Downing-Street, April 11, 1808.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are Copies, were Yesterday received by Viscount Castlereagh, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Major-General Sherbrooke, commanding His Majesty's Troops in Sicily.

My Lord, Messina, February 8, 1808.

AS an Opportunity offers of writing to England by a private Ship, which runs without Convoy, I profit of the Conveyance to inform your Lordship, that His Sicilian Majesty's Garrison of Reggio fur-rendered to the French on the 3d Instant. General Regnier's Operations in Calabria will now, consequently, be directed against Scylla alone; which Place has been invested for nearly Six Weeks. He has been so fortunate as to possess himself of Four Sicilian Gun-Boats, each carrying a Twenty-four Pounder, all of which he has landed. Our greatest Efforts have, for a Length of Time past, been made to prevent his bringing Battering Cannon into this Part of Calabria; but Fortune, by throwing those into his Hands, has rendered our Endeavours nugatory.

As in my former Letters I have given your Lordship my Opinion of what the probable Fate of Scylla must be, when the Enemy can bring Guns of heavy Metal into Batteries against it at Breaching Distance, it is needless for me now to say more upon the Subject.

I am extremely sorry to inform your Lordship, that in endeavouring to recover the Sicilian Gun-Boats which fell into the Enemy's Hands, on the Evening of the 30th Ultimo, the Delight Sloop of War most unfortunately got on Shore on the Calabrian Coast. It being found impossible to get her off, she was next Day burnt, to prevent her being of further Use to the Enemy.

It is with the most heartfelt Concern I add, that on this melancholy Occasion Captain Handfield, (with several of his Ship's Company,) was killed; and that Captain Seccombe, of the Glatton, (who was at the Time on board the Delight,) was very dangerously wounded, and, with the Remainder, made Prisoners. Captain Seccombe was permitted, the next Day, to come over to Messina on his Parole, but on the 3d Instant he died of his Wounds.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) J. C. SHERBROOKE, Maj. Gen.

MY LORD, Messina, February 23, 1808.

I HAVE the Honour to state for your Lordship's Information, that I have found it expedient, and, to the best of my Judgment, for the Good of His Majesty's Service, to withdraw the British Troops from the Castle of Scylla, which was evacuated accordingly by my Order on the 17th Instant; the Place was immediately entered by the French Troops; and it is now in their Possession.

I beg Leave also to lay before your Lordship the inclosed Report made to me by Lieutenant-Colonel Robertson, late Commandant of Scylla, as it contains a detailed Account of the Events as they occurred, from the 31st December last, (the Day on which the Enemy came before the Place,) until the Time of its Evacuation; which Measure, I am led to hope, will not only appear to your Lordship to have been absolutely necessary under the existing Circumstances, but that our Troops were not withdrawn until no other Means remained of preventing the brave Garrison falling into the Enemy's Hands. I likewise transmit a Return of the Killed and Wounded of the Detachments forming the British Garrison of Scylla during the Siege.

Having already, on a former Occasion, had the Honour of submitting my Opinion, that the Castle of Scylla would be no longer tenable whenever the Enemy should succeed in bringing Battering Guns against it, the Fall of this Place will excite no Surprise in your Lordship's Mind when you perceive the very formidable Force with which it was attacked, and the very ample Means with which the Enemy was provided to possess himself of it.

Much Reliance has been heretofore placed upon the Assistance which might be afforded by the Gun and Mortar-Boats in the Defence of Scylla, and of the Annoyance they might give the Enemy in carrying on his Approaches; but, unfortunately, the Weather from the 11th to the 17th was so stormy, that it was quite impossible for them to be employed with any Hopes of Advantage.

On the Morning of the 15th Instant, Lieutenant-Colonel Robertson having informed me, by Telegraph, that the Parapet of the Work was destroyed, and that all his Guns were either dismounted or disabled, I felt very anxious indeed to withdraw the Troops, but a Continuance of the Gale rendered this impracticable till the 17th, when, during a temporary Lull, (every necessary Arrangement having been previously made,) the Transports' Boats, protected by the Men of War's Launches, ran over from the Faros, and succeeded in bringing away the whole of the Garrison, who effected their Retreat by the Sea Staircase to the Boats, when they were exposed to a most tremendous galling Fire both of Grape and Musketry from the Enemy, till such Time as they could pull out of the Reach of it. I am happy to add, that the Loss of the Troops in this exposed Situation was only Four killed and Five wounded, and that of the Seamen, 1 killed and 10 wounded.

Captain Otway of the Navy, who commands the Ships of War stationed here, entrusted the Execution of this very dangerous Piece of Service to Captain Trollope, of the Electra. More Judgment, Coolness, and Intrepidity was never displayed on any Occasion; and I feel myself particularly indebted to Captain Trollope, and to the Officers and Seamen serving under him, to whose gallant Exertions I owe the Preservation of the Garrison.

The Gallantry and good Conduct of the Officers and Men employed in the Defence of Scylla Castle merits my highest Approbation. More could not be expected from any Men than these have performed. Lieutenant-Colonel Robertson, who commanded, I beg Leave to recommend in the strongest Terms to your Lordship's Notice and Protection. The Ability, Zeal, and Gallantry displayed by him in the Defence of this little Fortress, deserves my warmest Praise and Commendation.

When your Lordship comes to consider what the Numbers of the Enemy were before Scylla, with a strong supporting Army at Hand, from which he could draw Reinforcements at Pleasure; I trust it will appear to your Lordship that Prudence would not have warranted my making a Diversion in Favour of Scylla, by risking a Landing on the Calabrian Shore.

The only remaining Effort therefore that I could make, was to prevent the brave Garrison falling into the Enemy's Hands; and this, with the Cooperation and Assistance of the Naval Force under Captain Otway, has been happily effected in open Day, under the Enemy's Fire, with much less Loss than might reasonably have been expected.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

J. C. SHERBROOKE, Maj. Gen.

SIR.

Messina, February 18, 1803.

IN Obedience to your Orders, I have the Honour to report the Particulars of what occurred since the first Appearance of the Enemy before Scylla.

After being invested by General Regnier's Army during Seven Weeks, and battered for Six Days by Fourteen Pieces of heavy Ordnance, the little Castle of Scylla has fallen into his Hands: But I have the heartfelt Satisfaction to add, that not one of the gallant Garrison placed under my Orders has become his Prisoner.

In the latter End of December, the Arrival of Troops and Ordnance-Stores at Seminara left me no Room to doubt the Enemy's Intention of besieging Scylla, and Parties of the Infantry were accordingly sent out to render the Passes of Solano impracticable, and to create Obstacles to his Advance, by Cuts across the various Paths which lead from the Heights of Milla down to Scylla. This Work, as well as the levelling of Fences, &c. proceeded rapidly, and effectually under the Direction of Captain Nicholas, Assistant Quarter-Master-General; when, upon the 31st of December, the advanced Workmen, and the Out Posts of the Maffe, were driven in by Three French Battalions, and a Detachment of Cavalry, under General Millet, which took Post upon the Heights above us; and on the following Day Regnier brought up Two more Battalions, and spreading his Out Posts to Favazzina, Bagnara, &c. completed the Investment of the Town. At this Time the Garrison of the Castle consisted of about Two Hundred British, and from Four to Five Hundred Maffe occupied the Town.

The Enemy's Troops were now incessantly employed in forming the Roads necessary for bringing his heavy Ordnance from Seminara, while we laboured to render the Approach to Scylla difficult, and harassed the French by constant Attacks on his Out Posts with Parties of the Maffe, and occasionally with Boats. In some of these partial Actions the Enemy suffered severely; particularly in a Night Attack at Bagnara, where the Voltigeurs of the 23d Light Infantry were cut to Pieces.

Owing to these Checks, the French were retarded until the 6th of February, when they descended the Heights in Force, and came within a distant Range of our Guns; and from this Day they honoured our little Castle with all the detailed Precautions of a regular Siege, in covering his Approaches and Communications. The Skirmishes between the Enemy and the Maffe became very serious: the latter displayed great Gallantry; and enjoying the Support of the Castle Guns, obliged the French to purchase their Advance with heavy Loss; but, on the 9th, were obliged to yield to the Numbers of the Enemy, who assailed the Town on all Sides: our Guns, however covered their Retreat; and I had the Satisfaction of sending off these brave Peasants to Messina without leaving a Man in the Enemy's Hands.

The Force which General Regnier had brought to besiege Scylla, consisted of a Body of Cavalry, the 23d Light Infantry, the 1st, 62d and 101st of the Line, in all about Six Thousand Men; with Five Twenty-four-Pounders, Five Eighteens, and Four Mortars, besides Field-Pieces.

On the Morning of the 11th, he opened his Batteries, directing his Efforts to the Destruction of our upper Works, and the disabling of our Guns; while under Cover of this Fire, he laboured to establish Two Breaching Batteries, at Three and Four Hundred Yards Distance. It was not, however, till the 14th, that our Parapet and Guns were rendered totally useless; nor till then did the Slaughter abate to which their Parties employed on the Breaching Batteries were exposed from our Grape and Shells.

From this Time our Defence was confined to Musketry, as our Guns lay buried under the Ruins of the Parapet, and the close Fire from Five Twenty-four-Pounders became inefficient. In the mean Time we discovered him attempting to mine the Right Bastion, upon which he continued at work for Three Nights, but I apprehend without the expected Success.

In the Night of the 15th, the French passed round the Foot of the Rock, with the Intention of destroying the Sea Staircase, but we happily discovered them, and beat them off with the Slaughter to which their desperate Situation exposed them.

The Fire from the Breaching Batteries had been variously directed till the Evening of the 16th, when they bent their undivided Fury against the Left Bastion with such Success, that the Breach would probably have been practicable by the following Evening. It was under these Circumstances that I received your Orders to evacuate the Castle, and have the great Satisfaction of reporting, that we accomplished this Yesterday Morning, in full View of the Enemy, and without leaving an Individual behind. The Approach of the Boats from Faro gave the French full Intimation of our Design, but the tempestuous State of the Weather obliged us to seize the short Opportunity of an Hour's Lull. Every Battery poured its utmost Fire upon the Castle, and subsequently upon the Boats; while Infantry with Field Pieces tried the Breach on either Side.

The Garrison was drawn off in Succession, and the Embarkation effected with the greatest Order, notwithstanding the tremendous Fire of Grape, Shells, &c. Our Loss in the Operation was small; and before we were a Musket-Shot distant, the French were in the Fort.

The masterly Arrangement of the Transport Boats and Men of War Launches upon this Occasion, does high Honour to Captain Frolope, of His Majesty's Ship Electra, who personally superintended this Service; and the Conduct of the Officers and Men under him was marked with all the Coolness and Dexterity of British Seamen. I regret to add, that One of them was killed in the Operation, and Ten wounded, some of them dangerously. The uniform good Conduct of the Garrison which I have had the good Fortune to command, demands my warmest Gratitude; and their intrepid Spirit during the Siege is hardly more commendable than the Zeal with which they went through the heavy Fatigues that preceded it.

The Detachment of the Royal Artillery was highly conspicuous; the Excellence of their Gunnery was proved by the severe Losses which the Enemy has sustained; and I cannot too strongly express my Sense of the Skill and indefatigable Zeal which Lieutenant Dunn has displayed throughout the Siege.

I feel highly indebted to the Exertions of Captains Cruikshanks of the 62d, Jordan of the 27th, and Pringle of the 21st, as well as to the Officers and Men under them.

From Lieutenant Dickons, of the Engineers, I received every Assistance; and my Adjutant, Lieutenant Hadfield, of the 35th, has been throughout indefatigably zealous.

I cannot conclude, Sir, without expressing my particular Thanks to Captain Nicholas, Assistant Quarter-Master-General, whose Abilities and Activity rendered him eminently useful. And I have the Satisfaction of reflecting, that the Support I have received from all Ranks has enabled me to sell Scylla dear; and that General Regnier has obtained Possession of this little Heap of Ruins with the Loss of several Hundreds of his best Troops.

A Return of our Killed and Wounded is annexed. We have lost some gallant Men; but considering the Weight of the Enemy's Fire, the Number is by no Means great.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Commandant Scylla Castle.

Copy of a Letter from Admiral Montagu, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels at Portsmouth and Spithead, to the Honourable W. W. Pole, dated on board the Royal William, at Spithead, the 11th Instant.

SIR,

BE pleased to lay before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the inclosed Letter from Captain the Honourable D. P. Bouverie, of His Majesty's Ship Medusa, stating his having, on the Morning of the 4th Instant, fallen in with and captured L'Actif, French Lugger Privateer.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

GEO. MONTAGU.

His Majesty's Ship Medusa, Dunnofe N. W.

SIR, E. W. 11 Leagues, April 4, 1808.

I HAVE the Honour to inform you, that I have this Morning captured L'Actif, Lugger Privateer, of Dieppe, of Fourteen Guns. There were Two other French Lugger Privateers in Sight at the Time, one of which being very near to Leeward of us, I have every Reason to expect we should have taken, but that it was necessary to examine Four Merchant Vessels, among which the Privateers were when we first saw them: One of these, a Coasting Sloop, we retook; the others had not been boarded by the Privateers.

The Three Privateers left Cherburgh together Yesterday Morning; and last Night took a Coasting Sloop besides the one abovementioned, which we have not seen. L'Actif, as it appears by her Log-Book, has made but one Capture, a Collier Brig, during her different Cruizes in the Channel, since her first Fit out in the Beginning of December last.

I am, &c. (Signed) D. P. BOUVERIE.
