

signally protected your Majesty amidst the unexampled Difficulties of a long and arduous Reign. Under Divine Providence, your Royal Person has been shielded from Harm, and your Majesty's People have been indulged with the Blessing of a Monarch whose private Virtues are most illustrious, and whose public Measures have ever been determined by the Law of the Land, and an affectionate Regard for the best Interests of your Majesty's Inge Subjects.

The People of the United Kingdom, amidst the Desolation of continental Europe, amidst the Wreck of States, the Destruction of Constitutions, and the wanton Subversion of venerable Establishments, count themselves happy under the mild Sway of their beloved Monarch. Liberty continues to be their Boast; Justice is impartially administered; Property is secure; Commerce flourishes; the Arts are cultivated, and are rising into Maturity Day by Day; the Manufactories of our Country, and the Produce of our Colonies are in Request throughout the World; the Resources of this Realm are incalculably great; and we are confident that its Vigour and Energy will be commensurate with any Exigency which may occur.

These Results arise out of the Government of the best of Kings. We revere your Majesty, and we are proud of the Name of Britons; seeing the Credit of our Country unshaken, and knowing that it is deemed the only secure Depository of the Wealth of Nations.

Long may your Majesty continue to reign enthroned in our Hearts, and King of our best Affections. The Eyes of the civilized World are turned to you with Admiration; your Majesty is dear to Mankind; but by no Class of Men are your Virtues public and private more highly prized than by your Majesty's most faithful Subjects, and Servants, the Magistrates of the Liberties of the Tower of London, and the Deputy Lieutenants of the Tower Hamlets—Signed November 17th 1809.

Dan. Williams, Chairman of the Session of the Magistrates, and of the Deputy Lieutenants of the Tower Hamlets.

[Presented by Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Daniel Williams, Knt. of Hackney, Middlesex, Chairman.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Town of Dock and Parish of Stoke Damerel, in the County of Devon.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town of Dock and Parish of Stoke Damerel, duly impressed with Sentiments of the most profound Respect, Attachment, and Allegiance, beg to approach your Throne, to offer our most heartfelt Congratulations on your Majesty's Entrance into the Fiftieth Year of your Reign. The History of Europe for many Years past most abundantly testifies the innumerable Causes for our most grateful Acknowledgments for being placed by Providence as Subjects of your Majesty in this favoured Kingdom. Whilst other Nations have been devoted to arbitrary and illegal Dominion, God has preserved to us, under your Majesty's paternal Care, our lawful Liberties and Properties, by an equitable and well constituted Government. And among other national Blessings, the Almighty Ruler of the Universe has, by his invincible Arm, shielded and preserved your Majesty's most valuable Life through a long and arduous Reign, and it is with the utmost Exultation we reflect that your Majesty still reigns, and in that most stable of all Thrones, the Hearts of a free and affectionate People.

We beg to assure your Majesty of our feeling truly sensible, that under your mild and auspicious Government, civil and religious Liberty have fixed their Seat in this Kingdom, and fixed it on a Basis not to be subverted by the Instruments of Despotism, or undermined by the Intrigues of Faction.

It is here our most holy Religion is cherished and protected: that equal, wise, and good Laws are established; that the Poor, when incapable of the Exertions of honest Industry, are entitled to Relief by the Laws of the Country; it is here that our Fathers enjoyed social Freedom and social Happiness; that we ourselves have inherited and enjoyed them, and, with the Blessing of Heaven on our Exertions, it is here we will bequeath them to our Posterity.

We most earnestly beg to renew our Expressions of Regard and Attachment towards your Majesty's August Person and Family, and implore a long Continuance of your Majesty's Reign over a loyal, dutiful and happy People.

Dated at the Town Hall, this 25th Day of October 1809.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Portreeve, Aldermen, and Burgessees of the Borough of Lougher, in the County of Glamorgan, in Common Hall assembled this 25th Day of October 1809, do most humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty's Throne, and present our unfeigned Congratulations on the joyful Event of the Fiftieth Anniversary of your Majesty's Coronation; and at the same Time to assure your Majesty, that we shall always feel it our Duty to promote the Prosperity of your Majesty's Royal House, and to support whatever Measures may be adopted towards the Security of your Majesty's Person and Dominions, and for the Furtherance of a speedy and honourable Peace.

And at the same Time that we are offering up our Thanks and Praises to the Almighty for the Happiness we at present enjoy under your Majesty's mild and equitable Government, we fervently pray that your Majesty may yet be preserved many Years to sit on the Throne of your august Ancestors to the Prosperity of the Realm and the Happiness of your Majesty's loyal Subjects, who have in your Majesty a Defender of their Liberties, a Preserver of Piety and Virtue, and an Upholder of all the valuable Privileges they at present enjoy.

For myself, the Aldermen, and Burgessees of the Borough of Lougher, in the County of Glamorgan.
Henry Harry, Portreeve.
