Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Cotton, Bart. to William Marsden, Esq; dated on board His Majesty's Ship the San Josef, off Ushant, August 1804.

SIR,

HEREWITH I transmit a Letter, for the Information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, from Vice-Admiral Sir Robert Calder, with its Enclosures, giving an Account of the Destruction of Two of the Enemy's Corvettes by His Majesty's Ship the Aigle, off Bourdeaux.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

CHARLES COTTON.

Prince of Wales, off Rocheford, July 19, 1804.

SIR,

I HAVE the Pleasure to inform you His Majesty's Ship the Aigle (who I had placed in Shore to watch the Enemy's Motions) fell in with Two French National Corvettes, which Captain Wolfe drove on Shore near Bourdeaux and burnt, having first used every Means without Effect to get them afloat. The Aigle found only Twenty-six French Officers and Men left on board these Corvettes when they took Possession of them; the rest had made their Escape on Shore.

The Names of these Corvettes are La Charante and La Joie; the first a Ship of Twenty Guns and One Hundred and Four Men, and the other a Brig, pierced for Fourteen Guns, but had only Eight mounted, and Seventy-five Men. They had on board the Ordnance and Stores complete for a Corvette just launched at Bayonné, to which Place they were carrying them.

I here enclose Captain Wolfe's Letter to me of his Proceedings in the destroying of these Vessels, and also a List of the Prisoners he has on board; these I have directed to be sent into Port by the first Opportunity.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) ROB. CALDER.

To the Honorable William Cornwallis, &c. &c. &c.

SIR, His Majesty's Ship the Aigle, July 16, 1804.

AFTER passing the Squadron on the 9th Instant, when, at the Anchorage No. 5, was drove to the S. W. by the Gale; on the 10th we lost Sight of the Hawk. On the 12th, when standing in for Cordouan, in beating up for the Rendezvous, saw a large Brig and Ship with all Sail set, steering to the Southward. I supposed them to be Part of the Squadron from Rochefort. At Five P. M. closed with them, (they never altering their Course from our first seeing them,) prepared and expecting, from their Manœuvres and Signals, a close Action, they having shortened Sail, (with Men at their Quarters,) when within proper Distance: But, to our great Surprise, after firing their Starboard Broadside at us, they ran the Ships on the Strand, within a Stone's Cast of each other, and directly took to the Boats, which instantly swamped on touching the Beach, about Ten Leagues to the South of Cordouan, and some of them were drowned. The Wind being at N. E. and about Two Points off the Land, I had great Hopes of getting one or both of them afloat again, and anchored the Aigle about a Mile from the Beach; but after a Night and Part of the next Day in fruitless Efforts, from the very great Surf set in by the late Western Gale, I was obliged to destroy them by Fire, which was effectually done by Mr. Furlonger, Master, and Mr. Steel the Gunner, as scarcely any Part was perceptible when the Aigle made Sail.

The Prisoners on board the Aigle are John Sanson, Lieutenant de Vaisseau, the Officers, and Eight Soldiers and Sailors of the French National Ship the Charante, of Four Hundred and Twenty Tons, Twenty Guns, Six-Pounders, Four Swivels, and One Hundred and Four Men.

Benjamin Godobert, Lieutenant de Vaisseau, his Officers, and Nine Soldiers and Sailors of the French National Brig Le Joie, Two Hundred and Fifty Tons, pierced for Fourteen, but only Eight Twelve-Pounders mounted, Two Swivels, and Seventy-five Men. La Joie had Sixteen Six-Pounders, a Quantity of Arms, Powder, Shot; and other Ordnance Stores in the Hold. They were from Rochefort, but had sailed in the Morning from the Gironde, stealing along Shore for Bayonne, and intended to return from thence with Stores for the French Marine at Rochefort, which I am proud in having prevented, and trust in meeting your Approbation. None of their Shot struck us, nor did ours materially injure them, as only their Masts and Sails were a little torn.

Had they come alongside, as expected, the Brig having shifted her Guns for the Purpose, I am certain the Crew of the Aigle would have acquitted themselves as English men do on those Occasions.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

GEO. WOLFE.

Sir Robert Calder Bart. Vice-Admiral of the Blue, &c. &c. off Rochefort.

Admiralty-Office, August 7, 1804.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Robert Dudley Oliver, Commander of His Majesty's Ship the Melpomene, to William Marsden, Esq; dated off Hawre, the 2d Instant.

SIR,

I Beg Leave to enclose to you, for the Information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a Copy of my Letter to Lord Keith, of this Date.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

R. D. OLIVER.

My Lord, Melpomene, off Hawre, Aug. 2, 1804.

THE Wind having changed Yesterday to the N. E. I determined to make another Attack on the numerous Vessels in Havre Pier, as well as those which were moored outside, amounting to Twenty-eight Brigs, and as many Luggers, and stood in with the Squadron, as per Margin*. At Half past Seven, P. M. the Bombs were well placed off the Pier-Heads, when they began a well-directed Fire, which was kept up with great Spirit for about an Hour and a Half. The Town was very soon observed to be on Fire in Two Places; and Seven Brigs, which were on the Outside of the Pier, found it necessary to move; one lost her Mainmast. As the Wind came more off the Land, and a strong Ebb Tide setting out, I ordered the Bombs to discontinue firing. At Half past Nine we anchored with the Squadron about Five Miles from the Light-Houses. As the Explosion had fired away all her Shells, and the Zebra most of her Powder, I had them supplied from the Meteor; and at Half past Five this Morning got under weigh, and stood in with the Squadron again. Before Eight the Bombs took up their Position near the Pier Heads, and kept up a constant Fire for near Three Hours with Shells and Carcases; so many Shells burst on and about the Piers, that the Enemy's Fire was observed latterly to slacken considerably, and it was evident they were in the greatest Confusion; some Brigs and Luggers, however, got under Weigh, and came out to endeavour to annoy the Bombs, but all the other Ships and Vessels of the Squadron were so well placed as to give Chace to them immediately; and it was only by cutting away their Boats, which were a-stern, and retreating very speedily into shoal Water, that they escaped, but not before they had run the Gauntlet of all the Ships and Cutters, and were very closely engaged for a considerable Time by the Merlin, Favorite, Locust Gun-Brig, and Hope Cutter; and on this Occasion I feel particularly indebted to the Exertions of Captains Brenton and Foot, and Lieutenants Lake and Dobbin, whose Vessels were very often during the Action in very shoal Water, with a falling Tide; indeed nothing but the bad sailing of the Merlin prevented Captain Brenton from cutting off the Sternmost Brig.

The Locust lost her Main-topmast, but I have not heard of any other Loss. The Conduct of the Captains Sykes, James, Paul, and Beauchamp, commanding the Bombs on both these Occasions, was highly meritorious; and although their Ships were frequently struck, it gives me great Pleasure to add that no Lives have been lost. What Damage may be done to the Enemy by near Five Hundred Shells and Carcases thrown into the Town and Bason last Evening, and this Morning it is impossible to calculate, but I may without Vanity say, that if the Exertions of the Enemy's Flotilla be not much greater on our Shore than on their own, we have little to dread from them.

I cannot conclude without expressing my Obligations to every Officer and Man employed in this Squadron. I am, &c.

(Signed) R. DUDLEY OLIVER.
