To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the President and Fellows of Sion College, within the City of London.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the President and Fellows of Sion College, the incorporated Body of the Clergy of London, impressed with the deepest Sense of the Blessings we have long enjoyed under your Majesty's auspicious Government, do humbly beg leave to approach your royal Presence with Congratulations, expressive of that firm Attachment, which animates every loyal Breast; expressive also of that general Joy occasioned by your Majesty's entering on the Fistieth Year of your Reign.

Convinced of the inestimable Blessings, civil and religious, which, under your Majesty's mild and paternal Government we have always enjoyed, we are anxious to unite in the public Service of the approaching Anniversary, to supplicate the Father of Mercies that your Majesty may long continue to reign over us, and that the Number of your Years, like those of the pious Hezekiah, through the Favour of indulgent Heaven, may still be extended.

We desire to be for ever thankful to Almighty God, who, when his Judgments have gone forth, and surrounding Nations have felt the Chastisements of his Rod, has manifested his Mercies towards us his favoured People, and, while he has warned us of our Danger, has enabled us to escape it. To his overruling Providence we ascribe those signal Successes, which have repeatedly crowned our Enterprizes, by which the Tide of Commerce has been turned to our Advantage, new Avenues have been opened to Wealth and Prosperity, and the proud Invader's Vaunts have hitherto ended in Disappointment.

Vaunts have hitherto ended in Disappointment.

While we return our unseigned Thanks to the Father of Mercies, and the Supreme Disposer of all Events, for these special Marks of his divine Superintendance, we are zealous to pour forth our Supplications before him, beseeching him to continue to our beloved Sovereign Health and every other Blessing, and that your Majesty may be spared to see the good Effects of your Councils and Measures for the Restoration of Peace to the distracted World, and the Preservation of the Church of Christ established among us.

Given at Sion College under our Common Seal, this 19th Day of October, in the Year of our Lord 1809.

Henry Meen, B. D. President of Sion College. [Received from the President and Dean of Sion-College.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of New Sarum, in Common-Council assembled, beg Leave to tender to your Majesty our most humble Congratulations on the Commencement of the Fistieth Year of your Reign.

Among the most figual Benefits which the Divine Providence confers on a favoured Nation, is the Government of a Sovereiga, under whom the Laws are faithfully administered, and the national Rights protected; and by whom a personal Example is emiently set, of Religion and Morality; that Blessing, during your Majesty's Reign, it is our highest Gratification to acknowledge:

It would be want of Gratitude towards the Supreme Being with respect to the past, it would be want of Wisdom towards ourselves with respect to the future, to withhold our ardent Prayers for a long Continuance of your Majesty's facred Life; as, from Experience, we are induced thence to infer, with humble Confidence, a Continuance of domestic Blessings to your People, gratefully, faithfully, and zealously attached to your Majesty, and to your Royal House.

Given, under our Common Seal, the 25th Day of October, in the 50th Year of your Majelty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord 1809.

[Transmitted by the Mayor of Salisbury.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Exeter, in Chamber affembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Exeter, approach the Throne, with our warmest Congratulations, on your Majesty's entering into the Fistieth Year of your Reign.

On this interesting Day, one universal Sentiment of Gratitude to the Supreme Disposer of all Events, fills the Minds of your Majesty's Subjects, that it hath been his good Pleasure to listen to the Prayers of your People, and to prolong your Majesty's Lifeto this extended Period; and we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that there are none who can retain a more sincere and assectionate Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family, or can be more sensible of the Blessings which have been enjoyed under your Majesty's Government, than your faithful and loyal Citizens of Exeter.

Your Majesty's exemplary Virtues in private Life, and your unremitting Zeal for the public Welfare, during a long and arduous Reign, marked by great and extraordinary Events, have justly endeared your Majesty to all Ranks of your People, who cannot but restect with Pride and Satisfaction, that under the Guidance of your Majesty's Counsels, and by the Spirit and Energy of your People, this happy Country stands unshaken, and liberally exerts its Power and Resources to rescue the Nations around us from Tyranny and Oppression.

May your Majesty's most valuable Life, under the Blessing of Providence be still prolonged for many Years to come; and in the course of Time, when it shall be the Will of Heaven to take your Majesty from us, may the Throne of these Realms, which your Majesty has so worthily silled, be delivered down through succeeding Ages to your Majesty's Posterity, who may imitate your Virtues and follow your Example.

Given under our Common Seal, at a Chamber holden at the Guildhall of the City of Exeter, on Wednesday the 25th Day of October, in the Fiftieth Year of His Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord 1809.

[Transmitted by Edward Upham, Esq. the Mayor of Exeter.].
