AT the Court at Carlton House, the 21st of April 1812,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the Government of France has, by an Official Report, communicated by its Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Conservative Senate, on the 10th of March last, removed all doubts as to the perseverance of that Government in the assertion of principles, and in the maintenance of a system, not more hostile to the Maritime Rights and Commercial Interests of the British Empire, than inconsistent with the rights and independence of Neutral Nations, and has thereby plainly developed the inordinate pretensions which that system, as promulgated in the Decrees of Berlin and Milan, was from the first designed to enforce :

And whereas His Majesty has invariably professed his readiness to revoke the Orders in Council adopted thereupon, as soon as the said Decrees of the Enemy should be formally and unconditionally repealed, and the commerce of Neutral Nations restored to its accustomed course :

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent (anxious to give the most decisive proof of His Royal Highness's disposition to perform the engagements of His Majesty's Government) is pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, That if, at any time hereafter, the Berlin and Milan Decrees shall, by some authentic Act of the French Government, publicly promulgated, be absolutely and unconditionally repealed, then, and from thenceforth, the Order in Council of the seventh day of January one thousand eight hundred and seven, and the Order in Council of the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred and nine, shall, without any further Order, be, and the same are hereby, declared from thenceforth to be wholly and absolutely revoked : And further, that the full benefit of this Order shall be extended to any ship or cargo captured subsequent to such authentic Act of Repeal of the French Decrees, although antecedent to such repeal such ship or vessel shall have commenced and shall be in the prosecution of a voyage which, under the said Orders in Council, or one of them, would have subjected her to capture and condemnation ; and the claimant of any ship or cargo which shall be captured or brought to adjudication, on account of any alleged breach of either of the said Orders in Council, at any time subsequent to such authentic Act of Repeal by the French Government, shall, without any further Order or Declaration on the part of His Majesty's Government on this subject, be at liberty to give in evidence in the High Court of Admiralty, or any Court of Vice-Admiralty before which such ship or cargo shall be brought for adjudication, that such repeal by the French Government had been, by such authentic Act promulgated prior to such capture ; and upon proof thereof, the voyage shall be deemed and taken to have been as lawful as if the said Orders in Council had never been made ; Saving nevertheless to the captors such protection and indemnity as they may be equitably entitled to in the judgment of the said Court, by reason of their ignorance, or uncertainty as to the repeal of the French Decrees, or of the recognition of such repeal by His Majesty's Government at the time of such capture,

His Royal Highness, however, deems it proper to declare, that, should the repeal of the French Decrees, thus anticipated and provided for, prove afterwards to have been illusory on the part of the Enemy; and should the restrictions thereof be still practically enforced, or revived by the Enemy;—Great Britain will be compelled, however reluctantly, after reasonable notice, to have recourse to such measures of retaliation as may then appear to be just and necessary.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and the Judge of the High Court of Admiralty, and the Judges of the Courts of Vice-Admiralty, are to take the necessary measures herein as to them shall respectively appertain.

CHETWYND.

DECLARATION.

THE Government of France having by an official report, communicated by its Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Conservative Senate on the 10th day of March last, removed all doubts as to the perseverance of that Government in the assertion of principles, and in the maintenance of a system, not more hostile to the maritime rights and commercial interests of the British Empire, than inconsistent with the rights and independence of Neutral Nations—and having thereby plainly developed the inordinate pretensions which that system, as promulgated in the Decrees of Berlin and Milan, was from the first designed to enforce; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, Acting in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, deems it proper, upon this formal and authentic republication of the principles of those Decrees, thus publicly to declare His Royal Highness's determination still firmly to resist the introduction and establishment of this arbitrary code, which the Government of France openly avows its purpose to impose by force upon the world—as the Law of Nations.

From the time that the progressive injustice and violence of the French Government made it impossible for His Majesty any longer to restrain the exercise of the rights of war within their ordinary limits, without submitting to consequences not less ruinous to the commerce of his dominions, than derogatory to the rights of his Crown, His Majesty has endeavoured, by a restricted and moderate use of those rights of Retaliation, which the Berlin and Milan Decrees necessarily called into action, to reconcile Neutral States to those measures, which the conduct of the enemy had rendered unavoidable; and which His Majesty has at all times professed his readiness to revoke, so soon as the Decrees of the enemy, which gave occasion to them, should be formally and unconditionally repealed; and the commerce of Neutral Nations be restored to its accustomed course.

At a subsequent period of the war, His Majesty, availing himself of the then situation of Europe, without abandoning the principle and object of the Orders in Council of November 1807, was induced so to limit their operation, as materially to alleviate the restrictions thereby imposed upon neutral commerce.

The Order in Council of April 1809 was substituted in the room of those of November 1807, and the retaliatory system of Great Britain acted no longer on every country, in which the aggressive measures of the enemy were in force; but was confined in its operation to France, and to the countries, upon which the French yoke was most strictly imposed; and which had become virtually a part of the dominions of France.

The United States of America remained nevertheless dissatisfied; and their dissatisfaction has been greatly increased by an artifice too successfully employed on the part of the enemy, who has pretended, that the Decrees of Berlin and Milan were repealed, although the decree effecting such repeal has never been promulgated; although the notification of such pretended repeal distinctly described it to be dependent on conditions, in which the enemy knew Great Britain could never acquiesce; and although abundant evidence has since appeared of their subsequent execution.

But the Enemy has at length laid aside all dissimulation; he now publicly and solemnly declares, not only that those Decrees still continue in force, but that they shall be rigidly executed, until Great Britain shall comply with additional conditions, equally extravagant: and he further announces the penalties of those Decrees to be in full force against all nations, which shall suffer their flag to be, as it is termed in this new code, “denationalized.”

In addition to the disavowal of the blockade of May 1806, and of the principles on which that blockade was established, and in addition to the repeal of the British Orders in Council—he demands an admission of the principles, that the goods of an enemy, carried under a neutral flag, shall be treated as neutral;—that neutral property, under the flag of an enemy, shall be treated as hostile;—that arms and warlike stores alone (to the exclusion of ship-timber and other articles of naval equipment) shall be regarded as contraband of war;—and that no ports shall be considered as lawfully blockaded, except such as are invested and besieged, in the presumption of their being taken, [en prevention d'être pris], and into which a merchant ship cannot enter without danger.

By these and other demands, the Enemy in fact requires, that Great Britain, and all civilized nations, shall renounce, at his arbitrary pleasure, the ordinary and indisputable rights of maritime War; that Great Britain, in particular, shall forego the advantages of her naval superiority, and allow the commercial property, as well as the produce and manufactures of France, and her confederates, to pass the ocean in security; whilst the subjects of Great Britain are to be, in effect, proscribed from all commercial Interchange with other nations; and the produce and manufactures of these realms are to be excluded from every country in the world, to which the arms or the influence of the enemy can extend.

Such are the demands to which the British Government is summoned to submit, to the abandonment of its most ancient, essential, and undoubted maritime Rights. Such is the Code by which France hopes, under the cover of a neutral flag, to render her commerce unassailable by sea; whilst she proceeds to invade or to incorporate with her own dominions all states that hesitate to sacrifice their national interests at her command; and in abdication of their just rights, to adopt a code, by which they are required to exclude, under the Mask of municipal Regulation, whatever is British from their dominions.

The pretext for these extravagant demands is, that some of these Principles were adopted by voluntary compact in the Treaty of Utrecht; as if a Treaty once existing between two particular countries, founded on special and reciprocal considerations, binding only on the Contracting Parties, and which in the last Treaty of peace between the same Powers, had not been revived, were to be regarded as declaratory of the public law of Nations.

It is needless for His Royal Highness to demonstrate the injustice of such pretensions. He might otherwise appeal to the Practice of France herself, in this and in former wars; and to her own established Codes of maritime law: It is sufficient that these new demands of the enemy form a wide departure from those conditions on which the alleged repeal of the French Decrees was accepted by America; and upon which alone, erroneously assuming that repeal to be complete, America has claimed a revocation of the British Orders in Council.

His Royal Highness, upon a review of all these circumstances, feels persuaded that so soon as this formal declaration, by the Government of France, of its unabated adherence to the principles and provisions of the Berlin and Milan Decrees, shall be made known in America, the Government of the United States, actuated not less by a sense of justice to Great Britain, than by what is due to its own dignity, will be disposed to recall those measures of hostile exclusion, which, under a misconception of the real views and conduct of the French Government, America has exclusively applied to the commerce and ships of war of Great Britain.

To accelerate a result so advantageous to the true interests of both countries, and so conducive to the re-establishment of perfect friendship between them; and to give a decisive proof of His Royal Highness's disposition to perform the engagements of His Majesty's Government, by revoking the Orders in Council, whenever the French Decrees shall be actually and unconditionally repealed; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, has been this day pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to order and declare:

"That if at any time hereafter, the Berlin and Milan Decrees shall, by some authentic act of the French Government, publicly promulgated, be absolutely and unconditionally repealed; then and from thenceforth, the Order in Council of the 7th day of January 1807, and the Order in Council of the 26th day of April 1809, shall, without any further order be, and the same are hereby declared from thenceforth to be wholly and absolutely revoked: and further, that the full benefit of this Order shall be extended to any ship or cargo captured subsequent to such authentic Act of repeal of the French Decrees, although, antecedent to such repeal such ship or vessel shall have commenced, and shall be in the prosecution of a voyage, which, under the said Orders in Council, or one of them, would have subjected her to capture and condemnation, and the claimant of any ship or cargo which shall be captured or brought to adjudication, on account of any alleged breach of either of the said Orders in Council, at any time subsequent to such authentic act of repeal by the French Government shall, without any further Order or Declaration on the part of His Majesty's Government on this subject, be at liberty to give in evidence in the High Court of Admiralty or any Court of Vice-Admiralty, before which such ship or cargo shall be brought for adjudication, that such repeal by the French Government had been by such authentic act promulgated prior to such capture; and upon proof thereof, the voyage shall be deemed and taken to have been as lawful, as if the said Orders in Council had never been made; saving nevertheless to the captors, such protection and indemnity, as they may be equitably entitled to in the judgement of the said Court, by reason of their ignorance, or uncertainty as to the repeal of the French Decrees, or of the recognition of such repeal by His Majesty's Government, at the time of such capture.

"His Royal Highness however deems it proper to declare, that, should the repeal of the French Decrees, thus anticipated and provided for, prove afterwards to have been illusory on the part of the enemy; and should the restrictions thereof be still practically enforced, or revived by the enemy, Great Britain will be compelled, however reluctantly, after reasonable notice, to have recourse to such measures of retaliation, as may then appear to be just and necessary."

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 17th of April 1812,

PRESENT,

The Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS it hath been represented, that there is no longer any necessity for continuing the quarantine, which was laid by Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, bearing date the fourth day of October one thousand eight hundred and ten, on all ships and vessels coming directly or circuitously from, or having touched at, the Havannah, or any other port in the Island of Cubas; it is therefore ordered, that the said Order in Council, of the fourth day of October one thousand eight hundred and ten, be, and the same is hereby, revoked: And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, His Majesty's Secretary at War, and the Governors and Commanders in Chief for the time being of the Isles of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, and Man, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

His Majesty's Sloop Blossom, off Cabrera,
SIR, 23d February 1812.

THIS forenoon, at ten o'clock, Cabrera bearing E. S. E. five leagues, a schooner was seen southward. Mistaking us for a merchantman she came pretty near us before she perceived her mistake. At half-past twelve o'clock she made sail from us; at five our shot brought her to, after trying us by and large. She proved to be Le Jean Bart, launched at Marseilles five weeks ago, carrying one hundred and six men, armed with five twelve and two six-pounders, commanded by Monsieur Jean Francis Coulome.

She sailed on the 17th instant on her first cruise, is copper-bottomed, copper fastened, one hundred and forty-seven and a half tons burthen; as fine a vessel of her class as I have seen, has made no capture, and has been chased by two frigates and a brig within the last five days, but escaped by her admirable sailing;

The Jean Bart was in every respect well calculated to do much mischief to commerce.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Apollo, off Cape
SIR, Corse, Feb. 14, 1812.

IN rounding Cape Corse, at daybreak yesterday morning, I fell in with a French frigate-built storeship and a corvette.

After closing from to leeward the former struck, and proves to be the Merinos, commanded by M.

Honoré Coardonan, Captain of a Frigate, and of the Legion of Honour; is quite new, eight hundred and fifty tons, pierced for thirty-six, but mounting only twenty guns, eight-pounders, with one hundred and twenty-six men, six of whom were killed, and twenty wounded. She was going to Sagona for Timber.

I have the satisfaction to state that we have suffered no loss, although exposed to the fire of the batteries on the Cape and Island of Gioeglia above four hours, nearly becalmed.

Notwithstanding the signals made to the corvette from the Commodore, for her assistance, she made her escape with the help of boats from the shore. She is the Mohawk, formerly English, taken in 1799, of one hundred and thirty men, and a few conscripts.

I have reason to be much gratified with the conduct of all the officers and ship's company, particularly with Mr. James Begbie, First Lieutenant of the Apollo, who has distinguished himself upon several occasions.

I have the honour to be, &c.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is a copy, was yesterday received at Lord Liverpool's Office, addressed to his Lordship by Lieutenant-General Campbell, dated Gibraltar, 25th of February 1812.

MY LORD, Gibraltar, February 25, 1812.

I HAVE the honour to inclose the translation of a letter from General Ballesteros, reporting the result of his action with the enemy at Cartamar, in the vicinity of Malaga.

Part of the reinforcement from the Isle de Leon has arrived; and General Ballasteros is appointed Captain-General of the four kingdoms of Andalusia, and Commander in Chief of the fourth army.

I have the honour to be &c.

(Signed) COLIN CAMPBELL.

SIR, Yunquera, February 17, 1812.

I HAVE the satisfaction to communicate to your Excellency, that yesterday morning, with two thousand infantry and three hundred cavalry, I attacked General Maranzin, Governor of Malaga, who was at Cartamar with two thousand infantry and four hundred horse.

No. 16596.

He was completely routed and pursued to within a league of Malaga; Maranzin, and the whole of the chiefs were killed, many officers, and more than twelve hundred men, hors de combat.

Knowing the interest your Excellency feels in my success, I lose not a moment in communicating it, assuring your Excellency that the bravery and discipline displayed by my troops on this occasion, exceeded their conduct at Albuera.

With these operations, I have put all the forces of Andalusia in motion towards me, but I flatter myself they will soon be obliged to disperse, and obtain no other advantages than the inconveniences that must attend their marches, and a want of provisions, by which I shall have accomplished my object in this campaign.

I have the honour to be,

(Signed) FRANCISCO VALLESTEROS.

Campbell, &c. &c. &c.
