Tbat Camion's Head and Hands were cut off, as woas the Head of cne Fowller, wobo Commanded the Rebels Foot, wobich are now brought in kitber; and that in Cam ons Pockets, woere found a great many Papers (wobichare fince given in to the Privy Council) and that of the Kings $F$ orces, two woere killed, four mortally wounded, and Jeven or eight more burt; amongft the Prifoners there is one David Haxton, of Rathillet, wobo was one of the Murtherers of the late Lord Arcb-Biflop of St. Andrews, and is this day brought bitber in this masmer; At the Water-Gate be woas received by the Commos Hangman to bis Livery, and was (uscercered) fent upon a lean bare bsorfe; with bis Face towards the Horfestail, bis Feez tyed under the Horfes Belly, and bis Hands tued bihind bis Back. Thus mounted, the Hangmuns (wiibhis Capon, and caryitig Camron's Head on the top of a Hiaibard led bim ( robilft tbe otber three Prijoners were carried ta e leaded, and tied to a Bize of Jron) to the Council Cbamber, webere the Lurds of His Majefties Prizy Courcil, baving examined bim uponfeveral particulars relating to the korrid Murtber of the faid late Arcb-Bifbop; be faid, Tbat be was not obliged to Anjwer: nor to be tis own Accufer. Being Jñterrogated, if be owned the Kings Authority, bis Anfroer was, That rebere iutbority difowns the Intereft of God and States at Jeif, in oppofition to Fefus Cbrift, it is no more to be corned, and be feared that tbe Authority of the King roas fuch. Being asked, If be thougbt the Murther of the late Arch-Bijhop of St. Andrews a Murther, be Declared, Tbat be tbougbt it tow no Murther. Being Interrogated, If be oioned the New Covenant, taken at Queensferry, from Cargili, one of their Field-Preacbers; be Declared, that be Owned it, adding, That be would fain krowp wobat any Perfon bad to Jay againft it. Being asked, if be were at.Liberty, and bud Lower to kill any of the Kings Council, wotber be zoould murther them, as bee bad murtbered the late Arch Bihhop of St. Andrews : bejaid, be was not clear $t o$ give any Anfuper to that. Being told by the Lord Cbancellor, Tbat if be would not be more ingenuous ind bis Anfwers, concerning that Murtber, be fbould injtantly be put to the Torture; be anfwered, that that were but an Addition to their former Cruelties, againgt the $P_{\text {eo- }}$ ple of God. And being yet furtber urged by the Lord Gbarcellor, soith feveral gueftions, be rojufed to Anjwer.

But fortly after be Said, That if be m'ght kave Liberty to freak, be would give an fenfaer, which being very freely alicwed unto lim, ke made a gortspeech, rubereins be jaid, That he ftood there as a Prifoner for Jefus Chrift, and for adhering to his Catse ant Intereft, which had been Sealed by the Blcod of many Perfons, that had fuffered lately in this Land; and that he owned all the Teftimuries given by them. Being asked ty fome of the Councils, What be could Anvoper to the Article of the Confeffion of that Faith, which be pretended to orotr, bearirg, that Inf.delity, and difference in Religion, do not make vid the Magiffrates Right; He anjwered, that that Article of the Corfefion of Faith, woas cleared by tbe Solemn League and Ccvenant, wobich obliged only to maintainthe King in maintainance of Relegion. All this bing read unto him, openly in face of the Council, he owred the fame in every particular, but refufed to Signit; whereupon the Lord Chancellor, by Order of the Council, Signed it for him ; who thereafter was fent to clofe Prifon till Monday next, at which time he is to be further examined by their Lord!hips.
