Lor, rhe Nobillty and Gentry (fotine in thcir Coaches, and fom: on Hotfback) whofe number ttill inEreafed as they advancect towards thie place so that the Horfemen filied alf the fong Sands, and from thehce to the Yinks of Leith, (being three long miles) at the Ealt end of which, the flanding Forces, with the Militia R (giment of this Ciry, were drawn up in excellenc order, by General Dalyel, Licutcuant-Gencral, and Commander in chicf of His Majefties Forces here, as were likewife 26 Companiss of the Trained Bands of this City, ncax the Quarrel-Holew,which latter wert after wards formed inte a Lauel for thrir Royal Higneffes to pofs through, to the Water-Gate. As foon as their Rayat thighneffes came to the middle of the Long Sands, the Lixatenanteceucral came to compliment the Duke, who lighted out of his Coach, and mounted on horictick, $r$ ding along the front of the Forces. As he paffed, the Troops and AftiRery (planted on the right wing) made fev ral dr'chertecs:Then the' Stips in the Harbor of Leilb, and a barceiy of 16 Great $\mathcal{G}$ iuns, upon one of the old Baftionstibere, did the like, which gave the fignal to the $x$ atle here, wimere immediately the Great Royal standard was fet up, and the Great Guns were fire,ts as they continued to be, till their Royal Highrefies arrived tat the Patace, All along the High-way from Leith to this place, were nany thourands of prople, who joyncd with the Forces in ch ir acclamations of bong Life and Profperity to the King; and of tealth and Welcome to the Duke and Duchels; at the Water-Gate their Royal. Highneffes nere tcecived by the Lord Provelt, and the Magiftrates in their Scarlet Robesa, and che Town-Council in their formalities, attended with \# guard of too of ithe principal Burghers, bearing gilded Partifans, who made a lare from thence to the Palace, where in the Guard-ftall the Eiifop znd all thic Clerey of this City, attended to pay their refpects to their Royal Highneffes; all the Ladics of Quality in Towns, being likewife chete to wait upon the Duchefs. There Fobn Drummend of Eumadin, Lieut. Confable of the Lafle, under the Dake of Lauderdale, prefented the Keys of the fraid Cafle to the Duke : The Iord Provoft, the Magifrates, and Town-Council, came like wife to wait upon his Royal Hig' nefs, and the ford Provolt; in the name of the City, in an Excellent Specch, waxpreffed theit' great joy at his Royal Highneffes arri4 wal there, and gave frefh affirances of their confant Loyalty to His Majelty, and of their firm ad* herence and affedion to the Royat Line: as alfo of theic particular refpect and affection to his Royal Highn fo, which they promifed to manifite on all occafidns, and then preiented bim the Keys of the City in sivet, which the Duke having immediare.援 delivered back, as likewie thofe of the caffe to the Lieutenatit-Conftable, tarried them to kifs the Ducheffes hand; at night all the Conduits at the Crofs ran with Wine, the Strects were filled with Bonfires (which were fo great and numerous, that the whole Town feemed one fire) the Bells rung, end at the Prople were zealous to demonftrate the joy they had to feo a Prince fo ncarly selated to His Majelty and the Crown among them. This day the Lords of the Seffion, with the whole Body of the Eolletge of Juftice, intheir formalisios, waited upon his Royal Highnefs; the Lord Prefident making ax sloquent Spocth, to welcome his RoyHing hanet into this wingdom, The Commifioners of the Royal Bourroughs (who make the third Emate of Parliament in this Kingdom) were lik ${ }^{\circ}$ wile to compliment bis Royal Higlonefs, and the Lord Provoft of this City (tho coiffant Prcident of Elyeir Conventiouj made a very hearty and loyal Speceh, in behalf of all the Royal Burroughs, particutarly expreffing their great fatisfaction in the happinefs they had of leeing his Royal Higlinefs there; and declaring tiejir Fidelity and Affecion to His Majelty, and the Interelis of the Ciown. Then the LieutenantGGentrals with all the 'Officers of the flanding Forces were in like manner to pay their refpects to his Reyal Highn fs, who having returned their feveral Compliments, with many kind Exprefions, and cxhorted them above ail things, to perfevere in their Lyty and Loyalty to the king, prefuced them fo the Dutchefs, who reseived them very kindly, and declated h:r felfex.treamly fatisfied with the re'pects that had bien fhewed to the Duke and her felf.

Dublin, Nov. 26. By Letters from Waterford of the 22 inflant we are advertied that one Mr. Brown high Conltable of that City, hath bese killd upon a quarrel arrifing between him and a Soldier of the Scotch Regiment, who was flanding Sentinel, . And the Officer who Tends up the account thereof to the Lord Lieutenant, fets forth fome provoca ion that was given by the faid brotern. But oth r relations making the Sentinel gailty of a plain Muřther, and that feveral high Infolencies have been committed by the Soldiers in that place; Thie Lord Lieutenant hath dif(patched away Orders, that all the soldiers that can be found to have been any abetting or countenancing the Murther, be, fecurcd as well as the Seutincl, who is already in hold. And his Grace hath allo written to ibe Mayor of that City to ufe all duy care for preferving the peace, and to fend up lpeedily, unto him;'the full flate of that Cafc and all othe! Complaints dependings that he may caure Jufice to be impartially exceuted wherever the blame fhall bs fuuld.
-whitteal, Nov 26. His Majefly has been ciracio oully pleafed to create Edpard Lord. Vifcount Conway, Earl of Compay, whisethal, Dec. 2. His Majefty has been pleaiet to Grant to the Right Honorable the Earl of Cbefferfeld, the Offices of Warden and Chicf Juftice in Eyre, of all His Majefties Forreits, Parks, $\xi c$. on - this fide Tremt.
whitebal, Dec. 3. His Majefty has thotght fitby His Royal Yroclamation, bearing date this dayeto Command all tapifts, or repured Papifis forthwich to depart from the Citys of London and Weflmingfer, and from within ten miles of the famc,

Adyertifements.

© The Hiftory of Appian of Alesiandria, in two parcs. The Grtt confiting of the $P_{\text {prateks }} s$ strim, Parthian, Mubridatich, Dilytian, Span for apd Hamenibaytiok Wars. Thy fecond containong Give Buoks of the Civil Wars of ROME, in Folio Never before Printed. Made Englifh by F. D. Sold by Fobn Amery, at che Peacock Egainft gr Denfon's Church,' in Fier-flert. .et Greditors, and to che end a \{perdy diffitiotion be made of his Eftate, certain Articles were, by advice of Scurncil, and confent of feverat of his faid Creditors, agreed oft, and are fcule dtand execured. This is therefore to give noctie toant fuch of tris Credieors: who have nor'fetn or expecuted the foid Axticles, that the fame are lefy at ste thaft Taveen wiohour Temple-Burr, for any Creditors, ac ans.time withia foar morchs, to fee and executcif they piftif.

