WHEREAS His Majesty was pleased, by His Order in Council of the Twenty-sixth of April last, to declare certain Ports and Places of the Countries which have been lately styled the Kingdom of Holland, to be subject to the Restrictions incident to a strict and rigorous Blockade, as continued from His Majesty's former Order of the Eleventh of November One thousand eight hundred and seven; and whereas Advices have been received of a certain provisional Agreement entered into by His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary in America, with the Government of the United States, whereby it is understood that His Majesty's Orders in Council of the Seventh of January and of the Eleventh of November One thousand eight hundred and seven, shall be withdrawn so far as respects the United States, on the Tenth of June next.

And whereas, although the said Provisional Agreement is not such as was authorized by His Majesty's Instructions, or such as His Majesty can approve, it may already have happened, or may happen, that Persons being Citizens of the said United States may be led by a Reliance on the said Provisional Agreement, to engage in Trade with and to the said Ports and Places of Holland, contrary to, and in violation of the Restrictions imposed by the said Orders of the Seventh of January and of the Eleventh of November One thousand eight hundred and seven, as altered by the Order of the Twenty-sixth of April last; His Majesty, in order to prevent any Inconveniences that may ensue from the Circumstance above recited, is pleased, by and with the Advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered. And His Majesty is pleased further to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said several Orders or the Seventh of January and Eleventh of November One thousand eight hundred and seven, as altered by the said Order of the Twenty-sixth of April last, shall also be suspended, so far as is necessary for the Protection of Vessels of the said United States which shall clear out, to any Ports not declared to be under the Restriction of Blockade from any Port of Holland between the Ninth Day of June and the First Day of July next; provided always, that nothing that is contained in the present Order shall extend, or be construed to extend, to protect any Vessels or their Cargoes, that may be liable to Condemnation or De-

Downing-Street, June 2, 1809.

ADISPATCH, of which the following is a Copy, has been received from Lieutenant-General Sir George Beckwith, K. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in the Leeward Islands, by Lord Viscount Castlereagh, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Fort Royal, Martinique,

My Lord,

April 20, 1809.

THE French Squadron, consisting of Three Sail of the Line and Two Frigates, from L'Orient, having taken Shelter in the Saints, in the Vicinity of Guadaloupe, where they were blockaded by Rear-Admiral Sir Alexander Cochrane with a superior Force, I detached a Corps, of between Two and Three Thousand Men, under the Command of Major-General Maitland, to co-operate with the Navy in the Reduction of those Islands, to destroy or capture the Ships of the Enemy, or to force them to Sea.

I have the Satisfaction to report to your Lordship, for His Majesty's Information, that after Three Days of great Toil and most active Service, the Forts were reduced, and the Troops surrendered Prisoners of War.

The French Ships of the Line pushed to Sea early on the Night of the 14th; on the 16th the Admiral was within Four Miles of them, and, I trust, will be enabled to bring them to close Action.

I have the Honour to inclose the Major-General's Report upon the honourable Termination of this Service; and I beg Leave to recommend to His Majesty's favourable Consideration, the meritorious Services of this General Officer, not only in the present Intiance, where he held a distinct Command, but for his general good Conduct during the whole Campaign.

The Officers of all Ranks have done their Duty in an exemplary Manner, and the Troops employed upon this Service have maintained that Superiority which has distinguished this Army during the whole Series of our Operations since our Departure from Barbadoes.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) GEO. BECKWITH.

The Right Hon. Lord Viscount Castlereagh, &c. &c. &c.

SIR, Camp, at the Saints, April 18, 1809.

I HAVE the Honour to transmit you a Report of the Proceedings of His Majesty's Troops detached for the Reduction of the Saints.

We sailed from Fort Royal Bay on the 12th; Captain Beaver, of His Majesty's Ship Acasta, who was Commodore of the Division, left the Squadron under Charge of Captain Carthew, of His Majesty's Ship Gloire, and went forward to meet Rear-Admiral Sir Alexander Cochrane. The 13th was passed in examining the Enemy's Positions, and in making Arrangements.

The Disembarkation was fixed to be at Six o'clock in the Morning of the 14th, but a bad Night separated our Ships. By Ten they were collected.
Soon after the Acasta led in, through a very narrow Channel which was buoyed on each Side. The Gloire, Narcissus, and Circe followed; the Intrepid about an Hour after, but the Dolphin not until next Day. His Majesty's Ships anchored opposite to the little Bay Bois Joly. The Landing was meant to have been at the next to the Eastward, called Ance Vanovre. As much Time, it was then seen, would be lost by persevering to go to Ance Vanovre, because the Boats would have had a long Row against Wind and Current, we landed at Ance Bois Joly;
a secure Landing, though a stony Beach, protected by the Fire of the Frigates. We experienced no Opposition, except a Cannonade from the Iflet of Cabrit, the Guns of which fired over the Ridge among the Shipping.

When advanced to the first Ridge, we found the Enemy occupied the great Mountain which is above Eight hundred Feet high, called Mount Ruffel.
This was immediately on our Right, nor could we advance. The Rifle Companies of the 3d and of the 4th Battalions 60th Regiment were ordered to dislodge the Enemy. The Exertion of these Companies under Captains Dolling and Lupton was great; the Ascent no less steep than an Angle of Fifty Degrees, covered with Bush and prickly Pears, they most gallantly effected the Service, and drove back the Enemy who suffered considerably. The Rifle Companies were supported to their Right by the Flank Companies of the 3d West India Regiment and One Company of the Royal York Rangers led by Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, Deputy Adjutant-General, whom I detached for this Service. We had now a strong Position. Before us were the Enemy's three Forts, showing stout Garrisons, and Three Line of Battle Ships, and Two Frigates in the Harbour. The large Ships very full of Men. We found, however, we could not advance without being flanked on our Left by the Fort on Isle de Cabrit. Two Eight-Inch Howitzers were immediately landed, a Battery quickly constructed by Lieutenant Hobbs of the Royal Engineers. Brigadier-General Stehelin of the Royal Artillery and all his Officers and Men were most strenuous, and before Six that Evening our Battery opened on the Enemy's Squadron at a very fair Distance. About an Hour after there were Indications that the French Squadron was about to push out, and by Eight it was not doubtful. Not a Moment was lost; Captain De Courcy of the Quarter-Master-General's Department was sent by me to Captain Beaver of the Acasta, and we fired Six Rockets from a Headland at Five Minutes interval, being the signal fixed on by the Admiral. About Ten at Night, the Three French Line of Battle Ships were seen to go through the windward Passage. Next Morning, the 15th Instant, the Intrepid was the only Line of Battle Ship in Sight.

The Difficulty of advancing on the West Side of the Island, forced us to re-embark the greater Part of our Troops, to land at Ance Vanovre, but as the Enemy occupied a strong and commanding Position on the East Side of this Bay, Lieutenant-Colonel Prescott, with the Flank Companies of the 3d West India Regiment, and the Two Rifle Companies of the 60th, and Major Henderson with the Reserve, were ordered to descend from Morne Ruffel to protect the Landing, and to dislodge the Enemy. This was well executed, and we gained a favourable Position; whence our Mortars could reach Fort Napoleon at a proper Distance, as well as the Fort on the Islet. A Mortar Battery of Two Thirteen-Inch, and Four Ten-Inch was immediately begun, and carried on with unremitted Exertions;—all our Men volunteering every Labour. Between the Enemy's Forts Napoleon and Morelle, and us, was a Middle Ridge, which was on the Back of the Town, and held by the Enemy. On the Night of 15th, a strong Picquet of the Enemy's was surprised by Two Companies of the Royal York Rangers, commanded by Captain Starke, and Lieutenant White. The French had One Officer and Seventeen Men bayoneted, and Twelve Prisoners were brought away. This Affair was highly creditable to the Officers named. The Night following we determined to occupy the Middle Ridge, and confine the Enemy within his Works. Major Alen was ordered with the Two Flank Companies of the 3d West India, and a Flank Company of the 8th West India for this Service,—he was supported by Part of the Royal York Rangers under Major Henderson. The Position was taken up without Opposition, but about Eight next Morning the Enemy advanced from Forts Napoleon and Morelle to recover this Ground. A sharp Action took place, the whole of the York Rangers, and the Rifle Companies of the 60th, supporting our Black Troops. The Ground lay open in great Part to the Grape Shot from Forts Napoleon and Morelle, and to Round Shot from Islet de Cabrit; but all our Troops were undaunted;—none were more brave or active than the Flank Companies of the 3d West India Regiment, and a Flank Company of the 8th West India under Major Alen. The Enemy was driven back with Loss, and our Possession of the Ground completely secured. On this Occasion our Loss was about Thirty Men, killed and wounded.

I omitted to say that the Two French Frigates, both landed with Flour, took their Chance of escaping on the Forenoon of the 15th. They went through the Windward Passage, keeping a little from the Wind to gain the Shore of Guadeloupe. The leading Frigate was engaged by His Majesty's Ship Intrepid. This Frigate however doubled the Point of Vieux Fort, was followed by the other, and both escaped into Basse Terre.

About the Middle of the Day, Yesterday the 17th, the French Commandant, Colonel Madier, sent a Flag of Truce to enter into Terms. They expected what we would not concede, and they submitted to what we were willing to grant. They are Prisoners of War.

I understand their Number to be from Seven to Eight Hundred; of this Number, Six Hundred were landed by the French Squadron.

We are to take Possession of the Forts this Evening at Four o'Clock. The French Troops will be immediately embarked, and I shall proceed to carry the Remainder of your Orders into Execution without Loss of Time. But I must not conclude my Report without doing Justice to the Merits of those whom I have been so happy as to command.

The Navy have most cordially supported us. Captain Beaver of His Majesty's Ship Acasta, has increased that Character which I know his Conduct at Bay Robert, Martinique, in your Presence gained him. His Arrangement and Presence of Mind render him particularly qualified for joint Operations. Captain Cathew of the Gloire, and Captain Malcolm of the Narcissus, also merit the warmest Acknowledgment: and I am also much obliged to the Honourable Captain Bertie of His Majesty's Ship Dart, who acted on Shore.

The Royal Artillery under Brigadier General Stehelin, have continued their usual spirited Manner. If the Enemy had not capitulated Yesterday, we should have opened a fine Battery of Six Mortars; and I am certain from what happened at Martinique, our Artillery would have given them enough of it in One Night.

To Lieutenant Colonel Rial 15th Regiment, I with Pleasure acknowledge the Assistance I have received from him. He tantalized me with an Offer to take Fort Morelli by Assault with the 15th Regiment the Morning of Yesterday during the Action. Lieutenant Colonel Prevost deserves equal good Report. Major Henderson who commands the Reserve is a true Soldier; and Major Alen, 3d West India Regiment, gallantly led his black Troops.

The Staff have all been active. Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, Deputy Adjutant-General, has been always forward; he is an Officer who must rise from his Merit.

The Honourable Captain de Courcy, of the Quarter-Master-General's Department, has shewn an Activity and Exertion which does him great Credit, and proves him to be an Officer for Service. Lieutenant Hobbs, Royal Engineers, yields to no one in Work, and is an admirable Officer for a Service of this Nature.

The Medical Department has been ably conducted by Doctor Burke.

I have been much assisted by Colonel Soler, the Royalist, a Man inflexible in Loyalty.

My Aide-de-Camp, Captain Taynton, 64th Regiment, will have the Honour to deliver this Dispatch to you; he has been many Years with me; I wish I could get him the Promotion his Merit deserves.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) F. MAITLAND, Maj. Gen.,
His Excellency Lieutenant-General Beckwith, Commander of the Forces.

P. S. I inclose the necessary Returns. There are Fourteen Pieces of Artillery and Four Mortars; Eighteen in all in Fort Napoleon alone.

Downing-Street, June 2, 1809.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is a Copy, was this Day received by Lord Viscount Castlereagh, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Lieutenant-General the Right Honourable Sir Arthur Wellesley, K. B.

My Lord, Monte Alegre, May 18, 1809.

WHEN I determined upon the Expedition to the North of Portugal, against Marshall Soult, I was in hopes that the Portuguese General

Silveira, would be able to hold his Post upon the Tamaga, till he should be reinforced; by which, and by the Possession of Chaves, the Enemy's Retreat would have been cut off, excepting across the Minho; and I intended, if successful, to press him so hard, that the Passage of that River would have been impracticable.

The Loss of the Bridge of Amaranthe, however, on the 2d instant, altered our Prospects: I had no hopes that Marshall Beresford, who marched towards the Upper Part of the Douro on the Fifth, and arrived at Lamego on the Tenth, would be able to effect more than confine the Enemy on that Side, and oblige him to retire by Chaves into Galicia, rather than by Villa Real into Castile.

General Beresford, however, having obliged the Enemy's Posts at Villa Real, and Maisan Frio to fall back with some Loss, and having crossed the Douro, drove in General Loisons Out-Posts at the Bridge of Amaranthe; and again acquired Possession of the left Bank of the Tamaga on the Twelfth, the Day on which the Corps under my Command forced the Passage of the Douro at Oporto.

Loison retired from Amaranthe on the Morning of the 13th, as soon as he had heard of the Events at Oporto of the preceding Day, and met the advanced Guard of the French Army at a short Distance from the Town, which General Beresford immediately occupied.

I was unable to commence the Pursuit of the Enemy till the Morning of the 13th, when the Hanoverian Legion moved to Valonga, under Major-General Murray. On that Evening, I was informed that the Enemy had in the Morning destroyed a great Proportion of his Cannon in the Neighbourhood of Penafiel, and had directed his March towards Braga.

This appeared to be the probable Result of the Situation in which he found himself, in consequence of General Beresford's Operations upon the Tamaga; and as soon as I had ascertained that the Fact was true, I marched on the Morning of the 14th with the Army in two Columns towards the River Minho.

At the same Time I directed General Beresford upon Chaves, in case the Enemy should turn to his Right; and Major-General Murray to communicate with General Beresford, if he should find, as reported, that Loison remained in the Neighbourhood of Amaranthe.

On the Evening of the 14th, I was certain from the Movements of the Enemy's Detachments in the Neighbourhood of Braga, that he intended to direct his Retreat upon Chaves on Monte Alegre; and directed General Beresford, in case of the latter Movement, to push on for Monterey, so as to stop the Enemy, if he should pass by Villa de Rey.

General Beresford had anticipated my Orders to march his own Corps upon Chaves, and had already sent General Silveira to occupy the Passes of Rivaes and Melgasley near Salamonde, but he was unfortunately too late.

I arrived at Braga on the 15th, (General Murray being at Guimaraens, and the Enemy about Fifteen Miles in our Front) and at Salamonde on the Sixteenth.

We had there an Affair with their Rear Guard. The Guards under Lieutenant-General Sherbrooke, and Brigadier General Campbell attacked their Position; and having turned their Left Flank by the Heights, they abandoned it, leaving a Gun and some Prisoners behind them. This Attack was necessarily made at a late Hour in the Evening.

On the Seventeenth, we moved to Ruivae (waiting to see whether the Enemy would turn upon Chaves, or continue his Retreat upon Monte Alegre) and on the Eighteenth to this Place.

I here found that he had taken a Road through the Mountains towards Orense, by which it would be difficult, if not impossible, for me to overtake him, and on which I had no Means of stopping him.

The Enemy commenced this Retreat, as I have informed your Lordship, by destroying a great Proportion of his Guns and Ammunition. He afterwards destroyed the Remainder of both, and a great Proportion of his Baggage, and kept nothing excepting what the Soldiers or a few Mules could carry. He has left behind him his Sick and Wounded; and the Road from Penafiel to Monte Alegre is strewed with the Carcasses of Horses and Mules, and French Soldiers, who were put to Death by the Peasantry before our Advanced Guard could save them.

This last Circumstance is the natural Effect of the Species of Warfare which the Enemy have carried on in this Country.

Their Soldiers have plundered and murdered the Peasantry at their Pleasure; and I have seen many Persons hanging in the Trees by the Sides of the Road, executed for no Reason that I could learn, excepting that they have not been friendly to the French Invasion and Usurpation of the Government of their Country; and the Route of their Column on their Retreat could be traced by the Smoke of the Villages to which they set Fire.

We have taken about Five Hundred Prisoners. Upon the whole the Enemy has not lost less than a Fourth of his Army, and all his Artillery and Equipments, since we attacked him upon the Yonga.

I hope your Lordship will believe that no Measure which I could take was omitted to intercept the Enemy's Retreat. It is obvious, however, that if an Army throws away all its Cannon, Equipments, and Baggage, and every Thing which can strengthen it, and can enable it to act together as a Body, and abandon all those who are entitled to its Protection, but add to its Weight and impede its Progress, it must be able to march by Roads through which it cannot be followed with any Prospect of being overtaken by an Army which has not made the same Sacrifices.

It is impossible to say too much of the Exertions of the Troops. The Weather has been very bad indeed. Since the Thirteenth, the Rain has been constant, and the Roads in this difficult Country almost Impracticable. But they have persevered in the Pursuit to the last, and have been generally on their March from Day-light in the Morning till Dark.

The Brigade of Guards were at the Head of the Column, and set a laudable Example; and in the Affair with the Enemy's Rear Guard on the Evening of the 16th, they conducted themselves remarkably well.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Rowley, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels at Jamaica, to the Honourable W. W. Pole, dated at Port-Royal, April 7, 1809.

SIR,

BY the inclosed Copy of a Letter which I have received from Captain Digby; of His Majesty's Ship Argo, their Lordships will be made acquainted with the Capture of a French National Felucca under Circumstances that are highly creditable to the Coolness and Gallantry of Lieutenant Charles Flower and his Associates in the Enterprize.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) B. W. ROWLEY.

His Majesty's Ship Argo, Causedo Bay, 10th March 1809.

SIR,

IT is with much Pleasure I acquaint you of the Capture of that notorious French National Felucca Joseph, of One Brass Nine-Pounder Gun and Two Three-Pounders, commanded by Jean Botin, Ensign de Vaisseau, and manned with Fifty-three Men, cut out last Night from under the Batteries of St. Domingo by the Eight-oared Cutter, Yawl, and Gig of this Ship, manned by Volunteers, and commanded by Mr. Charles Fraser, Second Lieutenant.

The Felucca was fast by Two Hawfers on Shore; and they were in the act of warping her closer in when she was gallantly boarded and carried under a very heavy Fire of Grape and Musketry from the Vessel, and the whole Range of Batteries.

I lament to say we had Seven Men wounded; amongst the Number Lieutenant Coryton, of the Royal Marines, in Four different Places; he is however, with the rest, likely to do well.

Lieutenant Fraser speaks in very high Terms of Praise of the Conduct of the whole; but has particularly mentioned the Aid he received from Lieutenant Coryton, as likewise Mr. John Moore, Master's Mate, Mr. John Wilson, Midshipman, and Mr. Henry Morris, Master's Mate of the Sparrow.

Most of the Enemy finding Resistance vain, saved themselves by jumping overboard; only Nineteen have fallen into our Hands.

It appears to me that this Enterprize has been conducted with great Coolness and Gallantry. I herewith send a List of the Wounded.

I am, &c.

(Signed) S. T. DIGBY, Captain.

Vice-Admiral Rowley, &c. &c. &c.

Lieutenant J. R. Coryton, Royal Marines.
