Copy of a Letter from Admiral Sir Charles Cotton Bart., late Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean, to John Wilson Croker Esq; Secretary to the Admiralty, dated San Jofes, off Toulon, 5th July 1811.

SIR,

THE Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty will be informed by my Dispatch No. 108, of the 4th Ultimo, of the State of Affairs in Catalonia up to the 24th May. I have now the Honour to transmit Accounts of the further Events in that Quarter to the 1st Instant, contained in the accompanying Extracts of Communications from Captains Codrington and Adam and Lieutenant-Colonel Green, as set forth in the Margin *, by which their Lordships will regret to see that the last Accounts brought me this Day by the Volontaire state the Town of Tarragona to have been stormed, taken, and set Fire to by the French Force under Suchet, on the 28th June.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

*Invincible, Tarragona Roads,

SIR,

ON the 28th in the Morning the Enemy opened his Fire on Fort Olivo from Two Batteries, one of Four Guns and a Mortar, the other of Three Guns and a Howitzer, placed on the Flank of the Fort. About Mid-day of the 29th Colonel Green examined the Works of the Olivo, owing to a Report from an Officer that its Defences were in a bad State, and he found them very much destroyed. At Night it was intended to substitute the Regiment of Almeria for that of Iberia, which had been hitherto in the Fort; and after Dark the former Regiment was marched out of the Town for that Purpose; but I am sorry to say the Enemy found Means to mingle himself with that Regiment, and he got Possession of the Olivo without firing a Shot, making Nine Hundred Men Prisoners.

* Captain Adam, 5th June, No. 1; Lieutenant-Colonel Green, 11th June, No. 2; Captain Codrington, 15th June, No. 4; 23d June, No. 6; 29th June, No. 7.

The Enemy's Force at present is considered to be between Ten and Eleven Thousand Men; he is supposed to have lost Four Thousand since the Commencement of the Siege in Killed and Wounded and Deserters.

The Spaniards, including the Prisoners made at the Olivo, have lost about Three Thousand.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

SIR,

Tarragona, 13th June 1811.

THE small advanced Work on the Sea Beach, called the Francoli, was destroyed in Four Hours by the Batteries thrown up in the Night of the 6th Instant, but its Situation was such as always to have made its Tenure very uncertain, by being very much detached. On this Occasion the Conduct of the Spanish Troops was particularly gallant. 31 Men who occupied the Francoli, to the Amount of about One Hundred and Forty-five, being either killed or wounded, and the Officer in Command having left the Fort the last Person. The Enemy has since made several Attempts to carry these Works, which protect the Communication between the Sea and the Town, but by the Vigilance and Bravery of Brigadier Sarsfield, who commands these Defences, they have been repulsed with considerable Loss, and, indeed, in one Instance, though the Enemy had rallied Three Times, he was completely defeated in his Object. But the very hard Work by Day in constructing Works for the Support of the Lines, which becomes necessary in consequence of the radical Defects of the Fortifications, and the constant Alarms and Attacks by Night, causes serious Anxiety for the earliest Relief.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

SIR, Blake, off Villa Nueva, 15th June, 1811.

AS Captain Adam has informed you of the Occurrences at Tarragona, during my Absence, up to the 5th June, I have only to add, that although the French have advanced their Works to within half Pistol Shot of the Lines of the Puerto, besides having entirely destroyed the Battery of Francoli, and formed a Post under the Position of its Ruins, they have been beaten off with very serious Loss on their part in some desperate Attempts to storm the Orleans and Saint Joseph Batteries; and that the Spaniards under General Sarsfield have made several successful Sorties with the few Troops that could be spared for the Purpose. My last Letter to you, dated 15th May, will have informed you of my Intention of proceeding to Valencia and Alicant with General Doyle, and I have now to make known to you the successful Result of our Visit to those Places.

Leaving Tarragona on the 16th we reached Peniscola on the Forenoon of the 17th, where finding the Invincible with Four empty Transports bound to Carthagena, I directed Captain Adam to remain until he heard further from me. From thence General Doyle wrote to General O'Donnell an Account of the Situation of Tarragona, and of my detaining Captain Adam at Peniscola in Readiness to receive any Reinforcements which he might be pleased to send to that Garrison. Upon our Arrival at Murviedra we found General O'Donnell had already ordered the Embarkation of Two Thousand Three Hundred Infantry, and Two Hundred and Eleven Artillery Men, &c. &c. which, by the Zeal and Exertion of Captain Adam, who received Seven Hundred of them on board the Invincible, were safely landed at Tarragona on the 22d.

Delivering to General O'Donnell Two Thousand Stand of Arms, Accoutrements, and Clothing, to enable him to bring into the Field as many of the Recruits already trained as would supply the Place of the regular Soldiers thus detached from his Army, we proceeded to Valencia, and landed the Remainder of our Cargo; by which means the Troops of General Villa Campa, then dispersed as Peasantry for Want of Arms, were enabled again to take the Field, and the Corps of Mina, Empecinado completed in all the Requisites for active Warfare, and the Army of Aragon thus brought forward to act in concert with the Movements of that of Valencia.

At Alicant we procured as many necessary Materials for Tarragona as the Ship would actually stow, besides Eighty Artillery Men, and a considerable Quantity of Powder, Ball Cartridge, Lead, &c. &c. sent in the Paloma Spanish Corvette from Carthagena, in company with a Spanish Transport from Cadiz, deeply laden with similar Supplies. As it was impossible to receive these Stores on board the Blake, they were conveyed at my Request in the Paloma, with the Ship under Convoy, directly to Tarragona.

After returning to Valencia, where we landed the additional Arms, &c. for the Aragonese Army, we moved on to Murviedro; where the Count of Bisbal proceeded from Valencia to join us in a Consultation with his Brother, although, on account of his Wound, he was very unfit for such a Journey. The Result of this Conference was a Determination on the part of General O'Donnell to commit to my Protection, for the Succour of Tarragona, another Division of his best Troops, under Major-General Miranda, consisting of Four Thousand Men, whilst he himself would move forward with the Remainder of his Army to the Banks of the Ebro; where, in concert with the Aragonese Division, he might threaten, and perhaps destroy the different Depôts of General Suchet.

I therefore hastened to Tarragona, to collect the necessary Shipping, for the Purpose of giving Action to these liberal and patriotic Intentions. Again, fortunately meeting the Invincible on the Night of the 6th, I directed Captain Adam to anchor at Peniscola, and wait my Return to that Rendezvous in Company with Captain Pringle, whom I ordered to do the same with the Sparrowhawk and the Transport William, whenever he should have landed the Mortars, &c. at Valencia, with which he was charged.

On the Morning of the 7th we reached Tarragona, landed the whole of our Cargo in the course of the Night; and, after a Consultation with General Contreras, again left that Anchorage at Ten o'Clock in the Forenoon of the 8th, taking the Paloma along with us.

We reached Peniscola on the Noon of the 9th, where the Invincible had already anchored with the Four Transports, and were joined on the 10th by the Centaur, Sparrowhawk, and William Transport.

From the critical Situation of Tarragona I left Orders with Captain Bullen, that whatever Ships of War might arrive before my Return, should join me immediately; and to Captain White's Promptness in obeying this Order and consenting in common with Captain Adam and myself to receive each a Battalion of Eight Hundred Troops, with the proper Proportion of Officers, I am indebted for the Power of embarking the whole Four Thousand on the Forenoon of the 11th, and landing them at the Garrison of Tarragona during the Night of the 12th.

As soon as the Troops were ready for Embarkation at Peniscola, I sent the Sparrowhawk forward to prepare the Garrison and also the Marquis of Campo Verde for our Arrival, and in consequence of the Marquis's Letter in answer to General Miranda requested I would again embark his Division for the Purpose of joining the Marquis in the Neighbourhood of Villa Nueva de Sitges, in order to threaten the Flank of the besieging Army. And this further Service was so speedily executed by means of the Boats of the Squadron, that the whole Division was again safely landed at this Place on the Evening of Yesterday, from whence it marched this Morning for Villa Franca, intending to join the Marquis of Campo Verde, To-morrow, at Igualada.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Blake, in Tarragona Roads,
June 23, 1811.

SIR,
BESIDES employing the Gun-Boats and Launches during the whole of every Night in annoying the Enemy's working Parties, I have supplied the Garrison with above Three Thousand Sand Bags made by the Squadron, and sent all the Women, Children, and wounded People by the Transports to Villa Nueva, added to which the Boats of the Squadron under the particular Directions of Captain Adam, but assisted by Captain White and myself, took off above Two Hundred Men who retreated to the Mole after the French had taken the Batteries, and who were safely landed again during the Night at the Milagro, that is, within the Works on the East Side of the Town. And in order to counteract the Depression, which might ensue from the extensive and unexpected Advantages gained by the Enemy on the Night of the 21st, I Yesterday led the Squadron as near to the Mole and Puerto as could be done with Safety, and drove the Enemy from the advanced Position they had taken. This Position, which was taken with the View of picking off the Artillerymen at their Guns, as they did on the Lines of the Puerto, was immediately afterwards, and still remains, occupied by the Spanish Guerillas.

But the French are making a Work near the Fuerte Real Battery from which they will quickly breach the Wall of the Town, and are digging their Trenches in such a Direction as will secure them from the Fire of the Shipping. In the mean time they are destroying the Custom-House, the large Stores, and all the Buildings of the Puerto, in order, I presume, to ruin the Place as much as possible, and I have no Doubt but the Town will share the same Fate, if it should unfortunately fall into their Hands.

The Baron de Eroles has taken a Convoy of Five Hundred Mules laden, and destroyed some of the Escort.

The Exertion and Ability of the French in besieging this Place has never, I believe, been exceeded, and, I trust, the brave Garrison will still make a Defence worthy the brilliant Example which has been set them in some other Parts of the Peninsula. But I am sorry to say the Safety of the Place now seems to depend particularly upon the Army of the Marquis of Campo Verde; and, I fear, the Town will eventually fall a Prey to the merciless and sanguinary Enemy, who has so greatly circumscribed its Means of Defence.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Blake, off Tarragona, 29th June 1811.

SIR,

YESTERDAY Morning, at Dawn of Day, the French opened their Fire upon the Town; about Half past Five in the Afternoon a Breach was made in the Works, and the Place carried by Assault immediately afterwards. From the Rapidity with which they entered, I fear they met with but little Opposition; and upon the Barcelona Side a general Panic took place. Those already without the Walls stripped and endeavoured to swim off to the Shipping, while those within were seen sliding down the Face of the Batteries; each Party thus equally endangering their Lives more than they would have done by a firm Resistance to the Enemy.

A large Mass of People, some with Muskets and some without, then pressed forward along the Road, suffering themselves to be fired upon by about Twenty French, who continued running beside them at only a few Yards Distance. At length they were stopped entirely by a Volley of Fire from One small Party of the Enemy, who had entrenched themselves at a Turn of the Road, supported by a second a little higher up, who opened a masked Battery of Two Field Pieces. A horrible Butchery then ensued; and shortly afterwards the Remainder of these poor Wretches, amounting to above Three Thousand, tamely submitted to be led away Prisoners by less than as many Hundred French.

The Launches and Gun Boats went from the Ships the Instant the Enemy were observed by the Invincible (which lay to the Westward) to be collecting in their Trenches; and yet, so rapid was their Success, that the whole was over before we could open our Fire with Effect.

All the Boats of the Squadron and Transports were sent to assist those who were swimming or concealed under the Rocks; and, notwithstanding a heavy Fire of Musketry and Field Pieces, which was warmly and successfully returned by the Launches and Gun Boats, from Five to Six Hundred were then brought off to the Shipping, many of them badly wounded.

I cannot conclude my History of our Operations at Tarragona without assuring you, that the Zeal and Exertion of those under my Command, in every Branch of the various Services which have fallen to their Lot, has been carried far beyond the mere Dictates of Duty.

The Invincible and Centaur have remained with me the whole Time immediately off Tarragona, and Captains Adam, White, and myself have passed most Nights in our Gigs, carrying on such Operations under Cover of the Dark as could not have been successfully employed in the Sight of the Enemy; I do not mean as to mere Danger, for the Boats have been assailed with Shot and Shells both Night and Day, even during the Time of their taking off the Women and Children, as well as the Wounded, without being in the smallest Degree diverted from their Purpose.

It is impossible to detail in a Letter all that has passed during this short but tragic Period. But Humanity has given increased Excitement to our Exertions; and the bodily Powers of Captain Adam have enabled him perhaps to push to greater Extent that Desire to relieve Distress which we have all partaken in common.

Our own Ships, as well as the Transports, have been the Receptacles of the miserable Objects which saw no Shelter but in the English Squadron; and you will see by the Orders which I have found it necessary to give, that we have been called upon to clothe the naked, and feed the starving, beyond the regular Rules of our Service.

Our Boats have suffered occasionally from the Shot of the Enemy, as well as from the Rocks from which they have embarked the People; amongst others the Barge of the Blake, which however I was so fortunate as to recover after being swamped and overset, in consequence of a Shot passing through both her Sides, with the Loss only of One Woman and Child killed out of Twelve, which were then on board in addition to her Crew. But the only Casualty of Importance which has happened in the Squadron is that which befel the Centaur's Launch on the Evening of the 28th, and I beg to refer you particularly to the Observations of Captain White respecting Lieutenant Ashworth, whose Conduct and whole Misfortune entitle him to every Consideration. I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) EDWARD CODRINGTON.

CAPT. CODRINGTON further states, that he had received Intelligence that General Contreras was wounded and made Prisoner, and that the General personally distinguished himself; that the Governor (Gonzalez), with a Handful of Men, defended himself to the last, and was bayoneted to Death in the Square near his House; that Man, Woman, and Child were put to the Sword upon the French first entering the Town, and afterwards all those found in Uniform or with Arms in their Houses; and that many of the Women, and young Girls of Ten Years old, were treated in the most inhuman Way; and that after the Soldiers had satisfied their Lust, many of them, it was reported, were thrown into the Flames, together with the badly wounded Spaniards; One Thousand Men had been left to destroy the Works; the whole City was burnt to Ashes, or would be so, as the Houses were all set Fire to, the only Chance in their Favour was the calm Weather and the sudden March of the French, by which some Houses might escape.

GENERAL MEMORANDUM.

WHEREAS from the present distressed Situation of Tarragona many Families may be obliged to embark without the necessary Means of Existence, until they can be conveyed to other Places on the Coast, where the customary Generosity of the People will ensure them a Share of what they may have for their own Subsistence:

It is my Direction that the Ships of the English Squadron furnish them with such Provision, for the Time of their Embarkation and Transport, as the Humanity and Liberality of our Country will dictate.

A separate Account of the Provision so expended is hereafter to be given to me, regularly signed by the proper Officers, for the Information of the Victualling Board, instead of the People being borne for Victuals as Passengers usually are.

(Signed) EDWARD CODRINGTON.
Blake, in Tarragona Roads, 25th June 1811.

GENERAL MEMORANDUM.

WHEREAS in consequence of the Town of Tarragona being taken this Evening by Assault, Numbers of the Troops and Inhabitants have been received on board the different Ships and Vessels of the Squadron perfectly naked, it is my Direction that they may be supplied with such Articles of Cloathing as a due regard to Decency and Humanity may absolutely require.

To the above Return I beg Leave to add, that Lieutenant Ashworth's excellent Character and Conduct makes me feel most sincerely for his present Sufferings; and that there is great Room to apprehend the dangerous Wound he has received in the Knee Joint by a Cannon-Shot, may render Amputation necessary; in the present State of his Wound, a stiff Joint is the most probable Cure to be expected.
