Whitehall, June 12, 1798.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are Copies, have been this Day received from His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland by his Grace the Duke of Portland, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Dublin Castle, June 9, 1798.

My Lord,

IT is with the utmost Concern I acquaint your Grace an Insurrection has broken out in the County of Antrim; and in order to give your Grace the fullest Information in my Power, I inclose to you an Extract of a Letter received this Morning by Lord Castlereagh from Major-General Nugent. I am in great Hope, from the Numbers and Spirit of the Loyal in that Part of the Country, the Insurgents may be quickly checked.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

CAMDEN.

His Grace the Duke of Portland.

My Lord,

Belfast, June 8, 1798.

IHAVE the Honor to report to your Lordship, that in consequence of Information, which I received early Yesterday Morning, of an intended Insurrection in the County of Antrim, having for its first Object the Seizure of the Magistrates, who were to assemble that Day in the Town of Antrim, I apprehended several Persons in Belfast. I did not receive the Intelligence early enough to prevent the Insurgents from taking Possession of Antrim, and I am not therefore acquainted with their first Proceedings there, but I prevented many Magistrates from leaving Belfast; and many others, being Officers of Yeomanry, on permanent Duty, did not attend the Meeting. I ordered the 6th Regiment, and Light Battalion, and 100 of the 22<sup>d</sup> Light Dragoons, under Colonel Clavering, and Lieutenant-Colonel Lumley, with Two 5½ Inch Howitzers, and Two Curricie Six Pounders, to proceed with the utmost Dispatch through Lisburn to Antrim. I also ordered from the Garrison 250 of the Monaghan Militia, with Lieutenant-Colonel Ker, and 50 of the 22<sup>d</sup> Dragoons, together with the Belfast Yeomanry Cavalry, with Major Smith, to proceed under the Command of Colonel Durham, with Two Curricie Six Pounders, through Carmony, and Templepatrick to Antrim, to co-operate with the other Detachment. The Dragoons under Lieutenant-Colonel Lumley having made the Attack upon the Town, without waiting for the Light Battalion, were fired upon from the Windows of the Houses, and were consequently obliged to retreat, with the Loss of, I am sorry to add, Three Officers of that excellent Regiment, killed and wounded, and the Two Curricie Six Pounders. Colonel Clavering, on his Arrival near Antrim, finding the Rebels pouring into that Town in great Force, very judiciously took Post on a Hill on the Lisburn Side, and reported his Situation to M. General Goldie. In the mean Time Colonel Durham, with his whole Detachment proceeded to within Half a Mile of Antrim, and after a cannonade of Half an Hour, drove the Insurgents completely out of the Town, and retook the Two Curricie Guns, together with 1 Brafs Six Pounder, very badly mounted, of which it seems the Rebels had Two, supposed to have been smuggled out of Belfast. The Colonel then proceeded without the Loss of a Man, though the Town (which, for obvious Reasons, suffered much) to Shane's Castle and Ranelstown, in which Direction the principal Part of the Rebels fled. He remains there still for Orders from me. Lord O'Neil, I am sorry to say, is dangerously wounded. Lieutenant-Colonel Leslie, of the Tay Fencibles, reports to me, from Carrickfergus, that Lieutenant Small, with a Detachment of Twenty Men of that Corps, in the Barrack at Larne, defended themselves most gallantly against the Attack of a numerous Body, and maintained their Post with the Loss of Two killed and Three wounded, including the Lieutenant. I have ordered them into Head Quarters at Carrickfergus. The Glenarm Yeomanry (Sixty strong) being also threatened by an Attack, in the Course of the Day took Possession of Glenarm Castle, where they will maintain themselves, if possible. Brigadier-General Knox, having heard of a Party of the Toome Yeomanry being made Prisoners by the Insurgents, sent to me very early this Morning to offer to march, by Toome Bridge, into the County of Antrim; which I have desired him to do, in order to liberate Colonel Durham's Detachment, and enable them to cross the Country on their Return to Belfast.

Although the Insurrection has been pretty general in the County, I do not find they had much Success; but I have not received as yet any Reports from Ballycastle, Ballymena, Ballymoney, Portglenore, and other Places in the Northern Parts, in which Yeomanry are stationed. As my Information led to a general Rising in the County of Down, I have been obliged to call in all the small Detachments of the York Fencibles to Newtown Ardes. Colonel Stapleton has every Thing in Readiness to move at a Moment's Warning. The Yeomanry are all on permanent Duty throughout the Counties of Down and Antrim; and I have distributed Arms to 140 loyal Men in Belfast, who will be attached to the Monaghan and Fifeshire Regiments, and thereby become very useful. Offers of Service are very numerous.

I cannot close this Letter without expressing to your Lordship my entire Approbation of the Conduct of the Troops of all Descriptions in this Part of the Northern District. Their Zeal and Attention to their Duties cannot be surpassed, and I trust that, when Occasion offers, they will act in that Concert which is so much to be wished for in Military Service. Lieutenant-Colonel Lumley, I am afraid, is badly wounded in the Leg; Cornet Dunu is killed; and Lieutenant Murphy slightly wounded; all of the 22d Dragoons. I understand, but not officially, that some Yeomanry from Lord Hertford's Estate (I believe the Derrriaghy) were with the Dragoons when they made the unsuccessful Attack on Antrim, and they retired to Antrim Castle, where they were relieved by Colonel Durham. Colonel Durham deserves my warmest Praise for his judicious and spirited Conduct. He speaks in high Terms of the Detachment under him, and particularly the Monaghan Militia. The Rev. Steele Dickson was taken up the Night before last, and sent Prisoner here, where he will be confined in a Place of Safety, as well as many others, whom it is now necessary to apprehend. Your Lordship may depend upon my individual Exertions in this unpleasant Contest; and as I am ably supported, I make no Doubt that we shall prevent the Rebels from gaining any Advantages, and ultimately oblige them to return to their Allegiance. I shall write again To-morrow should any Material Event occur.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

G. NUGENT, Major-General.

Lord Viscount Castlereagh,
&c. &c. &c.

Dublin Castle, June 9, 1798.

M7 Lord,

I Have the Honor to inclose herewith to your Grace further Particulars respecting the Action at New Ross, which have been received in a Letter from Major-General Johnson to Lieutenant-General Lake, of which I transmit your Grace an Extract, with Two Returns annexed.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

CAMDEN.

His Grace the Duke of Portland,
&c. &c. &c.

Extract of a Letter from Major-General Johnson to Lieutenant-General Lake, dated at Ross, June 7, 1798.

I SEND you a Return of the Killed, Wounded and Missing of the Troops engaged on the 5th Instant. Their Numbers you will, I trust, find not great, when you take into Consideration the Numbers they were opposed to.

I likewise send a Return of the Ordnance, Ammunition and Standards, taken from the Rebels. The Number Killed cannot be ascertained. In my former Letter I was prevented by a Prefecture of Business doing Justice to the Merits of several Officers to whom I am highly indebted for their extraordinary Exertions.

General Eustace, Colonel Crawford, A. Q. M. G. Lieutenant-Colonels Stewart, 89th Regiment, commanding Light Infantry; Maxwell, Donegal Militia; Majors, Vandeleur, Clare Militia; Vesey, County of Dublin Militia; Mellifont, my Aid de Camp, and Major of Brigade Sandford, are entitled to my fullest Praise. I should not omit Lieutenant Eustace, the General's Aide de Camp, who is a very promising young Man. To Lieutenant-Colonel James Foulis, commanding the Mid Lothian Cavalry, and Captain Irvine, commanding the Detachment of the 5th and 9th Dragoons, I am no less indebted. I cannot say too much in Favor of Captain Bloomfield, B. H. Artillery, and Captain Inornhill, commanding the Royal Irish Flying Artillery, whose very great Exertions contributed very essentially to our Success. We had a great Loss in Colonel Lord Mountjoy. Captain Tottenham, Yeoman Cavalry, and Captain Boyd, with the Debus of his Corps, have rendered me every possible Assistance. In making Mention of those Particulars, I would not wish you to suppose I do not feel myself much indebted to every Individual, a very few excepted.
