

Servants, and on their judicious Selection of brave and experienced Officers to command your Fleets and Armies.

We consider with Awe, but without Dismay, the insidious Arts, and great political Power, of our inveterate Enemy; but we rely with Confidence on the Protection of Divine Providence, the Piety and Spirit of our good King, and that patriotic Bravery, which has, on all great Occasions, distinguished the Inhabitants of these Islands.

We are convinced that, whenever it can be done with Safety and Honour, your Majesty will feel most anxious to procure for your Subjects the Blessings of Peace: but we are far from being desirous that your Majesty should, for the Purpose of terminating the War, and freeing us from temporary Inconveniences, make Sacrifices incompatible with the Dignity of the British Crown, and our permanent Rights and Security.

We consider the Situation of many of those Nations, which lately ranked among the most powerful in Europe, a clear Proof that Vigour, Vigilance, and Unanimity, are the only effectual Barrier against the restless Ambition, which distinguishes the present Ruler of the French Nation: we therefore think it peculiarly the Duty, at this momentous Crisis, of all your Majesty's loyal Subjects to rally round the Throne. And we humbly, Sire, assure you that it is our Determination to exert all the Power which we possess for the Purpose of supporting your Majesty, during the Progress of the War, in which you are unavoidably engaged, so that the Dignity of your Majesty's Government may remain unimpaired, and we may either die fighting for our Country, or preserve inviolate the Religion, Privileges, and rational Liberty, which we have derived from our Ancestors.

John Humphreys, acting for the Sheriff, Pryce Edwards, Esq.

[Transmitted by Sir Robert Williams Vaughan, Representative in Parliament for the said County of Merioneth.]

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and dutiful Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Carnarvon.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Carnarvon, humbly approach the Throne with renewed Assurances of our unfeigned Attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person, Constitution, and Government.

We retain a deep and unalterable Sense of your Majesty's constant Solicitude and Concern for the essential Interests and Welfare of your People; and while we regret the necessary Continuance of the War, we are confident your Majesty will persevere in the Pursuit of those Objects by which alone the solid Blessings of Peace can be secured. It is with peculiar Gratification that we reflect on the Manner in which the Operations and Designs of your Majesty's Enemies have been impeded; particularly by the very important and decisive Blow directed and struck at a Naval Power in secret Alliance with France; and that wise System of Policy which your Majesty's Ministers have by imperious Necessity been impelled to adopt against certain new and unprecedented Measures of the French Government, to which they are influenced by the vain and arrogant Hope, of our total Subjugation by the Annihilation of our Trade and Commerce.

We have seen with Satisfaction the happy Selection your Majesty has made of your present Ministers, distinguished for Conduct, Zeal, and Abilities equal to the vigorous and persevering Exertions called forth by the powerful Efforts of your Majesty's Enemies.

Deeply impressed with the urgent Necessity for Union and Vigour, and relying with Confidence on the Zeal and Energy of your Majesty's Councils, on the Valour and Resources of the Country, and above all, the incontestible Justice of our Cause; and knowing that on the Issue of the Contest in which we are engaged depends the Maintenance of our Constitution, Laws, and Religion, and the Security of all civil Society, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our most zealous and cordial Support, trusting that, with the Assistance of Divine Providence, the Designs of our most inveterate Enemy may be defeated, and a Peace, consistent with the Safety, Honour, and Security of your Majesty's People, and the Independence of Europe, established.

May that Life, so invaluable to your Subjects and to the World, long, very long, be granted to us; and may every Thing which can contribute to your Majesty's Happiness and Welfare, attend the Remainder of your Majesty's Reign.

Signed at the Request of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Carnarvon, convened at the Shire-Hall, on Wednesday the 20th Day of April 1808.

R. Thos. Carreg, High Sheriff of the County of Carnarvon.
