St. James's, January 31, 1806.

THE following Address having been transmitted to the Right Honorable Lord Hawkesbury, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been, by his Lordship, presented to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble, loyal, and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsea.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PERMIT us to express to your Majesty our unbounded Joy and warmest Congratulations in consequence of the glorious Victories which Divine Providence hath given to your Majesty's Arms off the Capes of Trafalgar and Ortegat.—Victories so splendid and decisive, as to stand unparalleled among the Achievements even of the British Navy. The critical Moment when these Blows were struck, renders these brilliant Events of incalculable Importance, not only to your Majesty's Dominions, but to Europe. Thus swiftly have perished the Schemes of Temerity and Arrogance! and thus may the Zeal of your Chiefs, and the Valour of your People, long continue to destroy the Machinations of a daring and indefinite Ambition. In one of these
