St. James's, September 7, 1803.

THE following Addresses having been presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freemen, and Freeholders of the County of the City of Waterford, in that Part of the United Kingdom called Ireland, duly convened by the Sheriffs of said City, seize this awful Period, when your Majesty's Dominions are threatened to be invaded by a fierce and haughty Foe, to express our unfeigned and inviolable Attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, and to that Constitution under which we have the Happiness to live, and for the Support and Protection of which we are ready to die.

Sensible of the many Blessings we have long enjoyed under your Majesty's mild and paternal Reign, we feel it our bounden Duty to offer our personal Service and Property to defend and maintain that Constitution we have so just Reason to boast, and on which our Rights and Liberties so essentially depend.

Reigning, as you do, in the Hearts of your true and faithful Subjects, may your Majesty's Arms be crowned with Victory; and may the Enemy by Experience find that no Force or Numbers can conquer or dismay a free and loyal People.

John Burchall and James Hackett, Sheriffs.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and whole Inhabitants of the County and Town of Nairn, most sincerely and unalterably impressed with Sentiments of Veneration for the be. of Kings, and Attachment to the British Constitution; anxious that, at a Crisis momentous as the present, these our Sentiments should keep Pace with, and be corroborated by, our Exertions, are, on that Account, thus late in approaching your Throne. We have the proud Satisfaction of communicating to your Majesty, that every Man demanded by your Government for the different Levies have cheerfully joined their Corps, and that the Remainder of this County are either in Arms as regular Volunteers, or zealously ready to take them up in Defence of our beloved Monarch, our Religion, Laws, Liberty, and every Thing dear to us on Earth.

We pray for the Protection of the Almighty God to your Majesty and the British Empire.

Signed at the Desire of the Meeting, in their Name, at Nairn, the First of September One thousand eight hundred and three.

James Brodie, Lieutenant Nairnshire.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Grand Jury of the County of Tyrone, assembled at Summer Assizes One thousand eight hundred and three, think ourselves called upon at this alarming Period to express our sincere, firm, and unalterable Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family, and Government.

Attached as we are to our most excellent and unparalleled Constitution, we view with no less Wonder than Indignation the tumultuous and savage Insurrection which so lately disgraced the Capital of this Kingdom, for the Purpose of its Subversion, an Insurrection excited and fomented by an Enemy the most desperate and determined that ever yet appeared for the Destruction of the Liberties and Happiness of Mankind.

We have now before our Eyes the abject and disgraceful Slavery to which the insidious Arts, as much as the Arms of the French Republic, have reduced many of the Nations of Europe; and we stand determined, if needful, at the Expence of our Lives and Fortunes, to maintain our most glorious Constitution, and such as we have received it; to preserve and transmit the same to our Posterity under the Government, we trust for ever, of your Majesty's illustrious House.

John Stewart, Foreman.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

The humble Address of the Governor, High-Sheriff, and Grand Jury of the County of Waterford, assembled at Summer Assizes One thousand eight hundred and three.

May it please your Majesty,

WHEN we contemplate the great and solid Advantages that every Part of the United Kingdom has obtained during your Majesty's auspicious Reign, and when we look to the Situation in which the other Kingdoms of Europe are now placed in, we think it necessary to come forward on the present Occasion, and publicly avow our Determination to exert all our Strength, and to call forth all the Energies of this County, in order to support the just and necessary War in which your Majesty is now engaged for the Defence of your Dominions, for the Preservation of our Rights and Liberties, and for the Maintenance of social Order, against the Usurpation of a Tyrant, whose avowed Object is the Destruction of our happy Constitution.

We are fully convinced that though the Danger with which your Majesty's United Kingdom is threatened may be thought great, yet that its Resources are superior to it; and notwithstanding the Attempts which have lately been made to disturb the Peace and Tranquillity of this Country, and which produced the Death of one of the ablest and best of Men, yet when we consider that, in Times as critical as the present, the loyal Men of this Kingdom stood forward in its Defence, we feel a conscious Pride in thus publicly avowing that we are not dismayed in consequence of the late hostile Attempts, but that, on the contrary, as it has increased our Vigilance, so it has considerably added to our Security.

Waterford, Governor.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Cavan, feel it our sacred Duty at this awful and important Crisis, to approach your Majesty's Throne, and renew the solemn Pledge of our Loyalty and unshaken Attachment to your Royal Person, and our ardent Devotion to the Constitution, a Pledge, which, in all the late Calamities of this Country, was never forfeited by the County of Cavan. With the deepest Concern we have heard that a rebellious Insurrection, marked by Acts of peculiar Barbarity, has again disgraced the Character of any Part of this Kingdom, but we rely on the Vigilance and decisive Energy of your Majesty's Government, and the zealous Assistance of every loyal Subject effectually to crush and dissolve the traitorous Conspiracy. At the same Time we feel ourselves impelled by every Motive of public and private Interest to express our Horror and Indignation, that any, even of the lower Class of our Fellow-Subjects, should be found so lost to the Duty they owe to their God, to their Sovereign, and to their Country, as to become the unnatural Instruments of a foreign Enemy, or Perpetrators of the wicked Suggestions of those domestic Traitors, who, in return for the Clemency they have experienced from their injured Country, are endeavouring again to plunge it into all the Horrors of a Civil War.

We sincerely deplore the Necessity that has compelled your Majesty again to appeal to Arms to maintain the Honor and Safety of the Empire. We know the Value of Peace, but we feel what we have to preserve, and what we have to expect from a treacherous and rapacious Enemy; and we do in the most solemn Manner assure your Majesty, that all his Menaces and Preparations have had no other Effect on our Minds, than to confirm our unqualified Determination, cheerfully to devote our Lives and Fortunes in Defence of your Majesty's Person and Government, and we look forward with Confidence, that, under Divine Providence, the united Exertion of a brave and free People, rallying round their beloved Sovereign, will preserve inviolate the Glory of his Crown and the Independence of the Country.

Vouchsafe to accept the Prayers of us your faithful Subjects, that your Majesty may long reign over a free and grateful People.

Thos. Burrows, High Sheriff of the County of Cavan.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the States of your Majesty's Island of Jersey.

SIRE,

THE States of your Majesty's Island of Jersey, acknowledging with Gratitude, which no Time or Circumstance can obliterate from their Minds, the inestimable Blessings they possess under your mild and truly paternal Sway, beg Leave, at this momentous Crisis, to renew their Assurances of the most devoted Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, Family, and Government.

The Historical Page of this little Island, though not dignified with many of those memorable Events which distinguish more extensive Countries, is still, they are proud to say, adorned with not a few Instances of unshaken Loyalty to the Monarchs of England, in the most perilous and the worst of Times; this Virtue they will ever cherish as the most precious Inheritance they have received from their gallant Forefathers, to transmit it pure and unfulfilled to their Posterity, is the Object of their most anxious Solicitude, and of their highest Ambition.

With these Sentiments and Impressions they deem it their essential and sacred Duty, at a Period when they are threatened with an Invasion by a merciless and ferocious Enemy, to use every Effort, to strain every Nerve in Defence of their King and Country, and for the Preservation of their Rights, their Religion, and their Liberties.

If ought could add to the reverential Affection which your Subjects of this Island have ever professed and felt for a beloved Sovereign, it would be the Comparison so forcibly obtruded on their Notice, between the Miseries of France, under an usurped, cruel, and despotic Government, and the Ease, Prosperity, and Happiness of Britain and its Dependencies, under your Majesty's benignant Care and Protection. If aught could increase the Antipathy to French Dominions entertained by the People of this Island through many an Age, it would be the late atrocious Deeds of Devastation and Havoc which have disseminated Anguish and Dismay through every Country, where French Arms and French Rapacity have penetrated.

To avert these Evils by repelling the perfidious Foe, glorious were the Sacrifice of Life. In such a Cause, your faithful Subjects of Jersey will unite with Hand and Heart, happy if they can prove to your Majesty, by the Ardour of their Zeal, and the Vigour of their Exertions, that they have not degenerated from the Valour and Loyalty of their Ancestors, that they are not unworthy of the Favours so liberally heaped upon them by your gracious Self, and by your illustrious Progenitors.

By Order of the States,

John De Veulle, Greff.

Jersey, 20th August 1803.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lieutenant-Governor, Council, Deemsters, and Keys of your Majesty's Island of Man, in Tynwald assembled.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Lieutenant-Governor, Council, Deemsters, and Keys of your Majesty's Island of Man, in Tynwald assembled, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with our warmest Sentiments of Loyalty and Attachment to your Royal Person, Family, and Government.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty that your faithful Subjects in this Isle feel the utmost Gratitude for the paternal Care which your Majesty has upon all Occasions been graciously pleased to extend to them.

We beg Leave to offer our most earnest Prayers to the King of Kings for the Continuance of his gracious Protection to your Majesty, your Majesty's illustrious House, and extensive Dominions.

We have the utmost Confidence that the Unanimity and determined Exertions of your Majesty's loyal and affectionate Subjects will oppose an impenetrable Bulwark to the Designs of our inveterate Enemies, and transmit to Posterity, inviolate, the Constitution in Church and State, which it is our Glory and Happiness to enjoy.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of Oxford, the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church, the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Oxford, think it our Duty, at this awful Crisis, to approach your Majesty's Throne, in common with our Fellow-Subjects, in order to renew our solemn Declarations of firm and unshaken Attachment, and of faithful Allegiance to your Majesty's Person and Government.

The present Danger to ourselves, and what has recently passed among other Nations of Europe, bind us by a still stronger Tie, and with double Affection, to our happy Constitution in Church and State. We see and feel our own Blessings by such Comparison, as well as the Degradation into which we should sink if we should suffer them to be wrested from us by an Enemy of insatiable Ambition, unprincipled Malice, and implacable Enmity towards us.

Precluded by our Profession from bearing Arms in our own Persons, we will use our most strenuous and incessant Endeavours to animate others to the common Defence, to assist them in the Means of providing for it, to forward the Measures of Government calculated for that Purpose, to impress upon the Minds of those entrusted to our Care the Greatness of the Danger to which all, even the meanest, are exposed, and the Value of the Prize, for which we contend, being no other than the free Enjoyment of every Advantage and Comfort of civil and domestic Life, of our very Virtue and our Religion.

Thus acting, we trust that your Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects will not be found wanting in the great Trial to which they are now called, and we will rely on Providence to second their Endeavours; and hope that the Security of your Majesty and the Realm will ultimately be granted to the Exertions of our People, and the Prayers of our Church.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary Yorke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, the Archdeacons, and the parochial Clergy of the Diocese of Exeter, beg Leave, at this momentous Crisis, humbly to approach your Throne to express our deep Abhorrence of those atrocious Designs of a restless and unprincipled Ambition, which threatens to overwhelm in one common Ruin our Properties, our Liberties, our Laws, and our Religion, whatever we enjoy of public Blessing and of private Consolation.

Impressed with an awful Sense of the impending Danger, we feel it incumbent upon us to assure your Majesty of our most strenuous Exertions to enforce upon the Minds of those of our Fellow-Subjects, who are committed to our Charge, the Importance and the Necessity of giving the most prompt and vigorous Execution to such Measures for frustrating the Machinations of the Enemy, as your Majesty in your Wisdom shall direct.

As Ministers of the Gospel of Peace we profess not to buckle on our Armour, and to set ourselves in Array of Battle: We know that we may be more beneficially employed in instructing and awakening others; in teaching them to submit with Cheerfulness to whatever Sacrifices, to encounter with Fortitude whatever Dangers, the public Safety may demand. Satisfied that the true Spirit of our Religion is in no Respect inconsistent with the most fervent Display of genuine Patriotism, we feel that we cannot more honorably and more conscientiously discharge our Duties than by animating our Countrymen to the most vigorous Exertions; and we most humbly offer up our Supplications to the Sovereign Disposer of all human Events, that He will vouchsafe to those Exertions the Blessings of his Almighty Favour: May He continue to keep under His especial Protection the sacred Person of your Majesty, endeared to your Subjects by the Exercise of every Virtue, and by a constant Attention to all their Interests both civil and religious: May He instruct us so to profit by the calamitous Fate with which we have seen the surrounding Nations overwhelmed, as justly to appreciate our own Happiness: And may He inspire such Wisdom into our Councils, such Energy into our Arms, that, undismayed by the Terrors with which we are assailed, we may be enabled to hold forth to an astonished World the animating Example of what may be effected by a free and an united, a loyal, and a Christian People in the Defence of their Country, their Religion, and their King.

John Exeter.

Torke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

ACTUATED, not less by the Loyalty and Affection which we have ever entertained for your Royal House, than by the Love we bear our Country, and a grateful Sense of the Blessings, which we have long enjoyed under our inestimable Constitution, we, the Bishop, the Dean, Canons, Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church, the Chancellor, Archdeacons, and Clergy of the Diocese of Salisbury, think it incumbent on us, not only to renew to your Majesty the strongest Assurances of our inviolable Attachment to your Royal Person, but the most solemn Pledges of our unalterable Determination, zealously to exert every Energy, and cheerfully to submit to every Sacrifice which the Exigencies of this most awful Crisis may demand.

Relying, under the Protection of Divine Providence, on the impregnable Bulwark of national Unanimity, we view the gigantic Efforts of our inviolable Enemy, if not without Solicitude, at least without Dismay. And we shall not cease to offer our daily and most fervent Prayers to the Great Disposer of all Events, that the People of this Land, may, in every Trial of Difficulty and Danger, be animated, under his Divine Influence, with that steady Patriotism, that unshaken Resolution, and that undaunted, manly, and generous Courage which Religion can alone inspire, earnestly beseeching Him so to bless all our Endeavours to maintain our Laws, Liberties, and Religion, that we, as faithful Guardians of a sacred Trust delivered down to us from our illustrious Ancestors, may be enabled to transmit them unimpaired to our latest Posterity.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Mr. Secretary
Torke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Aberdeen.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Aberdeen, in Presbytery assembled, beg Leave at this momentous Crisis, to approach your Throne, with the most sincere and energetic Sentiments of Affection, Loyalty, and Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family, and Government.

We consider the Conduct of the present Ruler of the French Nation, after Peace had been restored through your Majesty's parental Care for your

People, as one continued Series of Aggression and Insult, which rendered War just and necessary.

Though we regard without Alarm, the insolent Threats of the Enemy, yet from his exasperated Efforts and unceasing Preparations, we perceive our Laws, our Religion, our Liberties, and every Thing dear to us as Men, as Britons, and as Christians, to be in Danger.

Actuated by these Sentiments, we have thought it our Duty to impress on the Minds of our People, a due Sense of the Danger with which they are threatened, to animate them to contribute their Part to every species of Military Force deemed expedient by your Majesty's Government, and to bear with Cheerfulness, the necessary Privations, to place their Confidence in the Lord Hosts, and to practise those Virtues which our holy Religion inculcates, and which are the grand Sources of national Safety, Prosperity, and Glory.

We have accordingly the Satisfaction to assure your Majesty, that all the different Classes of our People, have, from Affection to their beloved Sovereign, and in Defence of their Country, come forward with Alacrity and Spirit to the several Duties required, and bear with Cheerfulness the Burdens necessary for the great Cause in which we are engaged.

We recollect with Gratitude, the Interpositions of Heaven in former Periods, in Behalf of this favoured Land; we rely with Confidence on the God of our Fathers for Protection in the present Time of Danger, and put up our humble and earnest Supplications, that the Lord of Hosts may go forth with our Fleets and Armies, and give them Victory in the Day of Battle, may restrain the Wrath and Ambition of the Enemy, establish your Majesty's Throne, preserve our happy Constitution, and secure our holy Religion to the latest Generations. These are the fervent Prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Aberdeen.

Signed in Presence, and by Appointment of the Presbytery at Aberdeen, this Twenty fifth Day of August, One thousand eight hundred and three, by W. L. Brown, Moderator.

Torke.]

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful, loyal, and affectionate Subjects, the Provincial Synod of Caithness and Sutherland, being met and constituted at Thurso, this Eighteenth Day of August One thousand eight hundred and three Years, reflecting on the Blessings, civil and religious, we, with our Fellow-Subjects, enjoy under your Majesty's mild Government and our envied Constitution, humbly beg Leave to express our Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government; and to assure your Majesty, that we will, by our Influence with the People committed by Providence to our Charge in spiritual Matters, and by every Exertion in our Power, contribute to support and defend your Majesty, our Religion, our Laws, and our Liberties, and repel any Enemy whatever who may attempt any Thing hostile to our Nation: And our Prayer to God is, that your Majesty may long live and reign over a free, a happy, a loyal, independent, and united People, and transmit our Laws and our Liberties inviolated to Posterity; and that your Majesty, after resigning a Crown on Earth, may receive one in Heaven.

In Name, Presence, and by Appointment of the Synod. Extracted from the Synod Records, by Pat. Nicolson, Minister of Thurso,
Synod Clerk.
