To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the Town and County of the Town of Poole, beg Leave to approach the Throne, with all thoſe Sentiments of ardent Zeal and pureſt Loyalty which have ever characteriſed this great and generous Nation, and to expreſs our warmeſt Teſtimony of Gratitude for your Majeſty's gracious and paternal Solicitude for the Safety, Honor, and Welfare of your People in protecting them from the Deſigns of an ambitious and implacable Foe.

We feel in common with all your Majeſty's faithful Subjects, a juſt and impreſſive Senſe of the Danger to which our Lives, our Laws, and our Liberties would be expoſed if a daring and inveterate Enemy ſhould be able to ſubdue the united Efforts of a brave and generous People.

We contemplate with the utmoſt Abhorrence, the violent Outrage and atrocious Acts which have been recently committed by divers Perſons engaged in a treaſonable and daring Inſurrection againſt your Majeſty's Government in one Part of your Majeſty's Dominions, and ſincerely pray that the Perpetrators of ſuch enormous Offences, and all thoſe who ſtimulated or incited them to ſuch rebellious Inſurrections and treaſonable Practices, may be ſpeedily brought to condign Puniſhment.

Firmly united, as we are, with one Mind in every Sentiment of Loyalty and Affection to the beſt of Kings, we conſider it as our bounden Duty to obey, with the utmoſt Alacrity and Zeal, the Call of our Country for the Efforts of our Patriotiſm, and the Exertion of our utmoſt Energy in the preſent Moment of impending Danger.

Impreſſed with theſe fervent but ſteady Sentiments our Fortunes and our Lives will always be cheerfully devoted to the Defence of your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon, and in the Support of that happy Conſtitution which has for Ages remained the Glory of Britons, and the Admiration of the civilized World.

[Preſented by the Right Honorable Lord Pelham.]

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergymen, Yeomanry, and other Inhabitants of the County of Dorſet.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergymen, Yeomanry, and other Inhabitants of the ſaid County, do beg leave moſt humbly to addreſs your Majeſty, impelled by the warmeſt Attachment to your Majeſty's Royal Perſon and Family impreſſed with the fulleſt Gratitude for the many Bleſſings we have enjoyed under your Majeſty's Reign, and highly ſenſible of the Happineſs we derive from the Excellence of our Conſtitution, we feel we ſhould be wanting in every Duty to your Majeſty, and to our Country, if we did not at this Time declare ourſelves ready to come forward with an Offer of our Lives and Fortunes in Defence of our Liberty, and to take every Meaſure neceſſary to place our Country in the beſt poſſible State either for defenſive or offenſive Operations. If our Affections to your Majeſty's Royal Perſon and Government did not urge us to theſe Proceedings at this awful Criſis, our Horror and Indignation at the barbarous Proceedings of our Enemy would alone invite us to theſe Exertions: the recent Tranſactions of that tyrannical Republic are freſh Proofs of its Cruelty, Rapine, and Outrage: its Ferocity increaſes in Proportion to its Power, and Capitulations, however inſtant, and Submiſſions, however humble, ſerve only to enſure a more horrible and ſavage Treatment to the conquered. Incenſed, therefore, by the barbarous Conduct and continued Inſolence, but not intimidated by the Threats of our Enemy, your Majeſty may depend upon every Meaſure, which your Wiſdom ſhall ſuggeſt, being cordially and perſonally ſupported by your loyal and faithful Subjects of the County of Dorſet.

At the Requeſt, and in the Name of the County, Joſiah Wedgwood, Sheriff.

[Preſented by J. Wedgwood, Eſq; Sheriff, and accompanied by William Morton Pitt, and F. J. Browne, Eſqrs. Repreſentatives in Parliament for the ſaid County; N. Bond, Eſq; and Honorable Cropley Aſhley.]

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

SIRE!

WE, your Majeſty's faithful Subjects, the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the Town of Nottingham, in Common-Hall aſſembled, at the preſent awful Criſis, beg Leave once more to aſſure your Majeſty of our unſhaken Attachment to your Majeſty and to the Conſtitution of Government happily eſtabliſhed in theſe Realms.

We ſolemnly pledge ourſelves to your Majeſty and our Country to defend, by every Means in our Power, in conformity with the Laws of the Land, and in chearful Co-operation with our Fellow-Subjects, our revered Conſtitution, the juſt Rights of your Majeſty's Crown, and the Lives, Liberties, and Properties of the Inhabitants of theſe Iſlands, againſt the deſperate Attack of that daring and malignant Foe, who now threatens to invade us.

We commit your Majeſty and the Security, Safety, and Happineſs of theſe Kingdoms, with the utmoſt Confidence, to the Guardianſhip of a brave, a united, and a free People, imploring the Supreme Diſpoſer of Human Events to aid your Majeſty's Councils, and the Efforts of our Countrymen, through the Hour of Danger and Difficulty; ſo that all hoſtile Attempts may end in the entire Confuſion and Defeat of the inſulting Invaders of our Native Land.

Given under our Common Seal, at the Guildhall in the Town of Nottingham, the Twenty-ſeventh Day of July, in the Year of our Lord One thouſand eight hundred and three.

[Tranſmitted by the Duke of Portland, and preſented by the Right Honorable Lord Pelham.]

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

WE, your Majeſty's moſt loyal and faithful Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgeſſes and other Inhabitants of the Town of Carnarvon, being truly ſenſible of the Bleſſings we enjoy under your happy Government, humbly approach your Majeſty's Throne to teſtify our deepeſt Concern at the preſent
