THE Names of those who were nominated for Sheriffs by the Council of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, at His Royal Highness's Council Chamber and Duchy Office, Somerset-Place, on Monday the Twelfth Day of November, in the Thirty-ninth Year of the Reign of His Majesty King George the Third, and in the Year of our Lord, 1798:

Copy of a Letter from Captain Columbine, to Evan Nepean, Esq; dated Hastings, November 13, 1798.

I AM to acquaint you, that this Morning a French Privateer having appeared off this Place, and Mr. Wenham having offered himself and Cutter, the Lion, to go after her, I put on board her as many of the Sea Fencibles as I thought necessary, chased, and after a little Firing, in which One Frenchman was killed, we took and brought her into this Road. She is the Succes of Cherbourg, Nicholas Dubois, Master, with Four Guns and Twenty-four Men: Had been out Four Days without making any Capture. I beg Leave to add, that the Hastings Men came forward on the Occasion with the greatest Zeal and Readiness.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

E. H. COLUMBINE.

St. James's, November 14, 1798.

THE following Addresses have been presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Commonalty of the City of Norwich, in Common-Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of the City of Norwich, most respectfully approach the Throne with our warmest Congratulations on a most glorious and important Victory obtained over a superior French Fleet by your Majesty's Forces under the Command of Admiral Lord Nelson of the Nile, and of Burnham Thorpe, in Norfolk; a Victory perhaps unparalleled in the History of the World; a Victory obtained after an Action planned with consummate Wisdom, executed with extraordinary Skill and Intrepidity, and which may be expected to produce the most important Consequences, not only to these Kingdoms, but to the general Interests of Europe. To this splendid Atchievement, in conjunction with other signal Successes of your Majesty's Navy, and aided by the loyal and gallant Spirit displayed by your People, we ascribe the Enjoyment of our internal Security and the Preservation of our inestimable Constitution: And we join in Thanksgiving to Almighty God, who, we trust, has thereby defeated the hostile and ruinous Designs of the Enemy against your Majesty's Territories both at Home and Abroad,

Sealed with the Common Seal of the said City, the 24th Day of October, 1798.

[Presented by the Right Honorable William Wyndham, one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said City.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and Common-Councilmen of Liverpool, in Common-Council assembled, beg Leave to present our most ardent Congratulations on the stupendous Victory with which Almighty God has blessed your Majesty's Squadron under the Command of Admiral Lord Nelson; The Advantages resulting from it we pretend not to calculate, but to some of them we cannot be insensible. Animated by so signal a Triumph, Foreign Nations will promote the Designs and court the Alliance of an Empire, the Nurse of such illustrious Heroes; Commerce, sheltering herself under the Wing of the British Navy, will enlarge her Boundaries; existing Sources of Wealth will be extended, and new ones explored: But, whilst we exult in the Heroism of the Exploit, and rejoice in the Benefits which it will confer upon your Majesty's favored Realms, and upon the World, our Gratitude rises still higher, when we reflect that the disciplined Valour of your Majesty's gallant Seamen has been the chosen Instrument of Providence for checking the proud Career of an Enemy, who aimed at universal Despotism; fortified by the same Almighty Protection, we doubt not that the Energy of your Majesty's Arms will at last extort from conscious Imbecility, what imaginary Power has hitherto withheld, the Prosperity and the Glory of a Peace which will provide for the Security of our united Interests, and the Vindication of the National Honor.

Given under our Common Seal at Liverpool, the 7th Day of November, 1798.

[Presented by ——— Hargrave, Esq; Recorder.]
