From Titutgay September 30. to Ginday October 4. 1680.

Genoua, Sept. 23.

YEfterday returned hicher five of out Galleys from Meffina and Palermo. In a day or two will fail from hence two ftout Merchant Ships, belonging to this place for Cadiz. There are not any Englifh Ships now in Port.

Leghorne, Sept. 24. The Leopard, Sir Fobn Berry Commander (on Board of whom is the Duke of Grafton) and the Forefight, Captain Killegrew, are arrived here with five Merchant Slips under their Convoy from Smirna. Three thouland Soldiers are to be raifed in Milan, and as many more in Naples, for the fervice of the Spanilh Netberlards. From Mantoua we hear that that Duke is taken ill again, 2nd that Negotiations are on Foot at that Court concerning his Succeffion. Froth Rome they write, That the Polifh Ambaffador was parted from thence on his return home.

Strasburg, seps. 30. Sitice the publication of the Decree of the Sovereign Chamber at Brifac, by which all Perfons holding Lands in Alface are required to acknowledge the French King for their Sovereign, and accordingly to fwear Fealty to him, a day has been fixed for their doing it, which puts the Gentlemen concerned into great perplexity, not knowing how to behave themfelves in fo nice and important a matter, Berlin. Sept. 29. From Sweden we have an acccount of great Levies that are making in that Kingdom, That great care is taken to bring the Army into the beit Order and Difeıpline, and that the King had appointed Count Oxenftern to go his Ambalfador to the Emperor. From Holland we receive advice that the Frigats fitted out by our Elector have taken a Spanifh Ship in the Road of Oftend. Monfieur d'Alefeldt, Envoy fiom the King of Denmark, having made an Overture to our Elector of an Alliance between the King his Malter and his Electorak Highnefs, the fame has been declined here.

Berlin, Oitob. 2. Our Elector has now again reSolved to go to Maegdeburg, and as we are informed has writ to the l'rince of Orange, to acquaint his Highnefs, That he intends to be at Maegdeburg on the 15th of this Month: That he fhall be extream glad to meet him there, and if he cannot ftay abroad fo long, the Elector defires he will give himfelf the trouble to come hither. The igth palt the EleCtoral Princels was brought to Bed of a Daughter to the great fatisfaction of this Court: The Bells were thrice rung throughout the Town, and all the Cannon on the Walls were as oft difcharged. The Plague encreales very much at Lubeck, and there are great apprehentions of it's fpreading farther At Drefden it is as violentas ever.

Francfort, Oitw. The laft account wh had from the Imperial Court was, That according to ail dip pearance their Imperial Majefties would co tinue at Lintz till towards Spring, for that Vierna was not yet fo healthy, as it was wifhed to be, dhat there was a Difcourle as if the Duke of Lorrain would be made Viceroy of Fungary, with full power to cempofe the aftairs of that Country, and to ga ant the Malecontents fuch Terms as le ihould think necefs fary for the attaining that end ; And that the Earl of Middleton, the King of England's Minifter at that Court, advanced fuccesfully in his Nigotiation.

Cologne, OEtob. 4. Prince Wolfang of Neuburg is at prefent in this City, has been to vifit our Elecior; and has been complimented on his part, and vificed by the Bifhop of Strasburg, his Brother Prince wil liam, and other perfons of Quâlity here : It is reported that the faid Prince will be made Bilhop and Prince of Gurck, in the room of the Baron de Goes; who is fo at prefent, and who will in that cafe be removed to the Bimoprick of $\neq$ ienna. This Prince of Newoburg is defigned to fucceed our Elector, and to that end it has been long endeavoured to make him at prefent his Coadjutor, in which the Bilkopi of Strasburg is his Competitor.

Bruffels, OlTob. 4. Since our laft here have happened new difturbances, occafiched by the Nations their infilting to have the brafs Plates (mentioned in one of our former) which contain their antient Priviledges, and were taken down from the City Gatess, and from the Stadthoufe during the Government of the Marquis Caflle Rodrigo, reftored to them, which the Magiftrates pretend were broken, or at leaft that they cannot be found, but ofice to give them authentick Copies out of the publick Regifter, to be fet up in the fame manner that the former were, but the Na tions not being contented therewith, fome of the ordinary fort of People got laft night together, and fell apon the Houfes of two of the chief Magiftrates, broke the Windows, and intended to have Pillaged them, but thofe within making a Defence, and difcharging feveral Muskets, two or three of thefe Rioters were killed and fome others wounded, and thercupon the reft feparated. This morning nine perfons, $D$-puted by the Nations, attended the Duke de Villa Hermofa, made their excufe for what had happened, and declared that what they did was only to preferve their Priviledges, and not out of any difaffection to his Excellency or the Government, and that to manifelt the fame, they had tenewed the impofition of half a farthing on every Pot of Beer. His' Excellency told them, that he was as zealous as they themfelves could be, not only to preférve their jult Priviledges, but even to augment then, and that they ought to be carcful how they gave ocedafion to the Multitude to difturb the publick Peace by their Tumults, which were not only dangerous to the Gow vernment, but even to themfelves, for that their Houfes as well as Perfons were expored to the violence of a fort of people who had no regard to Laws or Priviledges: That as for the Copp-r Plates they defired, he would not only order a frict fearch to be made for them, in which fome of themf.lves might affift, and if found to be reftored to them, but that the perfons that hat conccaled them fhould be cxemplaity punifh ${ }^{-}$d; and becaulc this fearch would require fome time, his Excellency totrt them, that he required the N stions in the mean time to feparate, and to return hone. The Deputies defired his Excellency would pleafe to fond this anfwer to their Body by the Duke d'Arfchot, a perfon viryacceptable to them, which his Excellency accordingly did, and the Nations thereupon broke up their AFfembly, and went quietly bome, This morning the Prince of ofnabrug, who came hither two days ance from ${ }^{1}$ aris; parted fiom hence ag. in on fis wiy bome, ravig with hima very hantis ine Train.

On Wecinefday lafl tle Nations allcmbled again, and co trinued f , ge:h r till this Eve ing, wh a they feparatel, upon the affira.ic s the Duke de Vila Lermofa gave them, not ouly to preferve ther 1 raviedges, but to $\mathrm{g}^{\prime} \mathrm{t}$ them confrimed and augmented by the king: In the mean tive the Raoble got together wi.h d.figz to Plunder the Houics of the Magiftrates, but in the Attempt fome being killed and wounded, the reft difpared, threatning to return with therit Aress in their hands, but hitherto they bate been prevented by the C uards that are kept, feveral Conpanies of the Trained Bands being now in Arms to fecure the prblick Peace. We are ftill impatiently expecting the Prince of $P a y m z$, who we pear brings with him 2000 Spanifh Soldiers, and a confiderable sum of Moncy, b.fides which we are informed the Bankers of Antwerp have promifed, upon the Orders they have from their Corrciphindents at Madrid, to pay the Prince of Paym.z, upon his arrival here 200000 Crowns, and an hundred thouland Crowns more monthly for the fpace of ten Months.
