PROCLAMATION for pardoning DESERTERS
War-Office, September 22, 1796.

WHEREAS it has been represented to the King, That there are at this Time several Deserters from the different Regular Corps in His Majesty's Land Service, who might be induced to return to their Duty by an Offer of His Majesty's gracious Pardon, and that such an Instance of his Royal Clemency would have a due Influence upon their future Behaviour;

His Majesty has been graciously pleased, by his Order in Council, to grant his free Pardon to all Deserters from his Regular Land Forces, who shall surrender themselves, on or before the 10th Day of November next, to any of the Superintending Field Officers of the Recruiting Service, whose Stations are mentioned in the Margin hereof, or to the Inspector-General of the Recruiting Service at Chatham Barracks.

Such Deserters, if able-bodied Men and fit for Service, shall be appointed to such Regiments as His Majesty may be pleased to command; and shall not be liable to be claimed by any other Corps to which they may formerly have belonged.

And whereas many of the said Deserters may have enlisted in other Regular Corps, and are now serving therein, His Majesty is graciously pleased to extend to such Deserters the Benefit of this Pardon; and to direct that they shall continue to serve in the Corps wherein they now are, without being under the Necessity of declaring themselves Deserters, in order to entitle them to the Benefit of this Pardon; and they shall not be liable, at any future Time, to be claimed by the Regiments in which they formerly served: But this Clause is not to extend to Deserters enlisted by the Corps raising Recruits for general Service; which Deserters are only to be entitled to their Pardon on declaring themselves at Chatham Barracks to be such, and being there transferred to some established Regiment.

And whereas several of the said Deserters have been apprehended, and are now in Gaol, or in Regimental gimental Custody, His Majesty is likewise pleased to grant them his free Pardon, of which they are to have the Benefit upon their Arrival under Escort at Cnatham Barracks, where they will be disposed of in the Manner above-mentioned.

Any Soldier who may desert after these His Majesty's gracious Intentions are made public, shall not be included in the above Pardon, but be proceeded against with the utmost Severity.

DISPATCHEs, of which the following are Copies, have been received from Captain Anstruther and Robert Craufurd, Esq; by the Right Honourable Lord Grenville, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

*Head Quarters of His Royal Highness
the Archduke Charles, Haen, September 19, 1796.*

MY LORD.

HIS Royal Highness the Archduke leaving a considerable Corps in Reserve at Windecken, marched with the Main Body on the 12th to Friedberg. From thence General Kray pushed on with a strong Advanced Guard towards Wetzlar, on the Approach of which the Enemy abandoned the Town, and took post on the Heights behind it. General Hotze was detached at the same Time towards Weilbourg, but was not able to make himself Master of the Place.

His Royal Highness, whose chief Operations seemed hitherto to be directed on Wetzlar, now turned to the Left, and following the great Road to Limbourg, encamped on the 14th Instant near Weyer. His Object was to form a Junction with the Corps under General Neu, which was advancing from Schwalback, and to endeavour to penetrate the Centre of the Enemy's Line at the Points of Limbourg and Dietz, whilst General Kray turned it by the Left from Wetzlar, and General Milius kept in Check the Right, posted near Nassau.

On advancing to reconnoitre the Enemy, His Royal Highness found him very advantageously posted, and a considerable Force on the Heights in Front of Limbourg; and as from the Reports received from the Advanced Corps there was every Occasion to believe that he meant to dispute the Passage of the Lahn, it was judged adviseable to defer the Attack till the Co-operation of General Neu was more certain, and till the Reserve, which was now ordered up from Windecken, should arrive.

Early on the 16th His Royal Highness advanced against the Front of the Enemy's Position, whilst General Neu, from Kirberg, turned it. The Enemy, who saw himself in Danger of being cut off, abandoned the Heights with Precipitation, and being closely pursued, was obliged to take Shelter behind the Lahn, leaving the Austrians Masters of Dietz and Limbourg. The Tirailleurs defended themselves, however, in the Suburbs of the latter, with so much Obstinacy that Night came on before it was possible to dislodge them.

From the Resistance made at Limbourg the Archduke was in hopes that the Enemy meant to risque an Action in the Position of Hadamar, and in consequence the whole Army assembled before Day-Break on the 17th betwixt Dietz and Limbourg, from which Points it was determined that a general Attack should be made. A very thick Mist, which prevailed in the Morning, prevented the Troops advancing so early as was intended; and when it cleared away the Enemy was seen in full Retreat, and already at such a Distance as to leave no Hope of bringing him to Action. He abandoned successively, in the Course of the Day, all his Posts on the Lahn, those of the Left and Centre retiring towards the Sieg; and the Division of the Right, and the Corps which blockaded Ehrenbreitstein, throwing themselves into the Tete de Pont at Neuwied, and the Entrenchments on the Left Bank of the Rhine.

No Time was lost by the different Austrian Corps in passing the Lahn in Pursuit of the Enemy. General Kray was, on the 19th, at Herboon, and pushes on towards Dellenbourg and Siegen. The Advanced Guard of His Royal Highness's Column is this Day at Hochstebach, in the Direction of Alte-Kirck, and General Neu is in the Neighbourhood of Neuwied. The Pains which the Enemy has bestowed in fortifying the latter Place, present Difficulties which it will perhaps require Time to overcome, but which, in the mean Time, will not in any Degree retard the Progress of the Army.

The feeble Resistance which the French have made in a Post so important and so advantageous as that behind the Lahn, and which they certainly had resolved to defend, confirms, in the strongest Manner, the Representation which I have had the Honor of making to your Lordship of the Situation of their Army. Disorders of every Kind have arisen to such a Height amongst them that Jourdan thought it necessary to demand extraordinary and unlimited Powers of the Directory, without which it would be impossible for him to restore Discipline and Subordination. This Request was not only refused by the Directory, but he himself is removed from the Command, which is conferred on Bournonville. This Circumstance has added much to the Discontent of all Classes in the Army. A Number of the Officers of the highest Rank and Reputation have given in their Resignations, and the Desertion amongst the Soldiery is prodigious. Under these Circumstances, it is rather to be wished than expected that the Enemy may attempt to make another Stand on this Side of the Rhine.

I feel infinite Satisfaction in being able to state to your Lordship, that from the favourable Accounts received of the Situation of Colonel Craufurd, there is every Reason to hope that he will be enabled to resume the Functions of this Mission much sooner than was at first expected.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) ROBERT ANSTRUTHER,
Captain 3d Guards.

*Head Quarters of His Royal Highness
the Archduke Charles, Haen, September 20, 1796.*

MY LORD,

A Report is just received from Lieutenant-General Hotze, in which he states, that in advancing Yesterday Evening towards Hochstebach, he found Means to bring on a serious Affair with the Rear Guard of the Enemy, which terminated entirely in Favor of the Austrians.

Marceau, General of a Division, and distinguished amongst the French for his Activity and Enterprize, is wounded and taken Prisoner. His Two Aides de Camp have shared the same Fate, and his Adjutant-General was left dead on the Field. A considerable Number of inferior Officers and Privates are likewise brought in.

The Enemy continues his Retreat with the utmost Precipitation. It is generally supposed, however, that he will assemble his whole Force in the strong Position of Ukarch, and there make another Stand.

This has induced the Archduke to bring nearer to the Main Body the Corps under General Kray, who, in consequence, encamps To-Day at Hackenburg. His Royal Highness will be this Evening at Walrode, and the Advanced Guard of General Hotze is pushed on to Altenkirchen and Weyerbusch.

A considerable Corps, drawn from the Garrisons of Manheim and Philipshurg, and reinforced by the Detachment of Cavalry under Count Meerfeldt, has advanced into the Margraviat of Baden, and has met with much Success. They have surprized and dispersed the Corps which the Enemy had left in that Country, have made a Number of Prisoners, and taken or destroyed a Quantity of Baggage and Ammunition.

Accounts are received of the Operations of General La Tour down to the 14th Instant, by which it appears that General Moreau quitted his Position on the Left Bank of the Yser on the 10th and 11th Instant. General La Tour followed him closely, and was on the 12th at Pfaffenhoven. As General Moreau seemed to direct his March towards Neuburg, where it was supposed he would repass the Danube, General Nauendorff crossed the River below that Place, in order to watch his Motions; and on the 14th engaged a serious Affair with his Rear Guard, in which the Austrians took One Piece of Cannon, and upwards of a Thousand Prisoners.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

ROBERT ANSTRUTHER,
Captain 3d Guards.

*Head Quarters of His Royal Highness
the Archduke Charles, Weinheim, September 28, 1796.*

MY LORD,

IN my Dispatch of the 20th Instant I had the Honor of mentioning to your Lordship the Idea which prevailed that the Enemy intended making a Stand in the Position of Ukerath. On the 21st, however, positive Information was received, that only a Rear Guard remained on the Sieg, the Main Body having taken the Direction of Dusseldorf, whilst Two Divisions of the Right Wing had actually crossed the Rhine at Bonn.

The Archduke now saw himself at Liberty to undertake the projected Operation towards the Upper Rhine, and he lost not a Moment in making the necessary Arrangements for that Purpose.

Lieutenant-General Wefnech, who commands the Army destined for the Defence of the Lahn, received Orders to advance on the 22d to Ukerath and the Sieg, and at the same Time His Royal Highness began his March towards the Meyn. He crossed that River on the 25th Instant, and, leaving a considerable Reserve cantoned betwixt Mayntz and Franckfort, proceeds to the Upper Rhine.

The latest Reports from Lieutenant-General Petrasch, after mentioning a Number of successful Expeditions, in which the Loss of the Enemy had been very considerable, state the unfortunate Issue of an Attempt made on Kell on the 17th Instant. The Attack took Place in Two Columns, and was at first completely successful. The French were driven from the Town and Fort with great Loss, and forced to take Refuge on the other Side of the Rhine. Unluckily, the Commanding Officer of One of the Austrian Columns was killed, and that of the other taken Prisoner during the Affair, and the Troops, deprived of their Leaders, fell into the greatest Confusion; whilst the French, having received a Reinforcement from Strasbourg, passed the Bridge, which the Austrians had neglected to destroy, and, falling on them before they could be brought into any Degree of Order, drove them in their Turn from the Post which they had so gallantly carried.

Lieutenant-General Petrasch, after an unsuccessful Effort to dislodge the Enemy, retired to his Position at Bischoffsheim; and, leaving a Detachment to observe Kell, and guard the Pass of the Kniebis and the Valley of the Keutzig, he marched with the Rest of his Corps towards Stutgard, where his Van Guard would arrive on the 24th Instant.

By Reports from General La Tour, it appears that Moreau, who, as I had the Honor of mentioning to your Lordship, had retreated from the Yser, behind the Leck, made a forward Movement on the 17th Instant, drove in the Austrian Out-Posts, and extended himself as far as Lansberg on the Leck.

General Frolog, descending the Iller, occupied on the 17th Immentatt and Kempfen, and on the 19th advanced to Isny, where he completely defeated the Enemy, made 500 Prisoners, and dispersed the Rest of the Corps in the Woods; and thus the Right of Moreau was completely uncovered.

General Nauendorff, in the mean Time, had advanced with a considerable Corps to Nordlingen, from whence he took Possession, on the 20th, of Donauwert and the Schellenberg. His Parties extend to Dillingen, Ulm and Gemund, from whence he had put himself in Connection with the Light Troops of General Petrasch at Constadt.

Under these Circumstances, Moreau felt the Necessity of a Retreat. In the Night of the 20th he repassed the Leck at Augsbourg and Rain; on the 22d his Head Quarters were at Weissenhom, and he had occupied Ulm, which was commanded by General Nauendorff. General La Tour had crossed the Leck on the 22d, and his Advanced Guard was at Werthingen.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

ROBERT ANSTRUTHER,
Captain 3d Guards.

Head Quarters of the Archduke Charles of Austria, Schwetzingen, September 30, 1796.

MY LORD,

I Have the Honor to inform your Lordship, that General Moreau, after abandoning his Positions on the Leck, directed his Retreat, with a very considerable Part of the Army, towards Ulm.

Six Commissaries, and all the People belonging to the Bread Department, were taken, on the 22d Instant, upon the Roads leading from Ulm towards Constadt and Stutgard. They had been sent forward to prepare Bread, at the Two latter Places, for Four Divisions of General Moreau's Army; from which Circumstance, as well as from other Intelligence, it was evident, that his Intention was to cross the Danube at Ulm, and retreat by Stutgard and Constadt towards Kehl. But Major-General Nauendorff, advancing from the Neighbourhood of Nordlingen, arrived arrived before Ulm Time enough to frustrate General Moreau's Design, so that when, on the 23d, a strong Column of the Enemy desiled out of the Town, they found the Heights, commanding the Road towards Sturgard, already occupied, and did not attempt to force them. The next Day General Nauendorf made his Advanced Guard, (under Major-General O'Reilly) attack this Corps, and drove it back to the Gates of Ulm.

The Enemy, finding himself thus prevented from executing his intended March to Constadt and Sturgard, abandoned Ulm on the 26th Instant, leaving in it a large Magazine and a considerable Number of his Pontoons, and proceeded along the Left Bank of the Danube as far as Erbach, where he again crossed the River, and directed his Retreat (as it is supposed) towards the Forest Towns.

General Nauendorf marched on the 27th by Blaubeuren towards Tübingen, where he would come into Communication with Major-General Meerfeldt, who was at Hechingen.

Lieutenant-General Petrasch, after being informed of the Enemy's having been frustrated in his Attempt to retreat by Sturgard, directed his March by Horb towards Villingen, a Detachment from his Corps, under Colonel D'Aspre, occupying the Knieby and the Valley of Kinzig, the Rench, and the Murg. A Corps that had been detached by General Moreau to reinforce the Post of Kehl, had attempted to force the Kinzig Valley, but was repulsed, and obliged to retreat by Freyburg.

Generals Petrasch, Meerfeldt, and Nauendorf, in immediate and close Co-operation with each other, will endeavour to fall upon the Left Flank of General Moreau's Retreat, whilst General La Tour pursues him in Front, and General Frolich presses on his Right.

General Neu has lately driven back the Enemy's Posts near Mayence, and taken a considerable Number of Prisoners.

General Bournonville is arrived as Commander in Chief of the French Army of the Sambre and Meuse, in Place of General Jourdan; but he has not yet attempted to advance.

I have the Honor to be, &c.
ROBERT CRAUFURD.

Wilhelmsbad, September 21, 1796.

A Report of General Moreau's directing his Retreat through Franconia, in order to form a Junction with Jourdan by Fulda, proves to have been industriously spread with a Design to create Alarm, but was, nevertheless, founded on the Circumstance of the Enemy's having pushed a Corps of Cavalry as far as Aichtstadt.

The Acts of licentious Barbarity that have lately been committed by the Enemy, even exceed every Thing we have heard of their Cruelty before. Numbers of Villages have been burnt, not in the Way of Punishment, or to retard the Pursuit of the Conqueror, but merely from the Delight they seem to take in Wickedness, as they frequently went out of their Road in order to set Fire to them.

Leipzig, September 23.

The Situation of the Enemy's Army, commanded by General Moreau, is now such as to give no farther Apprehension whatever as to the Security of the whole Circle of Franconia, and also of a great Part of that of Suabia; General Nauendorf having, by his different Movements, obtained in those Parts a decided Superiority of Position over that of the Enemy. General Moreau's Army, in the Environs of Donauwert, Augsburg and Ulm, is in such Confusion and Terror, that they have nothing left but to seek how to effect their Retreat over the Rhine. The Imperial Troops have taken Possession of Sturgard and Conitadt, and extend themselves all along the Upper Rhine to Stallhoffen, and even so far as to Kehl. All Accounts received from those Parts are filled with Particulars relative to the Capture of different French Commissaries, together with their Plunder and Booty in Money and other Objects of Value, by the advanced Austrian Troops. In this they are most eagerly supported by the Peasants of those Countries, who vie one with another in discovering every Thing concealed by the Enemy, and also in leading the Imperial Troops through all difficult Passages; by all which Means a great Number of the French fall daily into the Hands of their Pursuers.
