

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority:

From Tuesday March 24. to Monday March 28. 1681.

Lisbonne, Feb. 17.

WE have already given you an Account of the arrival of the Marquis de Dronero, Ambassador Extraordinary from the Duke of Savoy, who has been received with all the Demonstrations of Respect and Esteem. On Tuesday last the Court returned hither from Salva-Terra, and the same Evening the Ambassador had a private Audience of the Prince Regent and the Queen, and since he has been every Day at Court, and is preparing to make his publick Entry. In the mean time, People are very impatient to know in what state Affairs are, with relation to the Marriage, which some think there are still difficulties in, while others are of opinion that all things are agreed, and that the Duke of Savoy will be here in the Summer to consummate the same.

Madrid, March 6. The 2. th past the Duke of Villa Hermosa, late Governor of the Spanish Netherlands, arrived here, and the same day was to pay his Duty to their Majesties; the Report he has made to the King and to the chief Minister, of the condition those Provinces are in, will hasten the Supplies that are intended to be sent to the Prince of Parma. The Duke d' Icar, who succeeds the Constable of Colonna in the Government of Arragon, parted from hence some days since for Saragoça. The Letters we receive from Catalonia and from Navarre still speak of the apprehensions they have of the Designs of the French on that side.

Genova, March 19. The Reserve, Capt. Boucher, arrived here this week, having been forced by three Algerines, who Chaced him, to put into a Port near Tboulon; and to remain there till those Pyrats left the Coasts, which they did upon the French Gallies coming out.

Lintz, March 18. We do not yet know the certain time that the Dyet is to meet in Hungary. The Advices that have of late come from thence, have very much lessened the hopes most people had at first conceived of the good success of this Meeting, the Hungarian Malecontents seeming positive in things, which it believed the Emperor will never consent to; but these being near conjures, we will say no more of them, but have patience till the Dyet Assemblies, and then it will appear what the real dispositions to an accommodation are. The Imperial Prince has been indisposed for two or three days, but its hoped he will be well enough not to hinder the Courts removing to Vienna, whither several Officers of the Emperors House are already gone. The Electör of Bavaria is going to Marry with the Daughter of the Duke of Saxe Eysenach, who is a Lutheran, and for that as well as other reasons, endeavours have been used to hinder it.

Kalisbonne, March 18. The 7th Instant their Imperial Majesties arrived at Oevingen; and the next day the Electör of Bavaria, with his Unkle Duke Maximilian and his Dutchels; they went immediately to visit their Imperial Majesties, and accompanied them to the Chappel to hear Vespres, and Supped with them at night: the next day, the Electör and his Unkle Dined with the Emperor, and great kindnesses past between them during their stay there, which was till the 10th, when they again parted from thence; the Emperor (who presented the Electör at his taking leave of him, with a Sword very richly set with Diamonds) for Lintz, and the Electör for Munick, where they arrived some days after. The Sieur Albrecht, Counsellor and Secretary to the Chamber of the Emperors Revenue, is removed from his place, and will be proceeded against in the same manner that the Count de Zinzendorf, the late President of the said Chambers was being accused of very great misdemeanors committed by him in the execution of his place.

Berlin, March 21. We are with some impatience expecting our Letters from Poland, because of the Concern our Electör has at this time in the Resolutions of the Dyet; for besides the obtaining their Consent to the Marriage of his Son with the Princess Katzevillet, which his Ambassador does sollicite, and which we should be glad to hear he had gained; the Resolutions that are taken concerning the War against the Turks, and a conjunction with the Moscovites may be of importance, as to the Empire in general, so to his Electöral Highness in particular.

Strasburg, March 20. We are pretty quiet in these parts at present, but know not how long we shall continue so, for many People are of opinion, that when the Baron de Monclar returns from France, the French Troops will be drawn into the Field.

Cologne, March 25. It seems our Electörs Resolutions for the reducing the City of Liege to their Obedience to him, are now going to be put in execution, for a Body of an Army is drawing together in the Countrey of Liege for that purpose, which the Authors of the Disorders and Commotions that have so long disturbed the City, are so alarmed at, that they are endeavouring to raise Moneys and Men to be employed in its Defence against the said Forces. Count Fass, the Emperors Envoye is expected here this week, to Confer with our Electör concerning the present state of the Empire, and the means for preserving its Peace, and Tranquility, which is at this time in so much danger of being disturbed.

Paris,