Copy of a Letter from Admiral Sir Roger Curtis, Bart. Commander in Chief at Portsmouth, addressed to John Wilson, Esq; dated the 25th Instant.

SIR,

I INCLOSE a Letter which I have received from Captain Grant, of the Diana, informing me that the Boats of that Ship, under the Command of Lieutenant Rowe, had succeeded in setting Fire to the Enemy's Frigate L'Elize, which was reported in his Letter, transmitted with mine Yesterday, as having run on shore to the Northward of Tatihou in attempting to escape from La Hogue.

I cannot avoid expressing my extreme Satisfaction that Captain Grant, after having so long and arduously watched this Frigate to prevent her Escape, has by his Perseverance and Judgment at length accomplished her Destruction, and it appears by his Report that the Conduct of Lieutenant Rowe, and the other Officers and Men employed under him on this Occasion, has been highly meritorious.

I am, Sir, &c.

(Signed) ROGER CURTIS.

His Majesty's Ship Diana, off La Hogue, 24th December 1810.

SIR,

SINCE I had the Honour of addressing you by the Vautour, I have ascertained that the Enemy's Frigate was so far embayed and protected by Tatihou, and the Batteries on the North Shore, that nothing could be done with the Ship to prevent the Enemy from working during the falling Tide to save the Stores, and that the Ship was so completely bilged that there appeared little Chance of their being able to save the Hull; however, as I once already had been deceived in my Expectations of her being destroyed, I determined to risk the Chance of the Boats being able to set her on Fire, which Service was generally volunteered, notwithstanding the Ship was completely under the Fire of heavy Batteries, and Three Armed Brigs lying within Hail of her. I anchored immediately after dark, and gave the Charge of the Boats to Lieutenant Rowe, of the Diana, in the Barge, (who I knew would execute it if possible,) Mr. Bean the Gunner, and Mr. Noble the Boatswain, who always volunteer; Lieutenant Sparrow went in the Gig to reconnoitre and watch the Brigs to prevent Surprize. and Mr. Knocker, Master's Mate, went in the Cutter, and, as the Service required the least possible Loss of Time, they took no other Materials but Two Kegs of the combustible Matter received from the Roman, and I am happy to say that, though the Water was nearly up to her Quarter Deck, we had the Satisfaction in an Hour from the Time they left this Ship to see her completely on Fire. The Batteries and Brigs immediately opened a very heavy Fire of Round and Grape, and, as our People did not leave the Frigate until the Fire took effect, it is with extreme Pleasure I inform you that not a single Man was hurt.

Lieutenant Rowe speaks in the strongest Manner of all employed under him, and I hope you will agree with me in thinking that this Service was most gallantly and well executed; they have brought off with them the Colours of the Frigate and two other Ensigns.

Captain Collier very handsomely offered the Boats of the Cyane to assist, but as it was not to be done by force, I deemed it best to send the Boats of this Ship only.

Although there had been Boats constantly employed about the Enemy's Frigate since she ran on shore, they had not cleared any Part of the Wreck.

I have, &c.

(Signed) CHARLES GRANT.

Admiral Sir Roger Curtis, Bart. Commander in Chief, &c. &c. &c.

Admiralty Office, December 29, 1810.

Copy of a Letter from Rear-Admiral Sir Richard Goodwin Keats, K. B. addressed to Admiral Sir Charles Cotton, Bart. and transmitted to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship Milford, Cadix Bay, November 23, 1810.

SIR,

HAVING observed the Enemy to have collected several Gun-Boats in the River of Santa Maria in a Situation subject to Bombardment, at a proper Time of Tide Yesterday, I placed the Mortar and Howitzer Boats under the able Direction of Captain Hall, which (whilst the Devastation, Thunder, and Ætna, with One Division of Spanish and Two Divisions of English Gun-Boats, under the zealous Command of Captain Thomas Fellowes and Lieutenant W. F. Carroll, successfully drew the Attention and Fire of Fort Catilina,) threw, seemingly with considerable Effect, some Hundred Shells amongst the Gun-Boats and about the Place of Construction, until the Wind coming in from the Westward, made it necessary to move them out.

We have not yet ascertained what has been the Damage or Loss on the Part of the Enemy, but we have unfortunately on this Occasion to lament the Death of Two highly esteemed and respectable Young Officers, Lieutenant Thomas Worth and Lieutenant John Buckland, of the Royal Marine Artillery, whose Loss is the Theme of universal Regret. Mr. Samuel Hawkins, Midshipman of the Norge, also fell gallantly, which, with Four Spanish and Four English Seamen wounded, constitutes our Loss in killed and wounded, on a Service, the Execution of which merits my warmest Praise.

I have the Honour to be, &c.
