Madrid, April 6:

Yesterday the King, with the whole Court, removed from hence to Buen-Retiro, where he intends to stay till the beginning of the next month. By Letters from Cadiz of the 24th past, we have advice, That a Fleet of Dutch Merchantmen with 50 or 60 Sail more of other Nations, sailed that day from thence homeward bound. From Alicant of the 27th past they write, that Don Vincenzo Gonzague, late Viceroy of Sicily, was newly arrived there, and was preparing for his Journey to this Court. That Sir John Narborough was before Argiers, and that he had Orders to return for England. All the discourse at Court still is, concerning the Kings Marriage with Mademoiselle d'Orleans; and the Marquis d'Astorgas, who is to be Majordomo Mayor to the future Queen, and other the great Officers of her Majesties Household, are preparing splendid Equipages, in order to their Journey towards the Frontiers, and the reception of their Mitris.

Berlin, April 12. The Troops which our Elector carried with him for Prussia, are not yet all returned; and especially the Horse, who cannot march for want of Forage, and for that reason must stay till there is grass in the field. The Sieur Meinders, our Electors late Envoy in France is arrived here, and has made his report of what passed between him and the French Ministers, which has somewhat lessened the hopes we were in, of seeing the general Peace suddenly concluded; for we understand, that the French will be satisfied with nothing less, than an entire restitution of what has been taken from the Crown of Sueden during this War; which our Elector, it's believed, will hardly be brought to, but will rather resolve to go on with the War. In order to which we are told, that he is going to raise 13 new Regiments, and to reinforce those he has on foot already with 200 men each.

Copenhagen, April 14. The Advices we have from abroad, of the French King's intending to send a Fleet into these Seas, does not only hasten our Equipage, which is in that forwardness, that we shall have 40 good Men of War at Sea very suddenly; but has made our King resolve to have a good Army in Holstein and Futland this Campaigne.

Hamburg, April 14. The King of Denmark is expected as this day at Rensburg in Holstein, and from thence intends to go for Gluckstadt, to give the necessary Orders for the defence and security of those and other places on that side; the Letters from France advising, that that King is fitting out several Men of War, and that a considerable Body of Soldiers is to be embarked on them, which, it's said, are designed for these Parts, to make a descent in Holstein, in order to the restoring the Duke to his Countrey. Count Anthony of Oldenburg has been several days here in Town, as likewise the Marquis de Rabenac the French Minister; it is reported that they have Conferences together, and that Count Anthony is going for France, in quality of Ambassador Extraordinary from the King of Denmark, to treat about the affairs of the North. We are told, that there is an Alliance projected between the King of Denmark, the Electors of Brandenburg and Saxony, and the Landgrave of Hesse Cassell, for the mutual defence and security of their Countries, by which the Elector of Saxony and the Landgrave are to assist the King of Denmark and Elector of Brandenburg with 10000 men. The latter demands One hundred and fifty thousand Rixdollers of this City for Winter-quarters, which our Magistrates refuse to pay.

Francfort, April 9. The Lunenburgh Troops that have had their Winter-quarters in these Parts, are now marching home; Lieutenant General Chavet has already begun his march with the Foot and the Artillery, and the Cavalry are to follow in 10 or 14 days. The Duke of Lorraine continues still at his quarters at Gunsburg, being, as some will pretend to tell us, much dissatisfied with the late proceedings of the Imperial Court; first in agreeing to those Articles of the Treaty which concern him, and next in ratifying them, notwithstanding his representation and request to the Emperor that he would not; for that he had rather never return to his Countrey, than do it upon such hard terms. On Wednesday last arrived here Count Kinsk, one of the Imperial Ambassadors from Nimeguen, on his way to Vienna. Here has been a report, that the Emperor has appointed all his Forces to rendezvous about the middle of the next month at Egra in Bohemia, but know not what ground there is for it, the Letters we receive from Vienna not making any mention thereof.

Brussels, April 14. Yesterday in the afternoon his Excellency arrived here from Ghent, and went directly to make his Visit and Compliments to their Royal Highnesses, being accompanied with his general Officers, and attended with a very numerous Train; most of the Nobility, and other Persons of Quality in Town, were then waiting upon their Royal Highnesses, so that there was a great Court. The French are at this time very busy in repairing the Fortifications of several places in these Provinces, and adding new where they are wanting. We are told that preparations are making at Valenciennes to receive the Most Christian King, who intends, as is said, in his progress, to make some stay in that City. From Nimeguen we have an account, that the Imperial Ratifications were indeed arrived there, but that they were not yet exchanged with those of France; the reason of which is said to be, the Duke of Lorraine's refusing to confirm those Articles of the Treaty which concern him and the Imperial Ambassadors demanding thereupon, that the Most Christian King will free the Emperor and the Empire from the obligation they may lie under by them.

Brus.

Brussels, April 18. On Sunday last Count Wallestein, late Envoy Extraordinary from the Emperor in England, parted from hence for Holland, intending to visit those Provinces in his return to Vienna. The same day in the afternoon their Royal Highnesses parted from hence for the Hague, in his Excellencies Yacht, being accompanied to the Water-side by most of the Nobility, and other Persons of Quality here in Town. The night before his Excellency and his Dutcheſs were to make their Compliments to their Royal Highnesses on the occasion of their Journey, which will be only for 10 or 14 days; against their return hither, the Palace of Bassigny will be prepared to receive them. This day the Marquis de los Balbaces began his Journey for Paris. Don Bernardo de Salinas is appointed to go Envoy Extraordinary to the King of Denmark, he will begin his Journey very suddenly. On Sunday next will be performed the Solemnity of his Excellencies receiving the Order of the Golden Fleece; when that is over, his Excellency will go and visit Charleroy, Aeth, and other places, which have been restored by the Peace.

Hague, April 18. To morrow their Royal Highnesses are expected here from Brussels, to make a Visit to the Princess of Orange, who continues indisposed with her Ague. From Nimeguen they tell us, that the Suedes Ambassadors had demanded four preliminary Points of those of Denmark, which they pretended should be granted before they could enter upon any Treaty with them. The first was, to have a free liberty for their Couriers to pass to and from Sweden. Secondly, That the Prisoners taken on the Isle of Bornholme, should be all restored to their liberty. Thirdly, That the Ministers of the Duke of Holstein should be admitted into the Treaty. And Fourthly, That the King of Denmark should absolutely accept the Conditions proposed by France in the month of April of the last year. The Letters likewise tell us, that the Ratifications of the Treaty between the Emperor and France are not yet exchanged, and that the Imperialists have given in a Memorial to the French Ambassadors, by which they desire that the Emperor and the Empire may be freed from any obligation which the Articles that relate to the Duke of Lorraine may lay upon them, seeing that Duke does absolutely refuse to give his consent to them; to which the French, when our Letters came away, had not yet returned any answer.

Dublin, March 30. Here hath been published a Proclamation for the suppressing the Tories, setting forth, That whereas the number of Tories and Robbers is much increased in the Province of Ulster, and some other Parts of this Kingdom, and many Robberies, Burglaries and Murthers, are by them daily committed, (chiefly occasioned by the compliance of divers of the Inhabitants, and particularly of their Relations, who secretly relieve and conceal them, or by the Popish pretended Parish Priests, who do not discover them, contrary to the Laws;) It hath been thought necessary in so extraordinary a case, wherein the Lives and Fortunes of His Majesties Subjects are so much concerned, to make use of extraordinary means to prevent the farther growth of so great a mischief; Wherefore it is ordered, That the nearest Relations of such Persons as are known Tories, and are out upon their keeping, be forthwith seized, and committed to close Prison, there to remain, till such Tory be killed or taken; And that where there is any pretended Popish Parish Priest of any place where any Tory shall commit any Robbery or Murder, such Popish Priest shall be seized and committed to Prison, to be from thence transported Beyond the Seas, unless the said Tory be within 14 days killed, or brought to Justice.

Swansey, April 7. We had lately a report here, that the Scanderberg of Barrstaple, a Ship of 200 Tuns, 24 Guns, and 30 Men, Robert Fishly Commander, was taken by the Turks, and carried to Argiers; but by a Vessel arrived here yesterday we understand, that the said Vessel had indeed been engaged with an Algerine off the Rock of Lisbon (being bound from Lisbon to the Tercera's) but that the Turks, after a warm dispute, and after having grappled with her, and put a great many Men on board of her, were forced to quit the Combat, and leave 14 of their Men behind them, which were all killed save one, who having sheltered himself in the throwds, obtained quarter, and the said Vessel continued her Voyage.

Pendennis, April 8. The Wind being all the last Week at W. and N. W. very few Ships came into this Harbor; among those that did, were the Posili- lion of London, bound from Amsterdam for the Barbadoes; the Pasience of Bristol, bound home from London; and the Holy Cross, laden with Wine, Vinegar and Cork, from Bourdeaux for Dublin.

I These are to give Notice, That there is Money reserved in Bank, at His Majesties Exchequer to pay off all Orders of Loan Registered upon the 206462 l. 17 s. 3 d.
 (part of the 619388 l. 11 s. 9 d. lately granted to His Majesty by Act of Parliament, for Disbanding the Army, and other Uses) to Number 64. inclusive.

Advertisements.

Mr. John Stayley Goldsmith, late of Covent-Garden, desires all Persons to whom he is Indebted, to meet at the Rose Tavern in Covent-Garden aforesaid, upon Thursday the 24th of this instant April, at Two of the Clock in the Afternoon, in order to an Accommodation and Agreement between him and them.

W Hereas Titus Oates D. D. complained to the Lords in Parliament, that Mr Bassett printed his Narrative of the late Horrid Conspiracy imperfect, and grossly false, without his consent or knowledge. The Lords thereupon by their Order, Die Mercurii, 9 Aprilis 1679. Authorized the said Titus Oates to Print a perfect Copy of his own Narrative of the said Conspiracy, which by an Instrument under his Hand dated the 10th of April 1679. he hath appointed Thomas Parkhurst and Thomas Cockrill to Print, from whom the true and exact Narrative can only be had, and will be published in a weeks time.

Lost out of Whitehall, on Wednesday the 9th instant, a little white and sandy-coloured Dog, his face and feet white, about a span and an half long, and a little sandy-coloured spot on the side of his nose. Whoever gives notice of him to the Porters at Whitehall-gate, shall have a good Reward.

Stolen out of the Parsonage Stable at Whitney in Hertfordshire, the 7th instant, two saddle Nags, one a bay Gelding about 14 hands, a star in the forehead, a white fet-lock on the right leg behind. The other a white pacing Mare about 13 hands, being at that time a little gauged on both sides the breast. If any person can give tydings to Mr. Aston at Furnival's Inn, London, or to Mr. Owen at W. Scott near Stow in Gloucestershire, or to the Rector of Whitney aforesaid, they shall be well rewarded.
