

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday August 23, to Saturday August 27, 1803.

St. James's, August 24, 1803.

THE following Addresses having been presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Montgomery, feel ourselves not less called upon by Duty than by Attachment to express to your Majesty the Abhorrence and Indignation with which we view the Designs avowed against this Country by our ambitious and insatiable Enemy.

Of the Dangers of the present Moment we are fully aware; but we are likewise aware of the Means of Resistance which the Blessing of Divine Providence has placed within our Power: We confide in the Wisdom and Magnanimity of your Majesty that these will be to the utmost employed; and that we shall not desist from this great Contest until it is brought to a successful and glorious Issue.

Permit us further to assure your Majesty, that there is no Sacrifice which we will not submit to, no Burthen which we will not bear, no Danger which we will not encounter with Cheerfulness, in Defence of the Religion, Laws, and Liberties of this Kingdom, and of your Majesty's Person and Government.

By Desire of a Meeting of the County of Montgomery,
Da. Mytton, Chairman.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary
Torke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of the Peace, Heiiters, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Selkirk.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of Peace, Heiiters, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Selkirk, humbly request that your Majesty will, at this important Crisis, be pleased to accept of the unanimous Expression of our Loyalty and Zeal for your Service.

As we ascribe, under God, the Blessings and Security which we enjoy to your Majesty's paternal Government, so, with God's Assistance, we are ready to devote our Lives and our Fortunes to its Support. We make this Pledge with the greater Confidence, because we know that we express not only our own Feelings but those of a respectable and high-spirited Yeomanry, of a hardy and virtuous Peasantry, and, as we hope and believe, of every Individual within the County of Selkirk, who is capable of distinguishing betwixt Good and Evil.

Should the inveterate and determined Foe of the British Name attempt to carry into Execution the Threats of Invasion, which his Presumption has dictated, we trust the Inhabitants of this County have neither so far degenerated from the Valour of their Ancestors as to hesitate in choosing betwixt Death and Thralldom, nor so far forgotten their Father's Religion, as to doubt that the Blessing of God will be with the righteous Cause of our King and our native Land.

Signed in Presence of the Meeting, at Selkirk, this Sixteenth Day of August One thousand eight hundred and three. Napier, Preses.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary
Torke.]

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Warwick, beg Leave to approach your Majesty's Throne with the renewed Assurance of our unfeigned Regard and Fidelity to your Person, and firm Attachment to the Laws and Religion of that happy and established Constitution, by which true Liberty, personal Property, and every Blessing consistent with the Order and Well-being of civil Society, is so amply secured to us. We pledge ourselves to every Exertion, and even the Sacrifice of our Lives and Fortunes, for defeating the avowed Intentions of an implacable Enemy, who, actuated by Envy and boundless Ambition, now threatens not only the Invasion of our Coast, but to subvert our Constitution, and fix the Gallic Yoke on Britain's Neck.

Long may your Majesty, confident in the Hearts of your faithful Subjects, defy the Advance of such