

limited by their printed Proposals, to "Foreign States in Amity with His Majesty," will in future remain in Force in all Parts of Europe (with the usual Exception as to the Demise of any Injured Person on the High Seas); and that all Policies of this Office now extant, shall have the Benefit of this Extension, as fully as if the same were declared thereon by Endorsement. And as the Benefits of Life-Insurance would be rendered more certain, and prove more satisfactory to all Persons interested therein, were such Policies to cover the Risk of the Seas, the Directors will be ready to extend the Conditions of any Policy of their Office already issued, or to be hereafter granted so as to include the Risk of dying on the High Seas, at such Additional Rates, as according to the Circumstance of Distance, Season, and Climate of the Voyage proposed, shall be found suitable.

Naval and Military Officers, as well as Persons in Civil Capacities at remote Stations, or on long Voyages, have frequently Occasion to make Insurances on their Lives, and have found the Rates and Conditions of this Office reasonable and acceptable.

By Order of the Board,
Peter Bowers, Secretary.
