Whitehall, January 16, 1802.

Whereas it has been represented to His Majesty, that, on the 11th Day of December last, between Five and Six o'Clock in the Evening, Mr. George John Hiseock, Deputy Searcher, and Mr. William Peddell, Coastwailer, in the Service of the Customs at the Port of Portsmouth, were out upon Duty on South-Sea Common, they fell in with a large Gang of Smugglers, from some of whom they seized Nine Casks of Foreign Spirits; that about Half an Hour afterwards, as the said Officers were removing the said Casks of Spirits, and conveying them to some House in the Neighbourhood to be there deposited for Security, Seven of the said Smugglers came up to them, and in a resolute Manner demanded Restitution of the said Goods, which the Officers positively refused, and being armed each with a Pistol and Sword, they warned them the said Smugglers of the great Danger of the serious Consequences if they attempted to take the same forcibly away; but, disregarding this Caution, the said Smugglers, in a very desperate Manner, attacked the said Officers with large Pieces of Wood and Stones: Upon this the said Officers, having told the Smugglers that they were Officers of the Customs, fired their Pistols at them, and drew their Swords in order to defend themselves, but the said Seven Smugglers instantly closed upon the said Officers and overpowered them, wrenched their Pistols out of their Hands, and, after beating and dangerously wounding them in a dreadful Manner, leaving them nearly dead, rescued and carried off the said Casks of Spirits which they the said Officers had seized;

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in this Felony and Outrage, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one or more of the said Offenders who shall discover, his or their Accomplices, so that any one or more of them may be apprehended.

P. L. H. A. M. E.

Custom-House, London, January 14, 1802.

And, as a further Encouragement, the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs do hereby offer a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS to any Person or Persons who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, any one or more of the said Offenders, to be paid by the Receiver-General of His Majesty's Customs, upon Conviction.

By Order of the Commissioners,

James Hume, Secretary.
