

rears of Subsidies due to his Master. From Spain we have an Account, that the King had finally Resolved to furnish his Commissioners at Courtray with a new Power, in which the Title of Burgundy should be left out.

Brussels, Sept. 13. Since our last, an Extraordinary Courier arrived here from Madrid, who brought a new Power for the Commissioners at Courtray, and Bills of Exchange for a considerable sum of Money, to be paid to the Duke of Villa Hermosa. Yesterday we had a violent Storm, with Thunder and Lightning, and we have an Account, that the Passage-Boat that went from Antwerp to Villabrook was cast away, and that of above 80 Passengers, there was not one saved. The Marquis de Bourgonanero, Ambassador from the King of Spain to the Emperor, has all his Dispatches, and will begin his Journey in a day or two; but Don Bernardo de Salinas, who goes to Denmark, is not yet ready. To-morrow or next day at farthest, the Spanish Commissioners at Courtray will exhibit their new Powers. The troubles at Liege increase daily; the People continue in Arms, have committed many Insolencies, pulled down the Custom-House, Assaulted, and wounded the Officers, and will neither obey the Edicts of their Prince the Bishop of Liege, nor of the Emperor.

Bruges, Sept. 14. The States of Flanders have at length consented to raise 14000 Rations a day, for the ensuing year, which is 8000 less than what they gave the last. The three Regiments of Horse that were at the Rendezvous at Demise, are returned to their Quarters. The Forces that are in this Province, have been very punctually paid by the States, according to the settlement made since the Peace, till within these two Months, which makes the Soldiers not to complain, but puts them upon committing several disorders, its probable they would not otherwise be guilty of. The Ships that are to carry his Excellencies Baggage for Spain, are ready at Ostend.

Paris, Sept. 14. The Duchess of Orleans has by an Express received Advice, of the death of her Father the Elector Palatine. The Prince of Conde continues ill of an Ague. Preparations are making, to entertain the Court with a great Ball on St. Huberts day.

Deal, Sept. 10. The Ships that are arrived from the West-Indies are the George, the Golden Fleece, and the Success from that Coast, and the Cesar from Bantam. We do not yet hear of the Hunter Frigate, who came from Famaica, in company of those Ships that are arrived from thence.

Oxford, Sept. 10. The 8th Instant in the Evening, his Highness the Electoral Prince Palatine, came hither in one of his Majesties Coaches from London, accompanied by Sir Charles Cotterel, Master of the Ceremonies. His Highness being come near the Town, Mr. Howard, Son to the Earl of Carlisle, accompanied with several Gentlemen on Horseback, met his Highness, and made him a Compliment in the name of the Vice-Chancellor, and the Heads of Houses, who met his Highness at St. Maries; the Prince coming out of his Coach, to Receive and Return their Compliments at Christs-Church the Bishop of Oxford received him, and conducted him to his Apartment. The next morning his Highness went to see the Colledges, (where he had several Speeches made to him, and at some of them, was at the publick Prayers) the Library, and the Physick Garden, and in the afternoon there was a Convocation at the Theater, where his Highness was pleased to take his Degree of Doctor of Physick; several Gentlemen of his Retinue, having likewise Degrees given them. This day his Highness parted again from hence extremely satisfied with the Respects shown him by the University and my Lord Bishop who Entertained his Highness and all his Attendants very Magnificently during their whole stay here.

London, Sept. 11. This day Mrs. Celier was Tried at the Old Baily, for publishing a most scandalous Libel (being the Narrative lately Printed by her) and was Convicted, and Remanded to Newgate, in order to her receiving the Judgment of the Court on Monday next.

Whitehal, Sept. 11. The Right Honourable the Earl of Feversham is Declared Lord Chamberlain to the Queen, in the place of the Earl of Offory deceased; and the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Lunley, Master of the Horse to her Majesty, in the room of the Earl of Feversham.

His Majesty has been Graciously pleased to Create the Right Honourable the Lady D'Aeres, Mother to the present Earl of Suffex. Countess of Shippey.

Whitehal, Sept. 12. Last night the Prince Elector Palatine returned hither from Oxford, having at Hampton Court, where he Dined, received the News of his Fathers Death, by his Secretary; of which, his Electoral Highness after his arrival here, gave the King and Duke an Account by Sir Charles Cotterel, and thereupon His Majesty sent the Earl of Oxford, and his Royal Highness, Mr. Churchill, to make his Electoral Highness their Compliments of Condolance; and this afternoon the King and Duke were to visit his Electoral Highness at his Lodgings in the Cock-pit; and the Queen sent her Lord Chamberlain, and the Dutchess, the Master of her Horse to Compliment him.

The Officers of the Receipt of His Majesties Exchequer, have Money in Bank to pay to Number 25, inclusive, of the Orders Registered on the Second Act for Disbanding the Army.
