MY LORD, Gallegos, Jan. 29th, 1812.

MAJOR GENERAL CRAUFURD died on the 24th inst. of the wounds which he received on the 19th. while leading the Light Division of this Army to the assault of Ciudad Rodrigo.

Although the conduct of Major-General Craufurd on the occasion on which these wounds were received, and the circumstances which occurred have excited the admiration of every officer in the army, I cannot report his death to your Lordship without expressing my sorrow and regret, that His Majesty has been deprived of the services, and I of the assistance of an officer of tried talents and experience, who was an ornament to his profession, and was calculated to render the most important services to his country.

I have the honour to be, &c.

WELLINGTON.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Liverpool,
 &c. &c. &c.

Extract of a Dispatch from General the Earl of Wellington to the Earl of Liverpool, dated Gallegos, January 29th, 1812.

MARSHAL MARMONT arrived at Salamanca on the 22d inst. and the six divisions of Infantry of the army of Portugal were collected in the neighbourhood of Alba and Salamanca on the 23d and 24th.

“ General Souham’s division, with about six hundred cavalry and some artillery, were sent to Matilla on the 23d, and patroled to San Munoz and Tamames. The movement of this division was intended to ascertain the fact of the fall of Ciudad Rodrigo, and they retired again to the Tormes on the 26th.

“ We have been employed in repairing the damages which our fire had done to Ciudad Rodrigo. For some days, it has not been possible to take the place by a Coup-de-Main; and I hope that in a short time, the works will be in a good state of defence.
