Copy of a Letter from Captain Mends, of His Majesty's Ship the Arethusa, addressed to Admiral Lord Gambier, and transmitted by his Lordship to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship Arethusa, off Bermeo, July 11, 1810.

MY LORD,

AFTER a Consultation with the Junta of Asturias on the 24th Ultimo, I consented to receive on board of the Squadron your Lordship has been pleased to place under my Command, the Spanish Brigadier-General Porlier, and Five Hundred of his Soldiers, with the Intention of beating up the Enemy's Quarters along the Coast of Cantabria and Bilcay, in order to make a Diversion of his Troops towards the Sea-Ports in his Possession, and thus afford an Opportunity for a combined Movement of the Spanish Armies in Asturias, by compelling the Enemy to detach more of his Forces to oppose us, and thereby weaken the Interior of that Province and St. Andero, or to suffer his Sea-Defences to be destroyed and his Supplies coastways cut off, the one or other Alternative appearing to me an inevitable Result of such Movements. I have now the Pleasure of informing your Lordship that we have completely succeeded in the Maritime Part of the Expedition without the Loss of a single Man, having destroyed all the Batteries (with the Exception of Castro) from St. Sebalian to St. Andero, on which were found about One Hundred Pieces of heavy Cannon altogether, and laid that whole Extent of Sea-Coast entirely bare of Defence.

Communications are thus opened with these Provinces, and the zealous Attachment of the Inhabitants to the Independence of their Country ascertained, should it hereafter be deemed expedient to act on it.

The strong Port of Santona, and the numerous Batteries round Bermeo, being dismantled, our Ships will have in future two good Anchorages on the Coast in westerly Gales, as it will be a Work of considerable Time and Labour to re mount heavy Cannon on the various Eminences of those Places, which must all be conveyed by Sea, the Country being so extremely mountainous and the Roads so bad that Land Carriage is almost impracticable.

The Brigade of Seamen and Marines from the Squadron being commanded by the Honourable Captain Aylmer, of the Narcissus, his Letter to me of the 9th Instant will inform your Lordship of the Events which took place on their landing at Santona, and during the short Time they occupied it. To the Zeal and Ability of that excellent Officer I am much indebted, as well as to that of Captain Bowles, of the Medusa, who most anxiously solicited to be attached to the Brigade, and acted as second in Command; Mr. Hugh Pearson, my First Lieutenant, and Lieutenant Desbrisay, commanding the Marines, distinguished themselves by their exemplary Conduct, as, in short, did all the other Officers and Men composing the Brigade.

The Disposition of the Boats made by Captain Galway of the Dryad, assisted by Captain Joyce of the Amazon, at our different Landings, was so judicious as to prevent either Confusion or Loss where the Surf was frequently extremely dangerous to approach; nor were the Services of Captain Digby, of the Cossack, less important in forwarding every Part of the various Duties going on both Night and Day, and I have only to regret that the early Retreat of the Enemy on the 7th deprives me of an Opportunity of announcing to your Lordship his entire Defeat and Surrender.

Having by our landing at Santona induced the Enemy to abandon several Positions in the Interior, as well as on the Sea Coast, in order to collect a sufficient Force to prevent our continuing in Possession of that Place, I shall be happy to find that the Armies of Asturias, and of the Mountains of St. Andero, have been put in Motion, during the Absence of the French, which was the Principle agreed upon between the Junta of Asturias and myself, but as yet I have no Information on that Head.

This Expedition has however cost the Enemy upwards of Two Hundred Men, besides an Infinity of Trouble and Marching, and added nigh 300 Volunteers to General Porlier's little Army. I am also happy in having this Opportunity of bearing Testimony to the Talents of that distinguished Officer, and the Gallantry of his small Band of Officers and Soldiers, who on every Occasion were emulous for their own and Country's Honour.

I am now proceeding Westward, to land the General and his Men at Ribadeo, and shall feel happy if the complete Success of this little Expedition, the Zeal with which it has been executed, and the Principle on which it was undertaken, be honored with your Lordship's Approbation.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

R. MENDES.

Right Hon. Lord Gambier, Admiral of the Blue, &c.

SIR,

Narcissus, July 9, 1810.

HEREIN I beg leave to detail the Proceedings of the Battalion of Seamen and Royal Marines which you did me the Honour to place under my Command, acting in conjunction with, and under the Orders of Brigadier-General Porlier.

On the Morning of the 5th Instant, we landed with the Spanish Force on the Beach to the Westward of Santona, and immediately went forward to the Town, which we entered without any Loss, the French retiring across the River; our Advanced Guard under Lieutenant Desbrisay, of the Marines of the Amazon, with the Spanish Tirailleurs, succeeded in stopping a Part of the Rear Guard of the French, after killing Two, and wounding a few more, and taking some Prisoners: in the course of the Day, Brigadier-General Porlier sent off some of his Men on the Road to St. Andero, and Lieutenant Pearson, of the Arethusa, was detached with a Party of Seamen to destroy the Guns in the Forts, which was completely effected.

The 6th was employed in examining the Place, in case of being attacked by the French, whom we had Reason to expect would advance in Force from St. Andero.

On the Morning of the 7th, we placed the Boats' Carronades on a Hill which commanded the Isthmus leading to the Town, and posted the Men along the Hedges and Vineyards in Front of the Position, the Spaniards on the Right on a Sand-Hill, and the English, with the Spanish Tirailleurs, in the Centre and Left. At about Eleven o'Clock A. M. a firing was heard, and our advanced Parties retired, closely followed by the French. The Marines composing our Out-Post, under Lieutenant Fennel of the Arethusa, retired in the most perfect Order. Very shortly the Enemy was observed advancing rapidly in Three Columns, one making for the Right, the other for the Left, keeping the third in Reserve; their principal Object appeared the Right, where the Spaniards were posted, but they were almost immediately checked by the Steadiness of the Reception they there met with, and a few Shot being fired from our Battery; the other Column on our Left scarcely advanced, but fired at a Distance; finding, probably, our Preparations made with more Strength than they imagined, they faced about and retired, leaving several killed and wounded.

The Enemy's Force appeared to consist of between Seven and Eight Hundred Men, and I have only to regret that they did not advance nearer, for had they done so, I am convinced a most complete and entire Destruction of their whole Force would have taken place.

Brigadier-General Poitier detached his Sharpshooters to harass their Rear; they succeeded in killing and wounding several, and making some Prisoners; on the whole I conceive the Loss of the French in the Three several Days, in Killed, Wounded, and Prisoners, amounts to about One Hundred and Fifty Men.

The whole of the Guns, &c. in Santona and Laredo are destroyed, consisting of Twenty-two Twenty four-Pounders, and Four Thirteen-Inch Brass Mortars.

On the 8th in the Morning, according to your Directions, I withdrew the Guns and Ammunition, &c. and re embarked with the People, without any Loss; the Spaniards only having Seven Men Wounded.

I have now to acknowledge the Obligation I am under to Captain Bowles, of the Medusa, for his indefatigable Activity in getting every Thing arranged, and having the Men in such perfect Order when the Enemy advanced, as well as to express the great Satisfaction I felt at the Steadiness and Firmness with which the Men awaited the Attack. Lieutenant Rees, of the Dryad, who did the Duty of Adjutant to the Battalion, has also my sincere Thanks for the Assistance he gave me in the different Directions, and for his unremitting Attention to the Order of the whole. The only Officers who had the least Opportunity to distinguish themselves were Lieutenants Desbrisay and Fennel, of the Marines, who commanded the advanced Guards during the Two little Affairs.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) F. W. AYLMER.

To Captain Mends, Arethusa.

CARMARTHEN CIRCUIT.

Carmarthen, Monday, August 27.
Haverfordwest, Saturday, September 1.
Cardigan, Friday, September 7.

Whitehall, July 14, 1810.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, that, in the Night of Friday the 29th of June last, between Twelve and One o'Clock, a Barn at Northall-Green, in the Parish of Ellesborough, in the County of Buckingham, occupied by Mr. John Smith, and adjoining to an uninhabited Dwelling-House, was discovered to be on Fire, and that the same was entirely burnt down; and whereas in the Night of the following Wednesday the 4th Instant, about Twelve o'Clock, the said Dwelling-House was discovered to be on Fire, by which it was nearly consumed, and that there is every Reason to suppose the same were wilfully and maliciously set on Fire;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in the Felonies above-mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one of them (except the Person who actually set Fire to the said Barn and Dwelling-House) who shall discover his or their Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. R. RYDER.

And, as a further Encouragement, a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered to any Person making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as is before excepted,) to be paid on the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders, by Messrs. Grover and Smith, Solicitors, at Hemel Hempstead.

Navy-Office, June 25, 1810.

THE Principal Officers and Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy hereby give Notice, that a Plan of Education has been established, at the Royal Naval College at His Majesty's Dock-Yard at Portsmouth, for a Superior Class of Apprentices to Shipwrights.

That the Number of Students in the Superior Class of Shipwrights' Apprentices shall, in the first Instance, be limited to Twelve, but will gradually be increased to Twenty-five. The period of Apprenticeship shall be Seven Years, but for a Student who may have previously served in the Inferior Class of Apprentices in His Majesty's Yards for the Space of Two Years, it shall be only Six Years, and only Five Years for a Student who may have previously served in the said Class for the Space of Three Years.

An Instructor in the Theory of Naval Architecture will be added to the present Establishment of the Royal Naval College, to assist particularly in the Instruction of this Class of Apprentices.

The Candidates for Admission must produce Certificates from two respectable Physicians or Surgeons that they are of sound Health and Constitution, and likewise Proof from the Register of the Parish in which they were born, of their being at least Fifteen, and not more than Seventeen Years of Age, excepting Candidates from among the Shipwrights' Apprentices of the Yard, who may be admitted if they shall not have served more than Three Years of their Time. Candidates shall be examined on the first Wednesday in November in each Year, by the Professor of the Royal Naval College, assisted by the Instructor in the Theory of Naval Architecture, in the Presence of the Commissioner of the Yard, the Lieutenant Governor of the College, and Master Shipwright, who shall jointly report the Result of the Examination to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, carefully inserting the Names of the Candidates in Succession according to their respective Merits.

The following shall be the Subjects of Examination, with which every successful Candidate must be perfectly acquainted.

- 1st. Reading English, and writing it with Facility from Dictation.
- 2d. The first Four Rules of Arithmetic, and the Rule of Three in whole Numbers, and also in Vulgar and Decimal Fractions.
- 3d. The first Three Books of Euclid's Elements by R. Simson, with the Exception of Propositions 42, 44, 45, Book I. and of Propositions 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, Book II. In this Part of the Examinations, besides giving the most precise Demonstrations, the Candidates will be expected to make the Constructions in a practical Manner with Compasses and a Ruler.
- 4th. The French Language, a Knowledge of which, although not absolutely required in the Candidates who may present themselves at the first Examination which is to be held, will nevertheless give a Preference to those, who are in all other Respects equally qualified; at all subsequent Examinations, however, the Candidates will be required to read and translate French with Facility.

After Admission into the Superior Class, the Apprentices shall attend at the Royal Naval College Three or Four Hours on the Mornings of every Day in the Week, except Sunday and the established Holidays, where they shall be instructed in such Parts of the following Subjects as shall appear to the Professor of the College to be best adapted to the Object of the Establishment, viz. the Formation of able and useful Ship Builders :

Geometry	Fluxions
Algebra	Theory of Naval Architecture.
Plane Trigonometry	Drawing
Mechanics	The French Language.
Hydrostatics.

On Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays, the Apprentices shall be employed at the College during the Hours above-mentioned, in the Study of Mathematics, under the Professor or the Instructor; on Thursday and Friday Mornings in Drawing, under the Drawing Master, the Art of Perspective being most particularly applied in drawing the different Parts of a Ship; and the Morning of Saturday shall be appropriated to the Study of such Books and Exercises in the French Language, under the French Master, as may perfect them therein, and at the same Time advance their professional Knowledge. This Division of Time allotted for their Studies, is, however, to be subject to such Alterations as shall appear to the Professor best calculated for promoting the Object of the Institution.

In the remaining Part of the Day, when not attending at the College, they shall be employed under the Master Shipwright or Instructor of Naval Architecture, in the Mould Loft, in the various Kinds of manual Labour connected with Ship-building; in the Acquisition of a complete Knowledge of the different Parts of a Ship, and of the Method of constructing and fastening the same, as well as in discriminating her different Properties deducible from theoretical Calculations; also in the Management and Conversion of Timber, and generally, in such other Manner as the Master Shipwright may consider as best adapted to make them fully acquainted with all the Detail of the Duties of a practical Shipwright.

To ensure the Punishment of Offences committed by them during their Attendance at the College, a Book shall be kept by the Instructor, in which such Offences shall be entered; and at the End of each Week, or oftener if there be Occasion, this Book shall be sent to the Office of the Commissioner, who will order such Punishment to be inflicted, as may be conformable to the usual Treatment of Apprentices in the Dock-Yard.

And at the End of each Year, a Public Examination shall take place, in the Presence of the Officers mentioned in the 3d Article, and a general Statement of the Improvement of the respective Apprentices in the theoretical Part of their Profession, shall be transmitted by the Professor of the College, and of their Progress in the practical Part by the Master Shipwright, through the Commissioner of the Dock-Yard, to the Admiralty-Office; to the End that, if it shall appear that an Apprentice has particularly distinguished himself in any of the Departments of his Profession, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty may confer on him such Mark of their Approbation, as their Lordships may deem expedient.

The last Year of their Apprenticeship, or such Part thereof as the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty may think proper, shall be served at Sea, in such of His Majesty's Ships as their Lordships shall direct, with a view of obtaining some practical Knowledge in the steering, sailing, trimming, and ballasting of a Ship, in making Remarks on the Motion and working of a Ship, in all her Parts, in bad Weather, and on a high Sea, the standing and straining of the Masts and Yards under such Circumstances, the placing of the fixed Blocks, with a view to the proper leading of Ropes, &c. and, generally, in obtaining such Information, as the Captain, Carpenter, and other Officers of the Ship may, by their Experience, communicate, and such as their own Observations may suggest.

During the Time that such an Apprentice shall be on board a Ship, he will be required to keep a Journal of his Remarks and Observations, arranged under distinct Heads, noting such Improvements in any Part of the Ship, or any Thing connected therewith, as may suggest themselves to him, from a minute Attention to the Circumstances by which a Ship is affected at Sea; a Copy of which Journal is to be transmitted to the Admiralty.

A Cabin or Berth will be allotted to him in the Gun-Room, or in some other suitable Part of the Ship; he shall mess with some of the Officers, and be treated in all respects as a Gentleman.

Salaries to be allowed Apprentices of the Superior Class.

Upon their Return from Sea, until they can be appointed Officers in consequence of Vacancies having occurred, they shall be employed as Overseers of Ships building, in assisting the Master Shipwright in the different Yards, and their Assistants or Foremen; in the Mould Loft, under the Timber Master, or in any other Situation in which the Master Shipwright may have Occasion to employ them, with the Approbation of the Commissioner; during that Interval they shall have 150*l.* per Annum, and if such Vacancies should not happen for Three Years after their Return, they shall then have 180*l.* per Annum until they be provided for.

In order that the Services of young Men, whose Education has been obtained at a considerable Expence to Government, may not be lost on the Expiration of their Apprenticeship, they shall each of them, previously to their Entry in the Yard, be required to find two Sureties, to enter into Bond to the Amount of 500*l.* and in the Event of an Apprentice being discharged for Misconduct, the Amount of the Bond, or so much of it as may indemnify Government for the Expence incurred in his Education, shall be forfeited.

The Object of this Institution is to improve the Qualifications of the Shipwrights in the Dock-Yards, and thereby to ensure a Succession of Artificers, from among whom Officers of the Description of Master Measurers, Foremen, &c. will be selected, and from these the Appointments of the superior Officers in His Majesty's Dock-Yards, and Surveyors of the Navy, will ultimately be made.

The Day of Examination is fixed for the First Wednesday in November next (7th November 1810). A certain Number of Apprentices now in the Dock-Yards are to be excused from manual Labour, to prepare themselves for the Examination; and this public Notice of the Qualifications expected from those who intend to become Candidates, and of the Day on which such Candidates will be examined, is given, in order that the Number to be entered in the Superior Class of Apprentices (which in the First Year is to be limited to Twelve) may be selected from those best qualified, whether belonging to the Dock-Yard or not.

Such Persons of the Description before mentioned, who may be desirous of becoming Candidates for Admission to the Superior Class of Apprentices to belong to His Majesty's Dock-Yard at Portsmouth, are therefore hereby informed, that they will be required to send Notice of their Intention to the Navy Board, or the Commissioner of His Majesty's Dock-Yard at Portsmouth, on the 24th of October 1810, and they must be prepared with every Document and Qualification mentioned in this Advertisement, and be at Portsmouth Dock-Yard at Eight o'Clock on the Morning of the Day of Examination, viz. 7th November 1810, and wait for further Directions from the Commissioner for their Proceedings.
