

of Norwich, Dean of Windsor, attended at the Door, and humbly prayed to be admitted to take the Oath of Register of this Most Noble Order; whereupon, being in his Mantle, (over his Episcopal Habit) he was conducted to the Sovereign by Garter and Black Rod, the latter carrying the Insignia of the Register's Office on a Velvet Cushion; and the Bishop kneeling down near the Sovereign, the Oath was administered to him by Garter, which being done, Black Rod kneeling presented to the Sovereign the Golden Chain and Badge, which His Majesty was pleased to put over the Register's Neck, who, having kissed His Majesty's Hand, withdrew to his Place.

The Chancellor then signified to the Chapter the Sovereign's Pleasure for filling up the vacant Stall in St. George's Chapel at Windsor; and as by the Statutes none but a Knight can be elected, Garter and Black Rod were sent to introduce Earl Howe, Admiral of the Fleet, who was knighted by the Sovereign with the Sword of State.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to the Election, and the Suffrages being collected by the Chancellor, and presented to the Sovereign, Richard Earl Howe was, by His Majesty's Command, declared duly elected. His Lordship was thereupon received at the Door of the Chapter-Room by the Two Junior Knights Companions, and conducted between them to the Sovereign, preceded by Garter (bearing the Ensigns of the Order on a Cushion) and Black Rod.

Garter presenting the Garter to the Sovereign, His Majesty delivered it to the Two Senior Knights Companions, who buckled it on his Lordship's Left Leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the Admonition.

Garter then presented the Ribbon with the George to the Sovereign; and, his Lordship kneeling, the Sovereign, with the Assistance of the Two Senior Knights Companions, put it over his Shoulder; the Chancellor, in the mean Time, pronouncing the Admonition; and his Lordship having kissed his Majesty's Hand, and severally saluted the Knights present, withdrew.

Garter then calling over the Knights, a Procession was made back to His Majesty's Apartment, in the Order as before, except that the Register walked in his Place.

St. James's, May 31, 1797.

THE following Address of the Chancellor, Master and Scholars of the University of Cambridge has been presented to the King by the following Deputation: The Vice-Chancellor, Richard Belward, D. D.; Caput, Lowther Yates, D. D. Joseph Jowett, L. L. D. Robert Glynn, C. M. D. Thomas Cooke Burroughes, M. A. Benedict Chapman, M. A.; Proctors, Walter White, M. A. Samuel Blackall, M. A.; George Borlase, B. D. Registrar; John Beverley, M. A. Senior Esquire Bedel. They were accompanied to St. James's by his Grace Duke of Rutland, the Earl of Westmoreland, Earl Spencer, Lord Bolton, Earl of Euston, and the Right Hon. William Pitt, Members for the University, the Bishops of Bangor, Gloucester and Norwich, Lord Sidney, Lord Charles Fitzroy, Right Hon. Sir William Wynne, Knt. the Master of the Rolls, and many others of the Senate of the University. They were introduced to the King by the Right Hon. Charles Greville, Vice-

Chamberlain, and the Deputation had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Chancellor, Masters and Scholars of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal University of Cambridge, humbly beg Leave to approach your Throne, to express our most cordial Congratulations on the Marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal with His Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince of Wirtemberg.

We are anxious to testify our warmest Loyalty and Affection for your Majesty, and the Pleasure we feel upon every Occasion that gives Happiness to your Royal Family; and at the same Time that we come forward on this joyful Event, we beg Leave to express a profound Respect for a Princess so justly rendered dear to all your Majesty's Subjects by those amiable Qualities first implanted in her Royal Breast by the Guardian Care of her illustrious Parents.

We know it is our Duty to instil into the Minds of the Youth committed to our Care the highest Regard for our most holy Religion, a zealous Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and a strict Obedience to the Laws; but more especially in these Times of Disorder and Irreligion are we called upon to guard the Young and Inexperienced from being led away by every vain Doctrine; to animate their Zeal for true Religion, to confirm their Loyalty, and to enforce this important Truth, that in supporting the Constitution, both in Church and State, they will at the same Time secure their dearest Interests and truest Happiness.

Permit us, most gracious Sovereign, to add our fervent Prayers that your Majesty, under whose Protection and by whose Bounty we possess so many Blessings, may with Tranquillity enjoy a long and glorious Reign; and that the Virtues of your Royal Daughter may transmit, even to foreign Climes, the Benefit of your eminent and illustrious Example.

Given at our Senate this 24th Day of May, in the Year of our Lord 1797.

Whitehall, June 3, 1797.

THE following Address having been transmitted to the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the War Department, has been by him presented to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh,

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh, are happy in this Opportunity of expressing to your Majesty our sincere and heartfelt Congratulation on the auspicious Event of the Marriage of the Princess Royal with His Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince of Wirtemberg. We rejoice in every Circumstance that can give Pleasure to the Breast of our worthy and beloved Sovereign, and of our gracious Queen, in whose Bosoms the tender Feelings of domestic Affection, and the most