

House that they may be admitted Parties to defend and support the Right of Election for which the said other Petitioners contended before the said Select Committee, or any other Right which may be attempted to be established by them, or any of them, and that such Relief may be granted to the Petitioners as the Justice of the Case may require:

And the House having appointed Tuesday the Tenth Day of April next, at Three of the Clock in the Afternoon, to take the said Petition into Consideration, I do hereby Notice, that the House will at that Time take the said Petition into Consideration.

Given under my Hand this Third Day of March One thousand eight hundred and four.

CHARLES ABBOT, Speaker.

Crown-Office, March 6, 1804.

MEMBER returned to serve in this present PARLIAMENT.

Borough of Tarmouth, in the Isle of Wight.
John Delgarno, of Newport, in the County of Southampton, Esquire, in the Room of Henry Swann, Esquire, who, since his Election for the said Borough, hath accepted the Office of Steward or Bailiff of His Majesty's Three Chiltern Hundreds of Stoke, Deinstorough, and Bonenhams, in the County of Buckingham.

Whitehall, March 3, 1804.

Whereas it hath been humbly represented to the King, that on the 31st of January last, between the Hours of Two and Four o'Clock in the Morning, Mr. James Cook, an Ensign in the Loyal Dak's Volunteers, was wilfully and maliciously shot at in the Highway leading from Feetham to Recth, in the North Riding of Yorkshire, and wounded in the Cheek by large Shot or Slugs fired at him by some Person unknown.

And whereas the said Ensign Cook has received several anonymous and threatening Letters;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in wounding the said Mr. Cook, as also of writing and sending the several anonymous threatening Letters, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any One of them (except the Persons who actually fired at the said Mr. Cook, as also the Person or Persons who actually wrote the threatening Letters above-mentioned,) who shall discover his or their Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

C. YORKE.

And, as a further Encouragement, a Reward of FIFTY POUNDS is hereby offered to any Person who shall discover the Persons concerned in firing at and wounding the said Mr. Cook (except as is before excepted); and also a Reward of TWENTY POUNDS to any Person who shall discover the Writers of the said anonymous Letters (except as is before excepted), to be paid on the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders, at the Leyburn Bank.
