Downing-Street, November 2, 1811.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is an Extract, has been this Day received at the Earl of Liverpool's Office, addressed to His Lordship by General Viscount Wellington, dated Frenada, October 16, 1811.

THERE has been no material Alteration in the Position of the Enemy's Troops since I addressed you last.

The Army of Portugal are cantoned beyond Placentia, having One Division at Placentia, with their Advanced Posts on the Alagon, and the Cavalry on the North Side of the Mountains which divide Castile from Estremadura, about Penacanda.

I learn from Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Howard Douglas, that the Enemy are fortifying the Posts which they occupy in Front of the Army of Galicia.—One Division of the 5th Corps, with a considerable Body of Cavalry, have crossed the Guadiana at Merida, under General Girard; and the Remainder of the Corps was to the South of that River.

I have received a Report, that Don Julian Sanchez yesterday carried off a large Proportion of the Cattle grazing near Ciudad Rodrigo, and destined for the Supply of the Garrison; and he made Prisoner the Governor, General Reynaud, either by Surprise, or in consequence of the latter having endeavoured to save the Cattle with a very inadequate Force.
