Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Drury, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the East Indies, to John Wilson Croker Esq; dated on board the Samarang, in Madras Roads, January 1, 1811.

SIR,
YOU will please to acquaint the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that I have received Letters from Captain Byng, whilst cruising, pursuant to their Orders, in the Straits of Sunda, for the outward-bound China Fleet, detailing the gallant Proceedings of the Boats of the Belliqueux and Sir Francis Drake, under the Orders of Lieutenant Joseph Prior, First Lieutenant of the Belliqueux, whose most judicious and highly spirited Conduct in an Attack on a French Ketch and several of the Enemy's Gun-boats in the Bay of Bantam, is spoken of by Captain Harris, of the Sir Francis Drake, with uncommon Warmth, as well as of the brave Conduct of acting Lieutenants Bradley, Dawson, and Addis, and the Seamen and others employed on this Occasion, as well as a Mr. Pierre, Midshipman of the Belliqueux, who has served his Time.

On this Enterprize Lieutenant Joseph Prior destroyed the French Ketch with Dispatches for General Daendels, and Two Gun-Boats, under a heavy Fire from the Batteries of Bantam, being so fortunate as only to have one Man killed, John Holway, Seaman of the Sir Francis Drake.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Extract of another Letter from Vice-Admiral Drury, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the East Indies, to John Wilson Croker Esq; dated on board the Samarang, in Madras Roads, January 3, 1811.

YOU will be pleased to lay before the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the inclosed Copy of a Letter I have received from Captain Christopher Cole, of His Majesty's Ship Caroline, detailing his successful Enterprize against the strong, and generally supposed impregnable Fortrels of the valuable Island of Banda, the principal of the Spice Islands in the Molucca Seas, with a Handful of Men, led on to the Storm of the Place by Captain Cole, Lieutenant Richard Kenah, acting Commander, of the Barracouta.

Captain Cole's plain and modest Narrative marks so strongly the intrinsic Merit of himself and his gallant Associates, that it would be almost Presumption were I to offer a Word of Commendation to Their Lordships, further than expressing my high Approbation of the judicious Conduct of Captain Cole, in his Provision with the very small Force he had for the Protection of this most important Position, as well for the Preservation of our Eastern Trade as for its immense Value. The Caroline was my Flag Ship, and going on another Service, but seeing the Necessity of sending immediate Relief to Captain Tucker, and my entire Confidence in the Ability of Captain Cole, determined me on sending him with the Caroline and Piedmontaise, as the only Certainty of reaching the Moluccas against a contrary Monsoon in any reasonable Time.

His Majesty's Ship Caroline, Banda Harbour, August 10, 1810.

SIR,

I HAVE the Honour and Happiness of acquainting you with the Capture of Banda Neira, the Chief of the Spice Islands, on the 9th August, by a Portion of the Force under my Orders, in consequence of a Night-Attack which completely surprized the Enemy, although the Approach of the Ships had been unavoidably discovered the Day before.

The Weather proved so unfavourable for Boat-Service on the Night of the 9th Instant, that although nearly Four hundred Officers and Men had been selected for this Occasion, yet, on assembling under Great Banda, at Two on the following Morning, I found that the State of the Weather would deprive us of the Services of some valuable Men under Lieutenant Stephens of the Royal Marines, and the greater Part of the Detachment of the Madras European Regiment, and from whom I had expected the most steady Support and Assistance.

The Attempt was now to be made with less than Two hundred Men, consisting of the Seamen and Marines and about Forty of the Madras European Regiment, or our Labours in the Boats through a dark and squally Night, in the open Sea, must end in the severest Mortification. After getting under Shelter of the Land, the same Circumstances of the Weather which before operated against us were now favourable to us, and the Confidence I had in the Handful of Officers and Men about me, left me no Hesitation; and with a degree of Silence and Firmness that will ever command my heartfelt Acknowledgements, the Boats proceeded to the Point of Debarkation.

A dark Cloud with Rain covered our landing within One Hundred Yards of a Battery of Ten Guns, where by the Promptitude and Activity of Acting Captain Kenah and Lieutenant Carew, who were ordered with the Pikemen to the Attack, the Battery was taken in the Rear, and an Officer and his Guard made Prisoners, without a Musquet being fired, although the Enemy were at their Guns with Matches lighted. From the near Approach of Daylight our Situation became critical, but we had procured a Native Guide to carry us to the Walls of the Castle of Belgica; and leaving a Guard over the Prisoners, and in Charge of the Battery, the Party made a rapid Movement round the Skirts of the Town, where the Sound of the Bugle was spreading Alarm among the Enemy. In Twenty Minutes the Scaling Ladders were placed against the Walls of the Outer Pentagon of Belgica; and the first Muskets were fired by the Enemy's Sentries. The Gallantry and Activity with which the Scaling Ladders were hauled up after the Outwork was carried, and placed for the Attack of the Inner Work, under a Sharp Fire from the Garrison, exceeded all Praise. The Enemy, after firing Three Guns and keeping up an ineffectual Discharge of Artillery for Ten or Fifteen Minutes, fled in all Directions, and through the Gateway, leaving the Colonel Commandant and Ten others dead, and Two Officers and Thirty Prisoners in our Hands. Captain Kenah, Lieutenants Carew, Allen, Pratt, Walker, and Lyons of the Navy, Lieutenant Yeates and Ensign Allen (a Volunteer) of the Madras Service, were among the foremost in the Escalade; and my Thanks are due to Captain-Lieutenant Nixon, of the Madras European Regiment, for the steady and Officer-like Conduct with which he directed the Covering Party entrusted to his Charge, and to Lieutenants Brown and Dekker of that Regiment, attached to the Marines.

With such Examples our brave Fellows swept the Ramparts like a Whirlwind; and in addition to the providential Circumstance of the Service being performed with scarcely a Hurt or Wound, I have the Satisfaction of reporting, that there was no Instance of Irregularity arising from Success.

The Day now beaming on the British Flag, discovered to us the Fort of Nassau, and the Sea Defences at our Feet, and the Enemy at their Guns, at the different Ports. I dispatched Captain Kenah with a Flag of Truce to the Governor, requiring the immediate Surrender of Nassau, and with a Promise of Protection for Private Property. At Sun-rise the Dutch Flag was hoisted in Nassau, and the Sea Batteries opened a Fire on the Caroline, (followed by the Piedmontaise and Batracouta,) then approaching the Harbour. Having selected a Detachment to secure Belgica, the Remainder, with their Scaling Ladders, were ordered for the immediate Storm of Nassau; but Captain Kenah had returned with the verbal Submission of the Governor, and I was induced to send a second Flag, stating my Determination to storm Nassau that Instant, and to lay the Town in Ashes, if the Colours were not immediately struck. This Threat, and a well-placed Shot from Belgica (which completely commands all the principal Defences) into one of their Sea Batteries, produced an immediate and unqualified Submission, and we found ourselves in Possession of the Two Forts, and several Batteries, mounting One Hundred and Twenty Pieces of Cannon, and defended by near Seven Hundred disciplined Troops, besides the Militia.

The Ships had been left with so few Men to manage them, that I had merely directed Captain Foote to lead into any Anchorage that he might be able to obtain, to make a Diversion in our Favour; but they were worked against all the unfavourable Circumstances of a dark and squally Night, in a narrow Channel, with the most determined Perseverance, and with that degree of Zeal that I expected from an Officer of my own Rank, whose Heart and Hand had always been with me on every Point of public Service.

Captain Kenah, who led the Storming Party, crowned a Series of valuable Services, during Two Months' difficult and intricate Navigation through the Eastern Seas, by his Bravery and Activity on Shore.

The Colours of Forts Nassau and Belgica will be presented to Your Excellency by Lieutenant John Gilmour, who has served Nine Years in this Country as a Lieutenant, and a large Portion of that Time as First Lieutenant under my Command. Although labouring under severe Illness, he took Charge of the Ship on my quitting her; and his Seamen like and zealous Conduct in the Discharge of his Trust were most conspicuous.

I also transmit a Plan of the Defences of Banda Neira, with the Position of the Dutch Troops, and our Route from the Landing Place to Belgica: the Enemy had advanced a strong Corps towards the Place where Admiral Rainier's Forces had formerly landed; and a Suspicion that this would be the Case, and that the Roads would be destroyed, determined me as to the Point and Method of our Attack.

The Service performed was of such a peculiar Nature, that I could not do Justice to the Merits of my Companions without entering much into Detail and I feel confident that in Your Excellency's Disposition to appreciate duly the Merits of those under your Command, I shall find an Excuse for having taken up so much of your Time.

I am, &c.

Extract of another Letter from Vice Admiral Drury, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Fleets in the East Indies, to John Wilson Croker, dated on board the Diomedé, in Madras River, Jan. 28, 1811.

YOU will be pleased to lay before the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the A valty the accompanying detailed Account of the gallant and judicious Proceedings of Captain Edward Tucker, of His Majesty Ship the Dover, whose great Exertions for the perfect Security of the Moluccas, (by possessing himself of Ternate, one of the strongest Islands in the Molucca Seas, which he accomplished in the most gallant Manner,) and every Dependency on the Celebes, the Resources of which he has turned to the Supply of the Moluccas, claim my highest Commendation.

His Majesty's Ship Dover, at Sea, off Gorontello, June 16, 1810.

SIR,

IN prosecution of Your Excellency's Orders to distress the Enemy as much as possible in the Molucca Sea, I beg Leave to inform you that, after having sent all the Dutch Officers and Troops from Amboyna to Java, I proceeded to the Dutch Port of Gorontello, in the Bay of Tommine, on the North-East Part of the Island of Celebes, where I found the Colours of the King of Holland flying on the Fort, and on the Three Batteries at the Entrance of the Harbour.

Finding, however, that no Dutch Officer had Charge of these Posts, but that the whole Settlement was vested in the Hands of the Sultan and his Two Sons (who bore Dutch Commissions) for the Dutch Company, I therefore, instead of making a Descent, landed and waited upon His Majesty, to whom I addressed the Letter, a Copy of which I have the Honour to inclose.

The Proposals contained in this Letter having been duly considered by His Majesty and the Nobles in Council, were acceded to with much Satisfaction. The Dutch Colours were hauled down, and the British supplied their Place in Fort Nassau, under every Demonstration of their Attachment to the English Government.

Having thus opened a large Proportion of this Part of the Celebes to the English Trade, from whence also various Kinds of Supplies can be constantly thrown into our Possessions in the Moluccas, it is my Intention to proceed to Manado, where there is a very good Fort with a heavy Battery in front close to the Sea, and the Fort again commanded by a Battery on a Hill immediately over it, and from whence Musketry can play into the Fort; but as the Ship can be brought to bear on the latter and lower Battery, and Sixty picked Men under Lieutenants Inledon and Higginson are ready to storm the Battery on the Hill, I have no Doubt but the Attack will be successful.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) EDWARD TUCKER.

Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the East Indies.*

His Majesty's Ship Dover, Manado Roads, June 23, 1810.

SIR,

CONFORMABLY to my Intentions as expressed in a former Letter to Your Excellency, dated the 16th instant, off Gorontello, I proceeded to Manado, where I arrived Yesterday at Two P. M., and having taken up a Station in His Majesty's Ship under my Command, to the Right of Fort Amsterdam, and well reconnoitred their other Positions, I instantly sent a Flag of Truce on shore, with a Summons to the Governor, a Copy of which I herewith inclose.

The Enemy having thought proper to accede to the Terms proposed, the Marines were landed under the Command of Lieutenant Higginson, assisted by Lieutenant Fireworker Nelson, of the Honourable Company's Coast Artillery, and Thirty of the Amboynese Troops, embarked in the Dover, for the Purpose of garrisoning it, after its Capture, who immediately took Possession for His Majesty.

Had the Enemy chosen the other Alternative, I am well convinced from the Experience I have repeatedly had, that the Officers and Men I have the Honour to command would have added to the Credit which they have already so well earned, particularly in the Attack on Amboyna.

The Dependencies which have fallen with Manado are very extensive, being the Ports of Kemar, Le Copang, Amerang, and Tawangwoo; the Capture thereof, as well as Gorontello, has been very opportune, as large Supplies were preparing at all these Places, and ready to be shipped for the Isles of Ternate and Banda.

I have the Honour to transmit Returns of the Garrison found here, and of the Ordnance in Fort Amsterdam, and the adjacent Batteries.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

EDWARD TUCKER.

Rear Admiral Drury, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels, in the East Indies.

To Marinus Balfour Esq; Present at Manado.

SIR,

IT has, no doubt, ere this, been made known to you, that the English are in considerable Force in these Seas, and that the Island of Amboyna, with all its Dependencies, are already in their Possession.

You now see, before your Fort and Batteries, an English Frigate; ready to open her Fire, and Volunteers in her Boats, only waiting the Order to land, and storm your Position. It remains for you to decide on this Point.

Being perfectly acquainted with the exact Strength of your Garrison, and all your Means of Defence, I am enabled to judge with what Probability of Success you can oppose me.

I therefore summon you to surrender the Fort of Amsterdam, with all the Dependencies thereunto belonging.

On condition of your instantly complying and delivering up all Public Property, I promise Protection to the Persons and Private Property of the Inhabitants; that the Dutch Civil Servants shall be at Liberty to return to Java. The Military, being Prisoners of War, may likewise return there, on their Parole of Honour.

The Officer in charge of this has Instructions to wait Half an Hour for your Determination, which, should it be in the Affirmative, be pleased to notify by striking the Colours of the Fort; if in the Negative, by hauling down the Flag of Truce.

I am, Sir, &c. &c. &c.

His Majesty's Ship Dover, in Ternate Harbour, August 31, 1810.

SIR,
I HAVE much Satisfaction in communicating to Your Excellency the Conquest of the Island of Ter-nate, by His Majesty's Ship Dover under my Command, and a Detachment of the Honourable Company's Troops from Amboyna, under the Command of Captain Forbes of the Madras European Regiment.
The Detail of this Affair, (which I am in hopes Your Excellency will deem very creditable to the Officers and Men employed) I have the Honour to transmit.

Having made Application by Letter, dated the 21st August, to Captain Court commanding at Amboyna, for One Hundred Troops to assist me in reducing the Island of Ternate, they were on the same Day embarked on board His Majesty's Ship Dover.
We pushed to Sea, and got sight of the Island on the 25th, but, owing to light Airs and Calms, it was not until the Morning of the 28th, that the Party (as per Margin*) were embarked in the Boats, and effected a Landing.

The Boats left the Ship about One A. M. on the Morning of the 28th, under the Direction of Lieutenant Jefferies, with the Intention of landing close under the Walls of Fort Kayo Meirah, which was immediately to have been stormed, Double Scaling Ladders and Planks having been prepared for crossing the Ditch and mounting the Works; but, meeting unexpectedly in shore an unfavourable Current, their Progress was but slow, and they had at Day-light the Mortification to find themselves at some Distance from Fort Kayo Meirah. Captain Forbes, under this Circumstance, did not hesitate a Moment in directing a Landing to be attempted to the Southward and Westward of the Fort, out of the Line of its Fire, which was happily made good, without Annoyance from the Enemy; but their Difficulties, accompanied with great Labour and Fatigue, commenced, for the Particulars whereof, and their further Operations, so extremely reputable to them;
I beg to refer Your Excellency to Captain Forbes's Report to me that I have the Honour to forward; from which Your Excellency will perceive that great Judgment and Resolution, with the most determined Courage, has been displayed, and particularly so by every Officer under the heavy Fire from Fort Kayo

Meirah and the Enemy's Detachment with its Brigade of Guns, that were in Advance.

These Officers constantly headed and led on their Men with the utmost Gallantry, shewing an Example of Intrepidity impossible to be excelled.

The Calm that intervened between the Land and Sea Breezes on the Morning and Forenoon of the 28th, prevented the Ship closing until Two P. M., when, learning exactly the Situation of the Troops, I hoisted a Flag of Truce, and summoned the Governor to surrender the Island, which being declined, with a Declaration of defending it as long as possible, I communicated the same to Captain Forbes by Letter, acquainting him at the same Time with my Determination to place the Ship alongside Fort Kayo Meirah as early as possible in the Morning (it being at that Time past Sun-set). But the ardent Zeal of Captain Forbes could not brook the Delay; he had already selected One Hundred Men, equally from his own Regiment, the Seamen, Marines, and Am-boyne Troops, with whom he instantly advanced, and carried the Fort in that gallant and determined Manner as stated in his Report.

The Currents and Wind during the Night were more unfavourable than could possibly be expected, nor was there Ground for anchoring: so that it was a Quarter past Two P. M. on the 29th, before Lieutenant Jefferies with the Seamen that had landed, and Lieutenant Higginson, with a few of the Marines (whose Assistance was absolutely required), could be got on board, and the Ship brought against Kota Barro, the First Battery, mounting as per Margin†, next to Fort Kayo Meirah. Having closed to Pistol Shot, and a well directed Fire kept up, principally Grape and Canister, it was shortly silenced, but, upon standing on to the next Battery, (Ordnance as per Margin†) by which we opened a Third Battery of similar force, and also the Sea-Face of Fort Orange, it was observed the Enemy had again entered the Battery of Kota Barro, and opened their Fire upon us. We were now exposed to a heavy cross Fire from these Three Batteries, and from Fort Orange. I therefore regained our former Position off Kota Barro, with the Intention of, when again silencing it, to land a Party and spike
the Guns, for which Service Lieutenant Higginson, Royal Marines, and Mr. Green the Gunner, had most readily volunteered. The Battery was soon a Second Time silenced, when we perceived some of our Troops in sharp Contest with a numerous Body of the Enemy, at but a short Distance from it, which was shortly after entered by Lieutenant Cursham and his Party, they having, in a most superior Style, defeated all that were opposed to them.
Such Guns of this Battery as could be brought to bear on the remaining Batteries and Fort were instantly turned on them, and a good Fire kept up.

On Kota Barro being taken possession of, the Ship was immediately after brought to pretty close Action with the Second and Third Batteries mentioned before, and also with Fort Orange; after an Hour and Three Quarters sharp firing, during which Time

* Kota Barro—2 Iron Eighteen-Pounders, 2 ditto Twelve-Pounders, 1 ditto Eight-Pounder, 3 ditto One-Pounder.
Total—8 of all Sizes.

† 1st Strand Battery—1 Iron Eighteen-Pounder, and 4 ditto Twelve-Pounders.
Total—5 of all Sizes.

Regiment, 74; Natives from Amboyna Corps, 32; Ro-manes, 36; Seamen, 3.—Total, including Officers, 174.

our Shots were thrown with uncommon Coolness and Precision, the Enemy's Fire was observed to decrease considerably, and at Five in the Evening Flags of Truce were seen hoisted in Fort Orange, upon which all Firing ceased, and Three Officers came on board, commissioned by the Civil and Military Governor to arrange Articles of Capitulation for the Surrender of the Island.

The Articles I have the Honour to inclose were then concluded, and next Morning ratified, signed and exchanged, and a further Arrangement made for the Entrance of the British Force, at Nine o'Clock in the Morning of the 31st, which was accordingly done, the Enemy marching out, and laying down their Arms, when the English Colours were displayed in all the Forts and Batteries, under a Royal Salute from each, also from His Majesty's Ship Dover. Thus has the Whole of this Island fallen in less than one Day to a very inconsiderable Force, though so famous for the Strength of its Fortifications, and memorable for its Defence in the last War against the English. By official Documents we find that Five Hundred Regular Troops, with a very large Proportion of Officers and Europeans, have defended the Place, aided by the Marine Department (many of whom are European Seamen), the Dutch Inhabitants and Burghers, in Number Two Hundred and Three, and also the King of Ternate's Force, Two Hundred and Fifty of whom were in the Field, and an equal Number from the Sultan of Tidore and adjacent Islands, in Alliance with the Dutch.

All these Circumstances duly considered, with the very small Force opposed to such evident Means of Defence, will, I trust, make it apparent that the Officers and Men employed on this Occasion cannot derive additional Credit by any Eulogy in my Power to pronounce; however I cannot refrain the Satisfaction of reporting to Your Excellency the Names of those Officers who from truly heroic Conduct have excited in me such Admiration.

With the Conduct of every Officer and Man on board the Dover, during our Attack on the Batteries and Fort Orange, I am most perfectly satisfied; to Lieutenants Inledon and Jefferies, Mr. Morgan the Master, Lieutenant Higginson Royal Marines, and Mr. Palmer the Purser, who assisted on the Main Deck, much Praise is due.

Let me remind Your Excellency that Lieutenants Jefferies and Higginson also shared in all the Fatigue and Glory attending the Storm on Fort Kayo Meirah.

It will be gratifying to you to learn that notwithstanding the heavy Cross Fire the Dover was exposed to from the different Batteries and Fort Orange, our Loss has been but trifling, having had only five Seamen wounded; nor has the Ship suffered materially, either in her Hull, Masts or Rigging.

I inclose herewith a Return of the Ordnance found on the Island, and a List of the Killed and Wounded. The Colours of Fort Orange are now on board the Dover, and I shall have the Honour of presenting them to you on my joining Your Excellency's Flag.

I have, &c.

Names of the Officers who so conspicuously distinguished themselves at the taking of Ternate, but more particularly so when storming Fort Kayo Meirah.

Madras European Regiment—Captain Forbes, Lieutenants Forbes and Cursham.

His Majesty's Ship Dover—Lieutenant Jefferies, Royal Navy; Lieutenant Higginson, Royal Marines.

It will be remembered by Your Excellency, that all these Officers bore a distinguished Part in the Attack of Amboyna.

To Edward Tucker Esq; commanding His Majesty's Ship Dover.

SIR,

I HAVE the Honour to detail to you the Operations of the Detachment under my Command, from the Time of its leaving His Majesty's Ship Dover, until Hostilities ceased against the Island of Ternate.

After the Boats left the Ship on the Night of the 27th Instant, every possible Exertion was made by Lieutenant Jefferies, in Charge, to accomplish a landing before Day-Break, with a View of taking Fort Kayo Meirah by Surprise; finding, however, that so desirable an Object could not be effected, I directed him to proceed to Saka (which is situated behind a Point of Land), where we landed without Molestation about Seven A.M. Lieutenant Charles Forbes then moved forward with a Party to occupy the Heights, where he remained until the Gun and Ammunition could be brought up; this became a fatiguing Service, from the Steepness of the Hills and deep Ravines. About Noon, after incredible Labour, we gained a commanding Position near the Sea, where we rested about two Hours. Having left a Party here to keep up the Communication with the Ship, we proceeded on to occupy a Height, and to command Fort Kayo Meirah, and which was pointed out as the Spot taken up by the English last War; but, to our great Mortification, on our gaining it we found that the Trees had grown so much as to preclude entirely our seeing the Fort; in the mean time we perceived the Flag of Truce hoisted on board His Majesty's Ship Dover. Being determined, in the Event of the Enemy's not agreeing to the Summons, to gain immediate Possession of Fort Kayo Meirah, I ordered One Hundred Men, with a Double Scaling Ladder, to be in Readiness to storm. The Moment I received your Letter, inclosing the Governor's Refusal, I proceeded on about Seven o'Clock P.M. with this Party, keeping the inland Road. After advancing some little Way, we found it impossible to proceed farther, owing to immense Trees cut down by the Enemy and thrown across the Road. I then turned to the Right, and after great Labour reached the Beach, and about Ten o'Clock arrived within nearly Eight Hundred Yards of the Fort undiscovered. We had not advanced Fifty Yards farther, before the Enemy's Out-Sentry fired his Musket. Immediately after, a Detachment of the Enemy, with a Brigade of Guns, fired a Volley. We now pushed forward, keeping up a Fire of Musketry on the Detachment Outside, which drove them off. The Fort now opened a very heavy Fire of Grape and Musketry, notwithstanding which we crossed the Ditch and placed the Ladder on the Flank of the Bastion, on the Right of the Bridge, under a brisk Fire from the opposite Bastion. The Walls were scaled, and the Fort carried instantly, and an Officer and Sixty-eight Prisoners secured. As soon as Day-Light appeared, the Battery of Kota Barro opened a Fire; the Distance however was too far to do any Damage. Understanding it was open to the Rear, I ordered Lieutenant Cursham, with a Party, to advance and endeavour to gain Possession: he was however obliged to return, the Enemy having turned his heavy Guns and commenced a Fire of Grape.

In consequence of your having communicated to me your Intention of laying His Majesty's Ship Dover alongside Kota Barro, the Strand Batteries, Fort Orange, and the Town, I directed Lieutenant Cursham again to advance with the Six-Pounder and take Advantage of your Fire. The Enemy in the Course of the Day threw up a Breast Work across the Road, defended by Two Field Pieces. Lieutenant Cursham fired a few Rounds from the Six-Pounder, advanced and carried it. He then proceeded on and got Possession of Kota Barro, the Enemy only firing one Round, and turned the Guns towards the Strand Batteries and the Town, keeping up a Fire until the Flag of Truce was hoisted.

I cannot express to you how much the Service on this Occasion benefitted from the Exertions of the Officers, namely, Lieutenant Jefferies of the Royal Navy, Lieutenant Higginson, Royal Marines, and Lieutenants Charles Forbes and Cursham, of the Madras European Regiment. Their Bravery was conspicuous on every Occasion, and the Success in carrying the Fort is entirely to be attributed to their great Presence of Mind in conducting Men in a dark Night, preventing Confusion incident on such an Occasion, and the gallant Manner in which they mounted the Wall.

To the Marines, Seamen, Detachment of Artillery, and Detachment of Madras European Regiment, and the Detachment of the Amboynese Corps, every Praise that can be given to Men is due. The Fatigue endured by the Seamen, in dragging the Gun and bringing up the Ammunition, was great; and the Six Seamen who carried the Ladder are deserving of Notice. I have the Honour to inclose you a Return of the killed and wounded. I attribute the small Loss on this Occasion to the Darkness of the Night, and the Quickness of the Advance of the Party.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

CAPITULATION for Ternate.

Requested.

The Lieutenant-Colonel, Civil and Military Commandant, Johan Von Mittenann, proposes to Captain Edward Tucker, commanding His Britannic Majesty's Ship Dover, and the Forces employed against Ternate, to give over the said Island the 31st of this Month, provided no Succours be received by the Garrison ad interim. That all Hostilities shall cease on both Sides, and that there be no Communication between the Besiegers and the Besieged.

Agreed—Provided the Endeavour to cut off such Supplies be not deemed an Act of Hostility.

Art. I. THE Commandant, the Garrison, and other Military who have defended Ternate, shall march out of the Castle Gate with all the Honours of War, Drums beating, Colours flying, Matches lighted, with Two Brigades of Guns, and One Brigade of Mortars, and shall be received on board such Vessel or Vessels as the Commandant, &c. may embark in, with the Addition of Fifty Rounds of Ammunition for each Gun, and Thirty-six Rounds of Musket Ammunition, for each Soldier.

Answer—Granted. The Troops laying down their Arms, and delivering over their Colours on the Glacis, but the Officers will be permitted to retain their Swords. Neither Guns nor Ammunition can be allowed to embark.

Art. II. All the Officers and Soldiers, except such as are inclined to remain on the Island, shall, at the Expence of His Britannic Majesty, be as commodiously as possible transported to Java, in strong and well-formed Vessels, the Officers being permitted to carry with them their Families, Effects and Goods, without being visited.

Answer—Granted. But all Goods must pass through the Custom House.

Art. III. No Officer, Civil Servant, Soldier or Sailor, who shall be left here sick, shall be sent to Madras, or any other English Port; but on their Recovery, they shall be embarked for Java by the first Opportunity; neither shall they be forced into the British Service.

Answer—Granted.

Art. IV. All Officers, Civil Servants, Soldiers, and Sailors, and all others residing at Ternate, in the Service of the King of Holland, shall be subsisted at the Expence of the British Government from the Day of Surrender until their Arrival at Java.

Answer—Granted.

Art. V. Such Sick as shall remain in the Hospital shall be attended until they are recovered, and embarked by the Dutch Surgeons at the Expence of the British Government, such Surgeons to be also subsisted until their Arrival at Java.

Answer—Granted.

Art. VI. That all the Dutch Government Property shall be given over by Commissioners on both Sides, and that Copies of the same shall be given to the Dutch Officers for their Responsibility.

Answer—Agreed.

Art. VII. The Fortifications, Government, Magazines and Public Buildings belonging to the King of Holland, shall not be demolished, but be suffered to remain in their present State, particular Accounts of the same to be given to the respective Commissioners for their Responsibility.

Answer—Refused. But particular Accounts will be granted.

Art. VIII. The Military Officers, Civil Servants, Inhabitants, Merchants, and all other Persons residing at Ternate, and others belonging to Ternate, though absent, but having Attornies here, shall have their Persons and Property protected, and shall be allowed to dispose of the latter as they think proper, and to carry away with them in the Course of the next Twelve Months, such Merchandize as they may chuse, free of Duty.

Answer—Granted. But all the usual Duties must be paid.

Article IX. The Dutch Burghers and the other Inhabitants who wish to remain, shall be allowed to do so, and be protected, and enjoy the same Privileges as a British Subject.

Answer—Granted, provided they take the Oath of Allegiance to His Britannic Majesty.

Art. X. The Natives, Inhabitants, and other Persons of every Description, shall not be molested under the Pretence that they took up Arms in Defence of the Island against the English.

Answer—Granted.

Art. XI. All Government Papers shall remain in the Hands of the Commandant without Inspection.

Answer—Refused. But Copies will be allowed him for his Responsibility.

Art. XII. All the Public Papers, Documents, &c. of the several Colleges, and all Notary Acts shall remain under the Protection of the different Departments at Ternate.

Answer—Granted. But subject to the Inspection of the British Government.
