

the most alarming Consequences to the Protestant Reformed Religion,

We deeply lament that the mild Spirit of religious Toleration, which so eminently distinguishes your Majesty's Government, affording to your Subjects the strongest Assurance of your Majesty's paternal and equal Regard for their Happiness, has not prevented an Attempt to impose on your Majesty Measures hostile to the Principles of our Constitution.

Encouraged by your Majesty's wise and decisive Conduct on this momentous Occasion, we look up to your Majesty with increased Confidence and Attachment, as the Protector of our revered Establishments in Church and State. And we trust that your Majesty's Royal Successors, influenced by your Majesty's bright Example, and mindful of the solemn Compact between the Prince and People at that glorious Revolution, which settled the Crown of these Kingdoms on the illustrious House of Brunswick, will deem it their highest Honour to preserve and transmit to our latest Posterity the Blessings which we have not ceased to enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious Reign.

Richard Vaughan, Mayor of the City of Bristol, Chairman.

[The above Address was signed by One Thousand Five Hundred and Ten Names.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council of the City of Bath, in Common-Hall assembled, have beheld with Admiration the mild and tolerant Spirit which invariably has distinguished your Majesty's Reign. But being perfectly aware that our established Church is essentially connected with our excellent Constitution, we, with respectful Confidence, approach the Throne, to express our Thanks for the Firmness which your Majesty has lately evinced in Defence of that Establishment. If any Occurrence could increase the Attachment which we have ever felt for your Majesty's Person and Government, it would be the additional Proof which has been thus given of your Majesty's indisputable Claim to the sacred Title of Defender of the Faith.

Given under our Common Seal of the said City, this 17th Day of April, in the Forty-seventh Year of your Majesty's Reign.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow, in Council assembled, beg Leave humbly to approach your Majesty, and to express our heartfelt Satisfaction at the firm Line of Conduct which your Majesty has observed, in opposing any such Relaxation of the Laws at present in force with regard to Persons professing the Roman Catholic Religion, as might endanger the Constitution, as established by the Act of Settlement at the Time of the glorious Revolution.

We take this Opportunity to express our Gratitude to the Almighty for placing us under such a Sovereign as your Majesty has been during a long Reign. And we conclude with praying that your Majesty's valuable Life may long be spared for a Blessing to your Subjects; and when your Reign on Earth shall be finished, that you may enter upon the Enjoyment of a never-fading Crown of Glory in Heaven.

Signed and sealed with the Seal of the said City, in Name, in Presence, and by Appointment of the Magistrates and Common-Council of the said City, in Council assembled, at Glasgow, the 15th Day of April, 1807 Years, by me, Lord Provost and Chief Magistrate of the said City,
James MacKenzie.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Northampton, convened by Advertisement from the High Sheriff, at the County Hall in Northampton, on the 16th Day of April, 1807.

S I R E,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Northampton, humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty's Throne with our most grateful Acknowledgments for your firm and dignified Resistance to the late Attempt to remove those Guards which the Wisdom of our Ancestors has provided for the Security of the Ecclesiastical Establishment of this Empire. We desire to assure your Majesty, that the uniform Experience of Forty-seven Years has convinced us of the Sincerity of those conscientious Scruples by which your Majesty is influenced in withstanding any Innovation upon the great Principles of religious Policy which placed your Majesty's Ancestors on the Throne of these Realms, and which your Majesty has solemnly sworn to maintain. Actuated by these Sentiments we venture to assure your Majesty, that the zealous Support of an affectionate People will not be wanting to enable your Majesty to pursue that firm and steady System of Government which is perfectly compatible with the most enlarged Principles of Toleration, and which affords the best Prospect of promoting the permanent Peace and Happiness of the United Kingdom.

In the Name of the Meeting,

Thomas Tryon, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by W. R. Cartwright, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament for the County of Northampton.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Oxford, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with our unfeigned Professions of Attachment and Duty.

Many and important have been the Occasions, in the Course of your Majesty's Reign, on which your Subjects have been called on to acknowledge, with Gratitude, the Benefits of your kind and paternal Care; but on no Occasion has that paternal Care shone forth more conspicuously than in the late signal Instance which your Majesty has given of your firm and sincere Attachment to the Principles of our Constitution in Church and State.

Your Majesty has sworn at your Coronation that
