Admiralty-Office, June 28, 1796.

Extract of a Letter from Admiral Sir John Jervis, K. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean, to Mr. Nepean; dated on Board the Victory, off Toulon, May 11, 1796.

I Desire you will communicate to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the enclosed Letter from Commodore Nelson, addressed to me; and the Satisfaction I feel in having an Officer of such Zeal and local Knowledge on the important Station he occupies.

Agamemnon, off Loana, April 25, 1796.

S I R,

THIS Morning having received Information that a Convoy, laden with Stores for the French Army, had anchored at Loana, I lost no Time in proceeding off that Place, with the Ships named in the Margin*. I was sorry to observe, on my Approach, that, instead of a Convoy, only Four Vessels were laying under the Batteries, which opened on our Approach, and their Fire was returned as the Ships got up, under Cover of which our Boats boarded the Four Vessels, and brought them off. The Vessels laying ve-y near the Shore, a heavy Fire of Musquetry was kept on our Boats, and it is with the greatest Grief I have to mention that Lieutenant James Noble, of the Agamemnon, a most worthy and gallant Officer, is, I fear, mortally wounded. The Fire from the Ships keeping under the Fire of the Batteries, we sustained no Damage; the Agamemnon was, I believe, the only Ship struck by Shot. The principal Part of this Service fell on our Boats, whose Conduct and Gallantry could not on any Occasion have been exceeded, and I with fully to express the Sense I entertain of the Gallantry of every Officer and Man employed on this Occasion. Herewith I transmit a List of Wounded, and of the Vessels taken, none of which had any Colours hoisted or Man on Board when taken.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

HORATIO NELSON.

Sir John Jervis, K. B.
