ment has not before been furnished with any supply of the said articles during the same season; and provided also that the exportation of the said articles shall in no case exceed the value of Fifty Pounds Sterling for any given plantation or settlement, whether by one or more shipments within the same season: And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, and the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, are to give the necessary directions hereunto in that behalf respectively appertaining.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, January 28, 1812.

A LETTER, of which the following is an extract, has been received at the Office of the Earl of Liverpool from Colonel Green, employed on a particular service in Catalonia, dated ~~Vich~~ 9th December 1812.

ON the 1st of this month, the ~~army~~ <sup>army</sup> united all his disposable force in the Ampurdan, for the purpose of passing the convoy to Barcelona; the garrisons of Mont Luis, Belgarde, and Perpignan were reduced to guards, the better to support this undertaking, and combining his movements with the garrison of Barcelona and the flying corps of the Baron de la Tour. On the 3d instant, the divisions commenced their movements to unite in Granoulliers, for the purpose of destroying the Catalan corps which were organizing in this province, and passing afterwards in security the rich convoy which waits in Gerona.

General Lacy immediately disposed his troops; the Baron Eroles was charged to oppose the enemy which came from the Ampurdan, whilst the General in Chief, with Brigadier Sarsfield, opposed those which came from Barcelona.

At seven o'clock in the morning, the division of the Baron Eroles opened fire, and, notwithstanding the artillery and superior force of the enemy, sustained the attack till one in the afternoon, disputing every inch of ground.

The enemy, who counted upon an union of twelve thousand men in Granoulliers, effected it, but after some loss.

General Lacy, penetrating the views of the enemy, that they wished to pass to the city of Vich, for the purpose of destroying the Authorities re-united in that city, and the little depôts of the army, with a rapid movement formed in the Garriga and St. Felieu, the only passes which lead to Vich.

On the 5th instant, the enemy, with four thousand infantry and four hundred cavalry, and four pieces of artillery, attacked the pass of the Garriga where General Lacy was, decided to penetrate, and destroy the little Spanish force, which consisted of fifteen hundred infantry and two hundred cavalry, without artillery. The Spanish troops received the enemy with the greatest serenity, drove them back twice, caused them a great loss, and eventually obliged them to retire, pursued by the light troops, Brigadier Sarsfield following them to the neighbourhood of Hosterlich, after having made them sensible of his bayonets.

The enemy from the Ampurdan has retired to Gerona and Figueras, and the column of La Tour and the garrison of Barcelona have retired to that city, from whence it is not improbable that La Tour has marched to the relief of Tarragona, which is blockaded by Colonel O'Ryan's corps, consisting of about fifteen hundred men.
