Admiralty-Office, August 18, 1801.

Copy of a Letter from Lord Viscount Nelson, K. B. Vice-Admiral of the Red, &c. to Ewan Nepean, Esq. dated on board the Mesdusa, off Boulogne, August 16, 1801.

S I R,

HAVING judged it proper to attempt bringing off the Enemy's Flotilla, moored in the Front of Boulogne, I directed the Attack to be made by four Divisions of Boats for boarding, under the Command of Captains Somerville, Cotgrave, Jones, and Parker; and a Division of Howitzer Boats under Captain Conn. The Boats put off from the Medusa at Half past Eleven o'Clock last Night in the best possible Order, and before One o'Clock this Morning the firing began, and I had, from the Judgment of the Officers, and the Zeal and Gallantry of every Man, the most perfect Confidence of complete Success, but the Darkness of the Night, with the Tide and Half Tide, separated the Divisions, and from all not arriving at the same happy Moment with Captain Parker, is to be attributed the Failure of Success; but I beg to be perfectly understood that not the smallest Blame attaches itself to any Person; for although the Divisions did not arrive together, yet each (except the Fourth Division, which could not be got up before Day) made a successful Attack on that Part of the Enemy they fell in with, and actually took possession of many Brigs and Flats, and cut their Cables, but many of them being aground, and the Moment of the Battle's ceasing on board them, the Vessels were filled with Volleys upon Volleys of Musketry, the Enemy being perfectly regardless of their own Men, who must have suffered equally with us, it was therefore impossible to remain on board even to burn them; but allow me to say, who have seen much Service this War, that more determined persevering Courage I never witnessed, and that nothing but the Impossibility of being successful, from the Causes I have mentioned, could have prevented me from having to congratulate their Lordships; but although in Value the Loss of such gallant and good Men is incalculable, yet, in Point of Numbers, it has fallen short of my Expectations. I must also beg leave to state, that greater Zeal and ardent Desire to distinguish themselves by an Attack on the Enemy was never shewn than by all the Captains, Officers, and Crews of all the different Descriptions of Vessels under my Command.

The Commanders of the Hunter and Greyhound Revenue Cutters went in their Boats in the most handsome and gallant Manner to the Attack, amongst the many brave Men wounded, I have with the deepest Regret to place the Name of my gallant good Friend and able Assistant Captain Edward T. Parker; also my Flag Lieutenant Frederick Langford, who has served with me many Years; they were both wounded in attempting to board the French Commodore. To Captain Gore of the Medusa I feel the highest Obligations; and when their Lordships look at the Loss of the Medusa on this Occasion, they will agree with me, that the Honor of my Flag, and the Cause of their King and Country, could never have been placed in more gallant Hands. Captain Bedford of the Leyden, with Captain Gore, very handsomely volunteered their Services to serve under a Master and Commander; but I did not think it fair to the latter, and I only mention it to mark the Zeal of those Officers. From the Nature of the Attack only a few Prisoners were made; a Lieutenant, Eight Seamen, and Eight Soldiers, are all they brought off. Herewith I send the Reports of the several Commanders of Divisions, and a Return of killed and wounded.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

NELSON and BRONTE.

P. S. Captain Somerville was the senior Master and Commander employed.

*Eugenie, off Boulogne,
August 16, 1801.*

MY LORD,

IN Obedience to your Lordship's Direction to state the Proceedings of the First Division of Boats which you did me the Honor to place under my Command, for the Purpose of attacking the Enemy's Flotilla in the Bay of Boulogne, I beg Leave to acquaint you, that after leaving the Medusa last Night, I found myself, on getting on Shore, carried considerably, by the Rapidity of the Tide, to the Eastward of the above-mentioned Place; and finding that I was not likely to reach it in the Order prescribed, I gave Directions for the Boats to cast each other off. By so doing, I was enabled to get to the Enemy's Flotilla a little before the Dawn of Day, and in the best Order possible attacked, close to the Pier Head, a Brig, which, after a sharp Contest, I carried. Previous to so doing, her Cables were cut; but I was prevented from towing her out by her being secured with a Chain, and in consequence of a very heavy Fire of Musketry and Grape Shot that was directed at us from the Shore, Three Luggers, and another Brig within Half Pistol Shot; and not seeing the least Prospect of being able to get her off, I was obligated to abandon her, and push out of the Bay, as it was then completely Day-light.

The undaunted and resolute Behaviour of the Officers, Seamen, and Marines was unparalleled; and I have to lament the Loss of several of those brave Men, a List of whom I enclose you herewith.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

P. SOMERVILLE.

Lord Viscount Nelson, K. B. Vice-Admiral of the Blue, &c. &c. &c.

*Medusa, off Boulogne,
August 16, 1801.*

MY LORD,

AFTER the complete Arrangement which was made, the perfect good Understanding and Regularity with which the Boats you did me the Honor to put under my Command left the Medusa, I have an anxious Feeling to explain to your Lordship the Failure of our Enterprize, that, on its outset, promised every Success.

Agreeable to your Lordship's Instructions, I proceeded with the Second Division of the Boats under my Direction, (the Half of which were under the Direction of Lieutenant Williams, Senior of the Medusa,) to attack the Part of the Enemy's Flotilla, appointed for me, and at Half past Twelve had the good Fortune to find myself close to them, when I ordered Lieutenant Williams, with his Subdivision, to push on to attack the Vessels to the Northward of me, while I, with the others, ran alongside a large Brig off the Mole Head, wearing the Commodore's Pendant. It is at this Moment I feel myself at a Loss for Words to do Justice to the Officers and Crew of the Medusa who were in the Boat with me, and to Lieutenant Langford, the Officers and Crew of the same Ship, who nobly seconded us in the Barge, until all her Crew were killed or wounded; and to the Honorable Mr. Cathcart who commanded the Medusa's Cutter, and sustained the Attack with the greatest Intrepidity, until the desperate Situation I was left in obliged me to call him to the Assistance of the Sufferers in my Boat.

The Boats were no sooner alongside than we attempted to board; but a very strong Netting, traced up to her Lower Yards, baffled all our Endeavours, and an instantaneous Discharge of her Guns and small Arms, from about Two Hundred Soldiers on her Gunwale, knocked myself, Mr. Kirby, the Master of the Medusa, and Mr. Gore, a Midshipman, with Two-Thirds of the Crew, upon our Backs into the Boat, all either killed or wounded desperately, the Barge and Cutter being on the Outside, sheered off with the Tide, but the Flat Boat in which I was hung alongside, and as there was not an Officer or Man left to govern her, must have fallen into the Hands of the Enemy, had not Mr. Cathcart taken her in Tow, and carried her off.

Mr. Williams led his Subdivision up to the Enemy with the most intrepid Gallantry, took One Lugger, and attacked a Brig, while his Crews, I am concerned to say, suffered equally with ourselves, nearly the Whole of his Boat's Crew were killed or wounded; Lieutenant Pelley, who commanded the Medusa's Launch, and the Honorable Mr. Maitland, Midshipman, were severely wounded; and Mr. William Brillow, Master's Mate, in the Medusa's Cutter, under Lieutenant Stewart, was killed.

I now feel it my Duty to assure your Lordship, that nothing could surpass the Zeal, Courage, and Readiness of every Description of Officer and Man under my Command; and I am sorry that my Words fall short of their Merits, though we could not accomplish the Object we were ordered to.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) EDWARD T. PARKER.
*Lord Viscount Nelson, Vice-Admiral of the Blue,
Commander in Chief, &c. &c. &c.*

MY LORD, Ganet, August 16, 1801.
ON the Night of the 15th Instant, the Third Division of Boats which I had the Honor to command, assembled on board His Majesty's Ship York, agreeable to your Lordship's Directions, and at Eleven P. M. by Signal from the Medusa, proceeded, without Loss of Time, to attack the Enemy's Flotilla, off Boulogne, as directed by your Lordship; and as I thought it most advisable to endeavour to reduce the largest Vessel first, I lost no Time in making the Attack; but in consequence of my leading the Division, and the Enemy opening a heavy Fire from several Batteries, thought it advisable to give the Enemy as little Time as possible, cut the Tow-Rope, and did not wait for the other Boats, so that it was some little Time before the heavy Boats could get up; received so many Shots through the Boat's Bottom, that I soon found her in a sinking State, and as it was not possible to stop so many Shot Holes, was obliged with the Men, to take to another Boat, and have the Pleasure to acquaint your Lordship, that I received particular Support from the Boats of His Majesty's Ship York, which soon came up with the rest of the Division I had the Honor to command; but finding no Prospect of Success, and the Number of Men killed and wounded in the different Boats, and the constant Fire from the Shore of Grape and small Arms, thought it for the Good of His Majesty's Service to withdraw the Boats between Two and Three in the Morning, as we could not board her, although every Effort was made.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) ISAAC COTGRAVE.
*The Right Hon. Lord Viscount Nelson, K. B.,
Commander in Chief, &c. &c. &c.*

*His Majesty's Ship Isis, Sunday
Aug. 16, 1801.*

MY LORD,

IN consequence of Directions received from your Lordship, I last Night, on the Signal being made on board the Medusa, left this Ship with the Boats of the Fourth Division, formed with two close Lines, and immediately joined the other Divisions under the Stern of the Medusa, and from thence proceeded to put your Lordship's Order into Execution, attacking the Westernmost Part of the Enemy's Flotilla: but notwithstanding every Exertion made, owing to the Rapidity of the Tide we could not, until near Day-light, get to the Westward of any Part of the Enemy's Line; on approaching the Eastern part of which, in order to assist the First Division then engaged, we met them returning. Under these Circumstances, and the Day breaking apace, I judged it prudent to direct the Officers commanding the different Boats to return to their respective Ships.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

ROB. JONES.

P. S. None killed or wounded on board any of the Fourth Division.

*Right Honorable Lord Viscount Nelson, K. B.
Commander in Chief, &c. &c. &c.*

*Discovery, off Boulogne, 16th
August 1801.*

MY LORD,

I Beg Leave to make my Report to your Lordship of the Four Howitzer Boats that I had the Honor to command, in the Attack of the Enemy last Night.

Having led in to support Captain Parker's Division, keeping between his Lines until the Enemy opened their Fire on him, we keeping on towards the Pier until I was aground in the headmost Boat, then opened our Fire, and threw about Eight Shells into it; but, from the Strength of the Tide coming out of the Harbour, was not able to keep our Station off the Pier Head, but continued our Fire on the Camp, until the Enemy's Fire had totally slackened, and Captain Parker's Division had passed without me. I beg Leave to mention to your Lordship, that I was ably supported by the other Boats. Captain Broome and Lieutenant Beam, of the Royal Artillery, did every Thing in their Power to annoy the Enemy. The other Officers of Artillery were detached in the other Four Howitzer Boats.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

JOHN CONN.
