Published by Authority.

From Monday July 5. to Thursday July 8. 1680.

Madrid, June 26.

IN our last we gave you an Account, that the Prince of Parma was made choice of to Command the Men of War this Crown designs to put to Sea; but at present is said at Court, that he is named to succeed the Duke de Villa Hermosa, in the Government of the Spanish Netherlands. The Duke de Montalto is returning thither, to exercise his Command of General of the Horse.

Warsaw, June 28. While the Ministers here spend their time in Conferences, and in Treating of a League, between this Crown and Moscovy, and that without any prospect of concluding it, the Turks, according to the advices we receive from all hands, are advancing towards our Frontiers, having assigned their Rendezvous near Caminiec. We are expecting an account from Prince Radzeville, our Ambassador at Rome, of the progress he has had in his Negotiation there, which will have a great influence upon the Resolutions of this Court.

Genoa, June 29. Yesterday returned from the Riviera, the True-Love, laden with Oyls; while she was lading at Oneglia, five French Men of War, and two Fireships appeared, which the Master and his Company supposing to be Algerines, left their Ship, and went ashore, but discovering their mistake, returned again: The said French men of War put into Vada, Thirty miles to the Westward, and two days since they sailed again from thence to the Eastward, and are still in sight; it's believed they expect the Twelve Gallies designed for these Coasts. Two days since parted from hence, a Dutch man of War, with Seven Merchant Ships under his Convoy, bound home. It's said, the French Gallies are at Villa Franca.

Strasburg, July 2. Count Mansel, the Emperors Envoy to the French King, continues still at Augsburg, from whence he sent some days since a Gentleman to the Baron de Monclar, Lieutenant-General for the French King in Alsace, to know of him, whether he might proceed on his journey, after having been so long delayed in it. The French Troops continue very much to vex the Inhabitants of the Palatinate, and have possessed themselves of another small place.

Francfort, July 4. The Complaints which have been so often repeated to the Dyet at Ratisbonne, by the Elector Palatine, concerning the proceedings of the French, have not hitherto had any effect, nor indeed can it be otherwise expected in the present posture of things, when the French have an Army in the Field; and that on the other side, the several Princes of the Empire, even those most concerned, are unarmed; at least, have not a body of Men together to oppose their Designs. The discourse of the Emperors holding a meeting with the Electors, and other Princes of the Empire; in order to the taking such Resolutions, as the present Conjunction may stand in need of, is revived again; though probably with as little ground for it, as it was first raised upon.

Marseilles, July 2. We have a List of the Ships of War, belonging to Argiers, which was made the 29th of May 1680. as follows.

	Guns;	Paterieres.

.....	30	36
Two Gallies

The Captains are not constantly in a Ship, and therefore are omitted; as also the number of Men, which differs every voyage, more or less, as they can be got.

Brißels, July 9. We expect our next Letters from Spain will bring us the Declaration of a new Governor of these Provinces, the Duke of Fuliers having, its said, declined the Overture that was made to him. Great preparations are making at Cambray and Valenciennes, for the reception of the French Court, which will part from St. Germain the 13th or 14 Instant. Our Letters from Liege confirm what we told you in our last, of the French having laid two Bridges over the Meuse at Dinant; It's probable we may tell you in our next, that their Troops have passed that River; which, those parts, and especially the Countrey of Fuliers, are not a little disturbed at.

Hague, July 9. The Spanish Envoye has presented a Memorial to the States-General, wherein, he thanks them, in the name of the King his Master, for the part they take in his Interests, and prays them to continue their good Offices, to prevent the inconveniences which may arise, in case the most Christian King continues to insist upon the Declaration made by his Commissioners at Courtray, concerning concerning the Title of Duke of Burgundy, in which he has the more reason to persuade himself that they will be successful, seeing that he cannot but believe, that the most Christian King has been ill informed of the Right he has been told to have, to this new pretension, make founded upon the Treaty of Nimeguen, and the Cession thereby stipulated of the Franche-Comte; for, that that County never has had any thing of common with the Dutchy of Burgundy, and the King of Spain's Powers for the Treaty of Nimeguen, the Ratification of the Peace, and those for his Marriage, bore the Title of Duke of Burgundy, notwithstanding; the French made an exception to it; and that the States may be better informed in this matter; the said Envoye adds to the said Memorial, the Articles of several Treaties between the two Crowns, from the time of the Emperor Charles the V. that concerns the said Dutchy of Burgundy.

Paris, July 13. This day the King parted from St. Germain's with the Queen, the Dauphiness, and the other Ladies of the Court, for Flanders. Its said the Ladies will go no farther than Cambray. There seems to be but little appearance as yet, of accommodating the differences with the Court of Rome; and we are told, that the King has ordered, that all Couriers that come from thence, shall be stoppt at Lions. It is said, that the King has prolonged the term, which was sett the Spaniards, to declare themselves in, concerning the Title of Duke of Burgundy, for a month or six weeks.

Kinsale, June 22. The Garland Frigate, and the Ruby are now in this Harbor, being to take on board some Companies of the Earl of Dumbartons Regiment, and to carry them to Tangier; the rest of the Frigates appointed for that service, are hourly expected. This morning sailed the Constant Warwick to cruise.

Edenburg, June 30. About three weeks since Mr. Donald Cargile, a Preacher in the Field Conventicles, and Mr. Hall (who were both actually in the late Rebellion) being taken at Queensferry, there was found in their Portmantles, among other Treasonable and Seditious Papers, the draught of a new Covenant, by which they swear, To advance the Kingdom of Christ, and the true Reformed Religion; to extirpate Kingly Government and Prelacy, &c. which being brought before the Council, while their Lordships were searching into this Matter, a yet more execrable Paper was sent to them by General Dalke, being a Declaration, which was the 22 of this month Published and Affixed, after a solemn Procession, and Singing of Psalms, by 21 persons on the Cross at Sanchar, wherein they Declare, That for themselves, and all that will adhere to them, as the Representatives of the True Presbyterian Church, and Covenanted Nation of Scotland, They do disown Charles Stewart, who has been Reigning, or rather Tyrannizing, on the Throne of Brittain these years past, as having any Right or Title to, or Interest in the Crown of Scotland, or Government, as forfeited several years since, by His Perjury, and breach of Covenant with God and his Church, and Usurpation of His Crown, and Royal Prerogatives therein, &c. The General has likewise informed the Council, that he has discovered, that there is a Party of these Rebels, to the number of about 70 in Arms, and that he has sent out several Parties in search of them, in order to the Apprehending and bringing them to condign punishment.

Plymouth, July 4. On Friday last arrived in this Port, the Charles Galley, and the Swan Frigate from the Streights; on board the First, Was the Earl of Chiquin, late Governor of Tangier. This morning arrived another of the Kings Ships, being Convoy to several Merchant Ships, bound home from Smirna, and other places, which are pass by to the Eastward.

Deal, July 4. Yesterday came into the Downs, the London, the Bangale, and the Ann from the East Indies.

Deal, July 6. Yesterday in the afternoon, came into the Downs, Three Merchant Ships; and last night, and this morning, 18 sail more; bound home from Turkey, and other parts.
