

The CHIEF MOURNER, his Two Supporters and Train-Bearer were seated on Chairs near the Body, on the Side nearest the Altar; and the Six Assistant Mourners, Four Supporters of the Pall, and Six Supporters of the Canopy, on Stools on each Side.

The Relations also near them in the Choir; and Garter was seated near the Chief Mourner.

The Body, when placed in the Choir, was not covered with the Pall, nor the Canopy borne over it; the Rule in that respect being dispensed with, for the Reason before mentioned. The Bannerolls were borne on each Side the Body.

The Officers of the Navy, and the Staff Officers commanding the Troops, were seated near the Altar.

The Carpet and Cushion (on which the Trophies were afterwards to be deposited,) were laid, by the Gentleman Usher who carried them, on a Table placed near the Grave, which was under the Centre of the Dome, and behind the Place which was to be there occupied by the Chief Mourner.

The Coronet and Cushion borne by Norroy King of Arms, in the Absence of Clarenceux, was laid on the Body.

During the Service in the Choir, an Anthem suitable to the Occasion was sung; and, at the Conclusion, a Procession was made from thence to the Grave, with the Banners and Bannerolls as before; the Officers of Arms preceding with the Trophies; the Body borne and attended as before: the Choir singing "Man that is born of a Woman," &c. and the Three following Sentences. The Chief Mourner, with his Supporters, and, near them, Garter, had Seats at the East End of the Grave; the Train-Bearer stood behind the Chief Mourner, and near him, the Relations of the Deceased. At the opposite End sat the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Lincoln, Dean of the Cathedral, attended by Three Canons Residentiaries. A Supporter of the Pall stood at each Angle. The Assistant Mourners, Supporters of the Canopy, and Bearers of the Bannerolls, on either Side. On the Right of the Dean were the Chaplains; on the Left, the Officers of the Household of the Deceased. The Great Banner was borne on the North, the Banner of the Deceased, as a Knight of the Bath, on the South of the Grave; the Standard and Guidon behind the Dean; the Banner of Emblems behind the Chief Mourner; the Trophies in the Angles.

Then the Dean read "Forasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty God," &c.: then the Choir sung Part of an Anthem "His Body is buried in Peace; but his Name liveth evermore."

The Service at the Interment being over, Garter proclaimed the Style; and the Comptroller, Treasurer, and Steward of the Deceased, breaking their Staves, delivered the Pieces to Garter, who threw them into the Grave.

Upon a Signal given from St. Paul's that the Body was deposited, the Troops being drawn up in Moorfields, the Artillery fired their Guns, and the Infantry gave Volleys, by Corps, Three Times repeated.

The Interment ended, the Standard, Banners, Bannerolls, and Trophies, were deposited on the Table behind the Chief Mourner; and all Persons in the Procession retired.

During the Whole of this solemn Ceremony, the greatest Order prevailed throughout the Metropolis; and, as the Remains of the much-lamented Hero proceeded along, every possible Testimony of Sorrow and of Respect was manifested by an immense Concurrence of Spectators of all Ranks. From the Admiralty to the Cathedral, the Streets were lined with the several Volunteer Corps of London and Westminster, the Militia; and many other Military Bodies, both Cavalry and Infantry.
