

believe that, by such Letters or Certificates, they are discharged from that Duty of Allegiance which, as Our Natural-born Subjects, they owe to Us; now We do hereby warn all such Mariners, Seafaring Men, and others, Our Natural-born Subjects, that no such Letters of Naturalization, or Certificates of Citizenship, do, or can, in any Manner, divest our Natural-born Subjects of the Allegiance, or in any Degree alter the Duty which they owe to Us their lawful Sovereign. But, in consideration of the Error into which such Mariners and Seafaring Men as aforesaid may have been led, We do hereby publish and declare Our free Pardon to all such Our Subjects, who, repenting of the Delusion under which they have acted, shall immediately, upon Knowledge of this Our Royal Proclamation, withdraw themselves from Foreign Service, and return to their Allegiance to Us; and We do declare that all such Our Subjects, who shall continue in the Service of Foreign States, in Disregard and Contempt of this Our Royal Proclamation, will not only incur Our just Displeasure, but are liable to be proceeded against for such Contempt, and shall be proceeded against accordingly; and We do hereby declare, that if any such Masters of Ships, Pilots, Mariners, Seamen, Shipwrights, or other Seafaring Men (being our Natural-born Subjects) shall be taken in any Foreign Service by the Algerines, or other Barbary Powers, and carried into Slavery, they shall not be reclaimed by Us as Subjects of Great Britain:

And We do further notify, that all such Our Subjects as aforesaid, who have voluntarily entered, or shall enter, or voluntarily continue to serve on board of any Ships of War belonging to any Foreign State at Enmity with Us, are and will be guilty of High Treason; And We do by this Our Royal Proclamation declare, that they shall be punished with the utmost Severity of the Law.

Given at Our Court at the Queen's Palace, the Sixteenth Day of October, One thousand eight hundred and seven, and in the Forty-seventh Year of Our Reign.

GOD save the KING.
