Navy; nor to prevent any Ship or Vessel from taking or having on board such Quantities of Naval Stores as may be necessary for the Use of such Ship or Vessel during the Course of her intended Voyage, or by Licence from the Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, or the Commissioners of the Admiralty for the Time being; nor to the Exportation of the said several Articles to Ireland, or to His Majesty's Yards or Garrisons, or to His Majesty's Colonies and Plantations in America or the West Indies, or to Newfoundland, or to His Majesty's Forts and Settlements on the Coast of Africa, or to the Island of St. Helena, or to the British Settlements or Factories in the East Indies: Provided that upon the Exportation of any of the said Articles for the Purpose of Trade to Ireland, or to His Majesty's Yards and Garrisons, or to His Majesty's Colonies and Plantations in America or the West Indies, or to the Island of Newfoundland, or to His Majesty's Forts and Settlements on the Coast of Africa, or to the Island of St. Helena, or to the British Settlements or Factories in the East Indies, the Exporters of such Articles do first make Oath of the true Destination of the same to the Places for which they shall be entered outwards, before the Entry of the same shall be made, and do give full and sufficient Security, by Bond, (except as hereinafter excepted,) to the Satisfaction of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs, to carry the said Articles to the Places for which they are so entered outwards, and for the Purposes specified, and none other; and such Bond shall not be cancelled or delivered up until Proof be made to the Satisfaction of the said Commissioners, by the Production, within a Time to be fixed by the said Commissioners, and specified in the Bond, of a Certificate or Certificates, in such Form and Manner as shall be directed by the said Commissioners, shewing that the said Articles have been all duly landed at the Places for which they were entered outwards: But it is His Majesty's Pleasure, nevertheless, that the following Articles, viz. Bar-Iron, White and Tarred Rope, Tallow or Mill Grease, Tarpaulins for Waggon-Covers, Pitch, Tar, and Turpentine, shall be permitted to be exported, upon Payment of the proper Duties, without Bond being entered into by the Merchant Exporter, to any of the British Plantations in the West Indies, or to any of His Majesty's Settlements in South America; provided the Merchant Exporter shall first verify, upon Oath, that the Articles so exported are intended for the Use of a particular Plantation or Settlement, to be named in the Entry Outwards, and not for Sale; and that the said Plantation or Settlement has not before been furnished with any Supply of the said Articles during the same Season; and provided also that the Exportation of the said Articles shall in no Case, exceed the Value of Fifty Pounds Sterling for any given Plantation or Settlement, whether by one or more Shipments within the same Season: And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, and the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, are to give the necessary Directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Admiralty-Office, February 4, 1809.

Copy of a Letter from Rear-Admiral the Honourable Sir Alexander Cochrane, K. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels at the Leeward Islands, to the Honourable W. W. Pole, dated on board the Neptune, at Barbadoes, 19th December, 1808.

SIR,

I INCLOSE, for the Information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the Copy of a Letter which I have received from Captain Collier, of His Majesty's Ship Circe, the senior Officer of the blockading Squadron stationed from the Diamond to the Pearl Rocks, Martinique, giving an Account of the Destruction of the French Corvette Le Cygne, which had sailed from Cherbourg on the 12th November, with the Papillon, another Corvette, and La Verjus, La Junon, and L'Amphitrite Frigates.

In performing this Service I am sorry to send the inclosed Report of the Loss which has been sustained by the several Vessels engaged, owing to the Corvette having been supported by the Batteries, Field-Pieces, and Musketry from the Shore, in her Attempt to reach St. Pierre's; but the Object is fully accomplished, as she is bilged in such a Situation as to render it impossible to recover the Vessel, or the Flour with which she was loaded. One of the Schooners in Company with her was burnt, and the other drove on Shore and destroyed; each of them also having been loaded with Flour and Provisions.

Captain Collier deserves great Praise for his Perseverance in overcoming the Obstacles which the Enemy presented by the numerous Batteries which lined the Shore in that Part of the Coast; and he speaks in the highest Terms of Captain Brenton of the Amaranthe, as well as of the Gallantry and good Conduct of Lieutenant Wright, and a Party of the Royal York Rangers, who were serving as Marines.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) ALEX. COCHRANE.

His Majesty's Ship Circe, off St. Pierre's, Martinique, December 14, 1808.

ON Monday, at Eleven A. M., His Majesty's Brig Morne Fortunée informed me by Signal that an Enemy's Brig and Two Schooners were at Anchor off the Pearl. I immediately recalled the lookout Vessels named as per Margin *, and made all Sail towards the Enemy. On our nearing St. Pierre's, I perceived a large French Schooner towing along Shore, under Cover of a Number of Troops. The Schooner finding it impossible to get between St. Pierre's and the Circe, the Stork closing fast, they ran her on Shore under a Battery of Four Guns, flanked by Two smaller ones, and the Beach lined with Troops. The Signal was then made to close with the Enemy, and engage in Succession, the Circe leading, followed by the Stork and Morne Fortunée; being within Pistol-shot the small Batteries were soon silenced, and the Troops driven from the Beach. Seeing the Brig and Schooner unloading, I directed the Morne Fortunée to watch the Schooner in Shore, and to give similar Orders to the Epervier on her coming up. We then made Sail towards the Brig and the other Schooner, which were lying well to Windward close to the Beach, under Cover of Four Batteries and an immense Number of Troops and Field Pieces, which they had brought down on the Beach to protect her. Having placed the Barge and Two Cutters under the Command of Lieutenant Crook, Mr. Collman, Purser, Mr. Smith, Master, and Mr. Thomas, Carpenter, who handsomely volunteered with Sixty-eight Men to bring the Brig out, I then made Sail with the Stork and Express towards her, and directed the Boats to lay off until the Brig's Fire slackened. It getting late, the Vessels lying close in with the Rocks, and having no Pilot on board, I stood in, and was handsomely seconded by Captain Le Geyt of the Stork. The Ships did not commence Action until our Men were wounded from the Beach with Musketry. We then bore up under a heavy Fire of great Guns and small Arms. Having passed the Batteries and Brig, the Circe's Boats not waiting for the Stork's to come up, boarded in the most gallant Manner; and it is with extreme Concern I have to add, that their Gallantry did not meet with its Reward; they were beat back with dreadful Slaughter; one Boat taken and one sunk, the other entirely disabled. Our Loss in the Boats are killed, wounded, and missing, Fifty-six. By this Time it was Dark; I stood off until Daylight, determining to persevere and destroy the Brig if possible. In the Evening I was joined by the Amaranthe, who watched the Brig during the Night.

At Eight A. M. we perceived she had weighed; Captain Brenton, in the most handsome Manner, volunteering to bring her out, she was then towing and sweeping close in Shore towards St. Pierre's; the Boats of the Circe and Stork, and Men from the Express, were sent to tow the Amaranthe up, who was at this Time sweeping and using every Exertion to close with the Enemy. At Ten, the French Brig grounded near several Batteries, to the Northward of St. Pierre's; the Amaranthe tacked and worked in under a heavy Fire from the Batteries and Brig, from which she suffered considerably, having One killed and Five wounded, followed by the Circe, the Rest of the Squadron engaging the Batteries to Leeward. From the Amaranthe's well directed Fire, she soon obliged them to quit the Brig. Lieutenant Hay, of the Amaranthe, on this

* Stork, Epervier, and Express.

Service distinguished himself very much, and speaks of the Gallantry of Messrs. Brooke and Rigmaiden, of the same Sloop, in very handsome Terms, who, with the Boats of the Circe, Amaranthe, and Stork, boarded her under a heavy Fire from the Batteries and Troops on Shore. Lieutenant Hay, finding her bilged and impossible to get her off, effectually destroyed her in the Evening. Captain Brenton again volunteered to destroy the Schooner then on Shore; I ordered Lieutenant George Robinson, Second of the Amaranthe, but Acting First of the Circe, with my Order, on this Occasion, to follow the Directions of Captain Brenton. At Nine o'Clock I had the Pleasure to see her on Fire, and burnt to the Water's Edge. I am sorry to add, that on this Service, Mr. Jones, Master of the Amaranthe, was wounded; and One Seaman killed, and Three wounded, belonging to the Exprels.

The Captains, Officers, and Crews of the Squadron you did me the Honour to place under my Command, behaved with that Coolness and Intrepidity inherent in British Seamen, particularly the Amaranthe, whose gallant Conduct was noticed by the whole Squadron. From the Troops of the Royal York Rangers, under the Command of Lieutenant Wright, doing Duty as Marines, I received every Assistance. Lieutenant Crook, who commanded the Boats, I am sorry to say, is severely wounded in Four Places; the Loss of this gallant young Man's Services are severely felt on board the Circe. I am likewise sorry to add, that Mr. Coleman, Purser, is among the Number that is dangerously wounded; his Conduct on this, and other Occasions, deserves my warmest Approbation.

On boarding, we discovered the Brig destroyed was the La Cygne, of Eighteen Guns and One Hundred and Forty Men, with Flour, Guns, and Cartridge-Paper, for the Relief of Martinique. The Two Schooners had likewise Flour, and were armed; I have not yet learnt their Force or Names; I am happy to say, that the one left off the Pearl is on Shore bilged.

In the Performance of this Service, our Loss in killed and wounded, I am sorry to say, has been very great; but I have the Consolation to think, that it was in the Execution of an indispensable Duty; and the grand Object of cutting off the Supplies of the Enemy, will, I trust, justify the Means which I have adopted, if not afford a small Consolation to the Relatives of those who fell.

I have the Honour to be, &c.
