St. James's, July 21, 1802.

THE following Address having been presented to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Ayr.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, convened for the Purpose by special Advertisement, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with our Congratulations on having attained the Blessings of Peace. We acknowledge your Majesty's paternal Goodness and Wisdom, in having put a Period to a long and eventful War; a War however, which, while it lasted, carried the Naval and Military Glory of this Country to a Pitch almost unrivalled, and that in Climates hitherto unknown to the Range of British Arms. We hope that the Attainment of these Blessings will not lull us into a treacherous Security, but what we have obtained by our Moderation, by our Vigilance we shall preserve. That the Blessings we have been enabled to attain, Providence will render permanent. That we shall now cultivate the Arts of Peace with as much Assiduity as we shewed Fortitude in sustaining the Toils of War. That Harmony and Union may prevail in your Kingdom, and Prosperity within your Palace. And we pray that Providence may long preserve a Life endeared to the Nation by every Virtue, that it may sweeten it with every Comfort, and that neither foreign Wars, nor political Commotions, nor domestic Tumults may disturb the Remainder of your Reign.

Signed by our Præses, in our Name, and by our Appointment, at Ayr, the 6th July 1802.

William Cunningham, P.
