An Act to suppress certain Games and Lotteries not authorised by Law.

After which His Majesty was pleased to make the following Most Gracious Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE public Business being concluded, I think it proper to close this Session of Parliament.

During a long and laborious Attendance, you have invariably manifested the just Sense you entertain of the great Trust committed to your Charge. The Objects of your Deliberations have been unusually numerous and important, and I derive the utmost Satisfaction from the Conviction that the Wisdom of your Proceedings will be fully proved by their Effects in promoting the best Interests of My People throughout every Part of My Dominions.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

The ample Provision you have made for the various Branches of the public Service demands My warmest Acknowledgments; and My particular Thanks are due for the Liberality which you have shewn in exonerating My Civil Government and Household from the Debts with which they were unavoidably burthened.

Whilst I regret the Amount of the Supplies which Circumstances have rendered necessary, it is a Relief to Me to contemplate the State of Our Manufactures, Commerce, and Revenue, which afford the most decisive and gratifying Proofs of the Abundance of Our internal Resources, and of the growing Prosperity of the Country.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

As I think it expedient that the Election of a new Parliament should take place without Delay, it is My Intention forthwith to give Directions for dissolving the present, and for calling a new Parliament.

In communicating to you this Intention, I cannot suppress those Sentiments of entire Approbation with which I reflect upon every Part of your Conduct since I first met you in this Place. The unexampled Difficulties of Our Situation required the utmost Efforts of that Wisdom and Fortitude which you so eminently displayed in contending with them, and by which they have been so happily surmounted. From your judicious and salutary Measures during the last Year, My People derived all the Relief which could be afforded under One of the severest Dispensations of Providence; and it was by the Spirit and Determination which uniformly animated your Councils, aided by the unprecedented Exertions of My Fleets and Armies, and the zealous and cordial Co-operation of My People, that I was enabled to prosecute with Success, and terminate with Honour, the long and arduous Contest in which We have been engaged.

The same Sense of public Duty, the same Solicitude for the Welfare of your Country, will now, induce you in your individual Characters, to encourage, by all the Means in your Power, the Cultivation and Improvement of the Advantages of Peace.

My Endeavours will never be wanting to preserve the Blessings by which We are so eminently distinguished, and to prove that the Prosperity and Happiness of all Classes of My faithful Subjects are the Objects which are always the nearest to My Heart.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majesty's Command, said,

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is His Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Tuesday the Seventeenth Day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the Seventeenth Day of August next.

This Dispatch states, "That he, (the Count,) after endeavouring to refute the various Objections that had been urged by the Baron de Stedingk against the Tenor of the Convention of the 17th June 1801, and to demonstrate to him that that Treaty presented to the Northern Powers all the Advantages that it had been found possible to obtain, had proceeded to observe, that the antecedent Convention between Russia and Sweden having been in some Sort broken by that which had since been concluded between Russia and England, and to which Denmark had also acceded, it would certainly be advisable for Sweden to accede likewise to that Treaty, in order that she might not remain in a Manner insulated, and that some common Pact might still continue to exist between the Powers of the North."

[Presented by Sir Henry Fletcher, Bart.]

Whitehall, June 26, 1802.

Whereas it has been represented to the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs, that, on Sunday the 6th Day of June instant, as William Woodard and Five other Boatmen, in the Service of the Customs, belonging to the Six-Oared Boat under the Command of Mr. Simon Baspall, Sitter, were out upon Duty on the Cliff at Southwold, about Three o'Clock in the Morning, they discovered a Lug-Sail Vessel and a Lug-Still Boat (marked on the Stern Fly of Rye) within her, sailing to the Northward, close to the Shore, and pursuing the same along the Shore as far as Easton Cliff, they were there met by Nine stout Sailors, one of whom appeared to be the Master, all armed with Muskets and Cutlasses; that the Officers saw them load their Muskets as they approached, and, upon their coming up, they told the said Officers that they had Goods and did not mean to lose them, and desired the said Officers to turn back as far as the Hedge, otherwise they would fire upon them; that the said Officers were thereupon obliged to retreat, and, after being detained and guarded by the said Sailors for a considerable Time, they were then compelled to go to a Public House at South Cove, where they were likewise confined and guarded by the said armed Sailors until Seven o'Clock in the Evening, during which Time the Whole of the Goods were, as it is supposed, carted off from the Shore and carried up the Country;

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in this Felony, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any One of the said Offenders who shall discover any One or more of his Accomplices, so that any One or more of the said Offenders may be apprehended for the said Offence.

PELHAM.

And, as a further Encouragement, the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs do hereby promise a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS to any Person or Persons who shall discover and apprehend, or cause and procure to be discovered and apprehended, any One or more of the said Offenders, to be paid by the Receiver-General of His Majesty's Customs.

By Order of the Commissioners, J. Hume.

Whitehall, June 26, 1802.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, that in the Month of May last, several anonymous Letters, written by some Person or Persons unknown, have been sent by the Post directed to John

Scaif the Elder, of Stone Gravels, in the Parish of Chesterfield, in the County of Derby, threatening the Disturbance of the Peace of himself and of his Family, and the Destruction of his Property; and that, on or about the 22d Day of May last, an Hay-Stack belonging to the said John Scaif, standing near his House at Stone Gravels aforesaid, was set on Fire, and the greatest Part thereof consumed before it could be extinguished, and that there is Reason to believe the same was maliciously done by some Person or Persons unknown; and that, since the said Hay-Stack was so set on Fire as aforesaid, another anonymous Letter was sent on or about the 27th Day of May last, directed to the said John Scaif, with the Chesterfield Post-Mark stamped thereon, of which the following is a Copy:

"Once more I make bold to write to you on the occasion which hope you found no deceit from my last—wicht in a shorte time will be compleatly finished but now it is your old Friend Alafon's turn to suffer a littel, as well has you all and then you're's agen—no dout but you think your loss very grate, but nothing in proportion from what you will sufer—no dout but it was very much alarming to all Spectators but the next will be more dreadful and astonishing to your beholders—for my part i dont much admire doing such bullness as that where no profit attends it—I think I shall take another Plan upon Alafons as i understand he his not wanting of Money but if you will fulfill my desire I will rest where i am tho' I must have one turn upon Alafon—After your property destroying will be your persons depend upon it"

I am yours"

"your Friend that destroys your property will think no more of takeing your life"

His Majesty, for the better apprehending the Person or Persons concerned in setting the said Hay-Stack on Fire, is pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any One of them, (except the Person who actually set the same on Fire,) who shall discover his or their Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted.
