercromby's Corps arrived at Oldensaal on the 30th and 31st, and the Advanced Posts were withdrawn to this Side of Deventer, and posted at Delden, Almela, and other Villages on that Front. I am sorry to add that the Troops on their March suffered considerably, not only from the Badness of the Roads and the Inclemency of the Weather, but likewise from the Difficulty of procuring Cover for the Men.

Horse-Guards, February 28, 1795.

A Letter from Major-General Sir Adam Williamson, K. B. dated Jamaica, the 20th of December, 1794, of which the following is an Extract, has been received by the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

I Have the Honor to inclose the Copy of a Letter to Brigadier-General Horneck, from Captain Grant of the 13th Regiment, who commanded at Bizzeton in St. Domingo, when attacked by Three Columns of the Brigands, of at least 2,000 Men. The Garrison consisted of not more than 120 Men. Captain Grant and his Two Lieutenants, Lieutenant Clunes of the Royals, and Lieutenant Hamilton of the 22d Regiment, merit every Attention that can be shewn them. They were all Three severely wounded early in the Attack; but tied up their Wounds, and continued to defend the Post. It has been a very gallant Defence, and does them great Honor.

Captain M'Kiver, of the Brig Mary, has been of infinite Service. I had stationed Armed Vessels off Bizzeton and Tiberoon, and they have contributed essentially to the Preservation of these Posts.

Bizzeton,

Bizzeton, December 5, 1794.

S I R,

I HAVE the Honor to inform you, that between the Hours of Four and Five this Morning, immediately as the Moon set, the Two Posts at this Place were attacked by Three Columns almost at the same Moment, commencing by an Attempt on the Redan, which was followed by others from the Old Mill-House, and on the Work constructed on the opposite Hill.

The Enemy advanced perfectly silent, and in such Secrecy that they were close under the Works before they were discovered; but having had the Garrison under Arms for some Hours, as is customary, and the Militia being in Readiness on their Posts, the Enemy met with an instant Check.

After an ineffectual Attack of about Three Quarters of an Hour, and Day-Light breaking fast upon them, they retreated, carrying with them all their Wounded, and (as is supposed) many of their Dead, as Thirty-seven Bodies only were found.

I should not do Justice to His Majesty's Troops, both Officers and Men, under my Command, if I did not acquaint you, Sir, with what cool and determined Spirit they conducted themselves on this Occasion; to the former, Lieutenants Hamilton and Clunes, I am particularly indebted for their Exertions, though I am sorry to say they were both severely wounded.

I must also thank Captain M'Kiver, of the Brig Mary, for the constant and steady Fire he kept up during the Whole of the Action.

I have the Honor to transmit an Account of Killed and Wounded, and am, &c.

J. G R A N T.
