

Subjects on your attaining the Fiftieth Year of your Reign.

Revering your private Virtues, and participating with all our Fellow-subjects in the Blessings of your mild and just Government, we esteem the gracious Protection afforded to your Majesty by Divine Providence during your long and arduous Reign, as demanding the sincere Gratitude of all your loyal Subjects. But when we look around on the Revolutions and the Subversion of so many mighty Empires, and contrast with their Distresses our own Safety and Prosperity; when we contemplate the Extent of our Commerce, our Improvements in Agriculture and Manufactures, our Advancement in the Arts and Sciences, the growing Opulence of the Country, and the Enlargement of our national Resources, we can not but feel peculiar Exultation, and must acknowledge that peculiar Thankfulness should animate the Breast of every Inhabitant of these favoured Kingdoms.

Convinced that all our Prosperity depends, under God, upon the Stability of the Constitution, and the Preservation of those civil and religious Rights and Liberties, which your august House were called defend, we feel ourselves attached, by the strongest Ties, to your Majesty, their uniform and faithful Guardian.

Nor can we forget the Blessings conferred, during your Majesty's beneficent Reign, on your distant Dominions; nor the Justice and Humanity exercised towards other Quarters of the Globe. These will form an Æra not to be forgotten in History amidst the awful and portentous Events of the present Period.

That your Majesty's valuable Life may be prolonged for many Years, and that your Reign may be attended with Peace, Happiness, and Glory to your Majesty, to the Royal Family, to the Nation whom you govern, and to the human Race, is the sincere Prayer, may it please your Majesty, of your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the President and Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh.

Signed in their Name, and by their Appointment, at their Hall in Edinburgh, the Seal of the College being affixed, November 13th 1809, Charles Stuart, President.

[Transmitted by Dr. Charles Stuart, President of the Royal College of Physicians Edinburgh]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty.

WE, the Members of the Provincial Synod of Lothian and Tweeddale, sharing cordially in the Joy which our Fellow-subjects have expressed on the Fiftieth Anniversary of your Majesty's Accession to the Throne, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with the humble Tribute of your Gratitude and Attachment.

Deeply impressed with a Sense of the Blessings which we have enjoyed under your Majesty's mild and equitable Reign, more especially of the paternal Solicitude with which your Majesty hath watched over the best Interests of your People, in supporting, by the Influence of your Example, and the most affectionate Protection, the Ordinances of our holy Faith; we bless God, whom we serve, that he hath so long preserved to us a King, whom the Remembrance of so many Benefits, and the Possession of so many Virtues, endear to the Hearts of us all.

That your Majesty's precious Life may long be spared to us; that you may long witness the Prosperity and Loyalty of your People; that Almighty God may bless your Majesty in your Person, in your Family, and in your Government; that he may establish your Throne in Righteousness, and bestow upon you, through the Merits of Jesus Christ a Crown of Glory, are the earnest Prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful, most faithful, and most obedient Subjects, the Ministers and Elders met in the Provincial Synod of Lothian and Tweeddale.

Signed in our Name, in our Presence, and at our Appointment, by John Steele, Moderator.

Edinburgh, 15th November 1809.
