And Twenty-two private Acts.

Carlton-House, May 22, 1812.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Sheriffs, Common-Council, and Officers of the City of London, waited upon His Royal Highness the Prince Regent with the following Address, which was read by John Silvester, Esq; the Recorder:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common-Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common-Council assembled, most humbly approach your Royal Highness, for the purpose of expressing to your Royal Highness our deep concern, and of dutifully tendering to you our condolence, on occasion of the severe loss recently sustained by your Royal Highness and the Country in the death of the late Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

We have been called, Sir, in common with the rest of His Majesty's subjects, to contemplate a dispensation most awfully awakening in its nature, most lamentable in its consequences. We have seen a Minister, to whose public conduct (whatever differences may exist amongst us or others of His Majesty's subjects, with respect to the policy of measures adopted by the Government of which he was a member) all must agree in ascribing the praise due to patriotism the most ardent and disinterested, to integrity the most inflexible, to industry the most persevering, to manners the most conciliatory, and whose private virtues were calculated to be the example, as they must have been the admiration, of all who were witnesses of his domestic life, arrested in his career, by the hand of an assassin, at the doors of that House, which had so repeatedly been the scene of his eloquent exertions as a senator of the realm, and in an instant your Royal Highness deprived of a most faithful servant, and the Country of one of her brightest ornaments. We do not attempt to give utterance to feelings which language cannot express, but which your Royal Highness, in reference to sensations to which you must have yourself been subject, can be at no loss to form an adequate conception. The horror, the detestation, and the grief excited in our minds by the commission and consequences of a crime so atrocious, as that which has been the occasion of our appearance before your Royal Highness, are not, we trust, inconsistent with the submission with which it is our duty, and, we would hope, our inclination to bow to this inscrutable dispensation.

Amidst the poignancy of feeling consequent upon this most distressing event, we beg leave most dutifully to represent to your Royal Highness the consolation which we have derived, and the motives of thankfulness with which we have been furnished, from the reflection, that a crime, of which happily but few instances are recorded in the annals of our history, was the act of a single individual, and that its perpetration does not involve the character of the Nation.

Whilst we have felt it to be incumbent upon us to lay before your Royal Highness this expression of our condolence, we should consider that we had ill discharged our duty, either to your Royal Highness or ourselves, were we to omit assuring your Royal Highness of the grateful sense we entertain of the promptitude with which your Royal Highness has been pleased to signify to Parliament your wish to be enabled to make a suitable provision for the widow and numerous offspring of the deceased Minister; and we beg leave most humbly to express our firm conviction, that in the measures which may be adopted to give effect to feelings so worthy of your Royal Highness as the representative of our venerable and most gracious Sovereign, and as the Heir Apparent to his Crown, the Legislature will be seconded by the unanimous voice of the Nation, over which your Royal Highness is called to preside.

Signed, by order of Court,

HENRY WOODTHORPE.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

I thank you for your dutiful Address.

The sentiments which you have expressed, of deep regret for the severe loss which the Country has sustained by the death of Mr. Perceval, of a high sense of his eminent talents and virtues, and of abhorrence of the atrocious act which has closed so useful and exemplary a life, are most consonant to my own opinions and feelings.

My mind is relieved from the most painful sensations, by the proof afforded upon the trial of the assassin, that this dreadful act was not connected with any sanguinary system; and I trust that our annals will not again be sullied by a crime, which the generous and manly character of the British People has ever held in peculiar detestation.

In recommending to Parliament to make a suitable provision for his widow and family, I have discharged a duty to the People committed to my charge; and I am gratified by the assurances, that this act of justice towards departed merit will be seconded by the unanimous voice of the Nation.

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing His Royal Highness's hand.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Liverymen of the City of London, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the strongest assurances of attachment to your person, and of our resolution to support your government with zeal, constancy and firmness.

While we sympathise most deeply with your Royal Highness on the lamented indisposition of our venerable and beloved Sovereign, we eagerly seize this opportunity to convey to your Royal Highness the ardent feelings of gratitude excited in our breasts by the numerous blessings which we have enjoyed during the long and glorious reign of your Royal Father; and more especially by the unequivocal proofs so repeatedly afforded, under circumstances of peculiar difficulty, of his sacred regard for those fundamental principles of the constitution which seated your illustrious family on the throne of these realms.

Most cordially do we congratulate your Royal Highness on the brilliant success which has distinguished His Majesty's arms, during the short period of the Regency, in different quarters of the globe, by sea and land; success not less beneficial in its immediate effects than in its remote consequences, since it affords a strong ground of hope, that by a continued display of the same consummate skill and bravery, on the part of His Majesty's officers and men, and of the same wisdom and vigour in the Councils of your Royal Highness, you will be enabled ultimately to bring the arduous contest in which we are engaged to an honourable termination.

At the same time we reflect with pride on the measures pursued by your Royal Highness, for the support of the national character, by the preservation of the national faith with His Majesty's allies; for the determination to persevere in that glorious struggle for independence on the Peninsula, which is the common cause of all who enjoy and appreciate the blessings of national freedom; for the anxiety manifested by your Royal Highness to support the commercial credit of the nation, and to promote the general welfare and happiness of the country; and while we deeply lament the pressure of the times, caused by difficulties in trade and manufactures, arising from the nature of the present contest, and partly from the dearness of corn, we cannot but express our indignation at the attempts which have been made to indispose the people against the government, for events which have so evidently been beyond their controul.

From our experience of the past, we are led to congratulate the country on the existence of a well-grounded hope, that the civil and religious liberties of the nation, as finally settled and firmly established at the memorable era of the Revolution, and the Protestant ascendancy, to which, under Providence, we are indebted for the inestimable blessings we are permitted to enjoy, will be maintained inviolate.

Relying on the goodness of the Almighty, for a continuance of these blessings, we ardently pray that your Royal Highness may long be preserved to the nation, in health, prosperity, and happiness.

*Christopher Smith, Chairman.

[Presented by a Deputation of the Livery, consisting of the following Gentlemen, viz. Messrs. Samuel Dixon, A. D. Welch, R. H. Marten, J. Jacks, J. Garratt, D. Gossett, H. Parry, J. Lodge, R. Rothwell, Ed. Manley.]

[This loyal Address was signed by 1765 persons.]

May it please your Royal Highness;

WE, the Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the county of Selkirk, presume, in the present important crisis of public affairs, to approach your royal person with the assurances of our unalterable and zealous attachment to the crown and constitution of the British empire.

When it pleased God, whose judgements are unsearchable, to interrupt the government of your august father, our benignant and beloved Sovereign, by an affliction the most calamitous, we beheld your Royal Highness, under circumstances equally new and difficult, display such tokens of filial duty and veneration as became the heir of his virtues, as well as the delegate of his authority. And now when the hopes of His Majesty's happy recovery are so much diminished, it is consolation to us, that the principles of just and magnanimous policy which distinguished his government, have been fully and successfully pursued under that of your Royal Highness. During the contest which we are under the necessity of maintaining against a foe the most powerful and inveterate, it is no slight encouragement to our exertions, that since your Royal Highness assumed the reins of government, the most distinguished success has on every occasion attended the British arms. Not only have the enemy's remaining colonies been wrested from him, but the cause of our oppressed allies of Spain and Portugal has, through the wisdom of your Royal Highness's councils, the bravery of His Majesty's armies, and the high talents of the General by whom they are commanded, assumed such a complexion, as to augur, with the blessing of Providence, the successful termination which it so justly merits.

We deem it incumbent on us to express our grateful sense of these advantages, as derived, under God, from the steady, firm, and undaunted perseverance of your Royal Highness in those measures of active opposition to the common enemy, which are at once grounded upon the immutable principles of justice to our allies, and are necessary to secure the welfare and independence of the British empire. And while we thus express our attachment to your Royal Highness's person, and our sense of the efficacious vigour and wisdom of your councils, it is with the resolution to contribute all efforts in our power, which may evince those sentiments of loyalty to our King and Constitution, which we have here endeavoured to express.

Signed in the presence of, and by order of the meeting, by Walter Scott, Preses.

[Presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble, dutiful, and unanimous Address of the Minister, Churchwardens, and Vestrymen, of the Parish of Saint Mary-le-Bone.

WE, the Minister, Churchwardens, and Vestrymen, of the Parish of Saint Mary-le-Bone, in the county of Middlesex, in Vestry assembled, deeply impressed with horror and detestation of the most atrocious act of assassination committed on the person of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, so eminent for his public and private virtues, beg leave with profound respect, at this momentous crisis, to express to your Royal Highness, our indignation and heartfelt regret.

We trust that the same sentiments with which we are animated, will excite the efforts of all His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects throughout the United Kingdom, to the due maintenance of the laws, and of the happy government under which the goodness of Providence has placed us.

Signed by the direction and the unanimous vote of a very numerous Vestry, by the Chairman, Luke Heslop, Minister.

[Transmitted by the Reverend Dr. Heslop, and presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the royal burgh of Peebles, humbly presume to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our warmest attachment to your person and government.

We have to congratulate your Royal Highness upon the brilliant successes that have crowned his Majesty's arms in the great and arduous contest in which we are engaged with the foe of freedom, religion, and independence.

The zeal with which your Royal Highness has espoused the cause of a great and loyal people, and the sound policy, which in other respects has directed your Royal Highness's councils will, we trust, never be shaken by any feelings inconsistent with the public good.

With the rest of His Majesty's loyal subjects, we continue to lament most deeply the severe visitation which has deprived this nation of the exercise of that paternal government which it had so long enjoyed, but we feel this calamity softened when we see so conspicuously in the son the same zeal for the public welfare and the same sentiments pursued which so adorned the father's government, and we are animated with the pleasant hope that, amid the overthrow of ancient thrones, and the downfall of legitimate sovereigns, this nation will continue to be the support of independence, and be the scourge of tyranny and oppression, and that your Royal Highness will retain from the people the most fervent attachment to your person and government, not to be dissolved by foreign policy or domestic faction.—Peebles Council Chamber, 12th May 1812.

Signed by the Provost, in presence and by appointment of Council, and the Common Seal of the Burgh is appended.

Jas. Ker, Provost.

[Presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The most humble and dutiful Address of the Portreeve, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Ashburton, Devon.

WE, the Portreeve, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the town and borough of Ashburton, most humbly beg permission to approach your Royal Highness, with our expressions of deep concern, and unfeigned abhorrence, of the atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, by an abandoned and infamous assassin. Detesting that depravity which could impel a human being to perpetrate so foul a crime, the result of long premeditated design, and the effect of diabolical and unfounded malice, we are eager to give vent to our feelings and to our detestation of the deed, which, in all of its circumstances, appears to us unparalleled in the history of nations.

Fanatic zeal, restless ambition, personal revenge, and insatiable cupidity, have too often stained the pages of history with ferocious murders; but it unhappily falls to the lot of the historians of the present age to record the sacrifice of the Prime Minister of the British Crown by the hands of a wretch, whom he had not injured, and to whom he was unknown, and even at the venerable threshold of that house, which represents the people of England, and whose walls have hitherto been unstained with blood. In our grief for this horrid event, we derive some consolation from that munificent disposition of Parliament, which has exerted itself, regardless of difference of political opinion, to raise a provision for the family of the departed Minister; and we most fervently pray that your Royal Highness's government may maintain the honour and dignity of the crown, preserve the constitution, promote the happiness and prosperity of the empire, and reflect on your Royal Highness's name a transcendent lustre, which may shine, through succeeding ages, as an example to princes, of honourable ambition, and real glory.

With the highest respect, we beg leave to subscribe ourselves, your Royal Highness's most loyal, obedient, and dutiful servants,

Wm. A. Cockey, Portreeve.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the town of Beverley, in the county of York, in Common Council assembled, humbly and unanimously beg leave to offer our most sincere assurances of duty and affection, to your Royal Highness, and to express our condolence on the loss which your Royal Highness and the kingdom have sustained, by the atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, First Lord Commissioner of the Treasury, and Chancellor of the Exchequer.

We cannot sufficiently express our detestation of the horrible crime, which has deprived his country of the eminent abilities and virtues of that illustrious statesman; but we receive sincere satisfaction, that Parliament are about to adopt your Royal Highness's gracious recommendation, to make provision for his afflicted widow and numerous family.

We are likewise concerned at the riotous conduct of certain misguided and deluded men, in some of the manufacturing districts; but notwithstanding the machinations of our inveterate enemy, and the present alarming state of public affairs, we have the utmost reliance on the wisdom and firmness of your Royal Highness; and that aided by the great council of the nation, we doubt not our happy constitution will be preserved unimpaired to the latest posterity.

Given under our Common Seal, the 18th day of May 1812, Sam. Hall, Mayor.

[Presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of the Land Tax, for the County of Dumfries.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of the Land Tax, for the county of Dumfries, at a General Meeting held this day, beg leave respectfully to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere condolence on the continuance of your royal father's indisposition. While on our own accounts we deeply lament the loss of a Sovereign who has reigned over us for half a century with the care and affection of a father, we cannot but sympathise with your Royal Highness and your august family, to whom His Majesty's private virtues have particularly endeared him. We earnestly pray for His Majesty's complete recovery, not more for our sakes than for his own, that the evening of his days may be cheered with the knowledge of the affectionate regard which your Royal Highness has shewn for His Majesty, and of the very able manner in which you have conducted his government.

We also beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our grateful thanks for the patriotism which your Royal Highness evinced in undertaking the government under circumstances of restriction, which although judged necessary by Parliament, not with reference to your Royal Highness's character, but to that of regencies in general, did nevertheless undoubtedly place your Royal Highness in a very arduous situation. But those circumstances have only served to bring out your Royal Highness's character and abilities with additional lustre.

While your Royal Highness as a man generously remembered the friends of your early years, and anxiously and sincerely endeavoured to bring them into your councils, we do most thankfully acknowledge your Royal Highness's gracious declaration as representing our Sovereign, that in the choice of your ministers "you have no predilection to indulge, no resentment to gratify, no objects to attain, but such as are common to the whole empire," a sentiment worthy of the Sovereign of a free people, and which places your Royal Highness in the proper character in which the future Sovereign of the British empire ought to appear, as the common father of his people.

We lament to see the ungrateful return which your Royal Highness has received from a part of the people; but we entreat that your Royal Highness will not judge of the sentiments of His Majesty's subjects at large, by the speeches of a few factious men in a tumultuous assembly, in which all freedom of debate seems to be destroyed, and from which clamour and violence has banished all peaceable and well-disposed citizens. We can assure your Royal Highness, from our own knowledge of this and many other populous districts with which we are connected, that your Royal Highness's conduct in every particular since you were invested with the regency, has met with the admiration of a very great majority of His Majesty's subjects, and has already produced in their minds a fervour of loyalty and attachment to your person and government, little inferior to that which fifty years experience of His Majesty's conduct has inspired towards your illustrious father.

That Almighty God may prosper your Royal Highness's present measures, and in due time conduct your Royal Highness to reign over us with the same success and popularity, is the prayer of His Majesty's faithful and dutiful subjects.

Signed, in the name and by appointment of the General Annual Meeting, assembled at Dumfries, this 30th day of April 1812 years, by

A. Maxwell, Preses.

CONTRACT FOR BUILDING A FRIGATE AT LIVERPOOL.

Navy-Office, May 20, 1812.

THE Principal Officers and Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy do hereby give notice, that on Thursday the 11th of June next, at one o'clock, they will be ready to treat with such persons as may be willing to contract for building at Liverpool,

A Frigate to carry 36 Guns.

The tenders must contain a price for building the ship of oak timber, and also a price for building her of fir timber.

A draft of the ship, and a form of the tender, may be seen at this Office.

No tender will be received after one o'clock on the day of treaty, nor any noticed, unless the party, or an agent for him, attends.

Every tender must be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Navy Board, and signed by two responsible persons, engaging to become bound with the person tendering, in the sum of 2000l. for the due performance of the contract.

R. A. Nelson, Secretary.

Navy-Office, May 20, 1812.

THE Principal Officers and Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy do hereby give notice, that on Wednesday the 10th of next month, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, Commissioner Cunningham will put up to sale, in His Majesty's Yard at Deptford, several lots of Old Stores, consisting of all lying in the said Yard.

Persons wishing to view the stores, must apply to the Commissioner of the Yard for a note of admission for that purpose.

Catalogues and conditions of sale may be had here, and at the Yard.

R. A. Nelson, Secretary.

CONTRACTS FOR MILITARY STORES.

Commissary in Chief's Office,
May 22, 1812.

SUCH persons as are desirous of contracting with the Commissary in Chief to supply

Blankets, Hammocks, and Saddles, may receive particulars of the contracts at this Office, between the hours of eleven and five, and deliver their tenders, sealed up and directed to the Commissary in Chief, marking thereon "Tender for Military Stores," on or before Tuesday the 2d day of June next; but none will be received after twelve of the clock on that day; nor will any proposal be noticed unless made on or annexed to a printed particular, and the prices inserted in words at length; nor unless a letter be subjoined to such proposal, signed by two persons of known property engaging to become bound with the party tendering, in the sum expressed in the particulars, for the due performance of the contract.

CONTRACTS FOR COALS AND CANDLES.

Commissary in Chief's Office, London,
May 18, 1812.

WANTED for the barracks in the under-mentioned counties in South Britain, for the barracks in North Britain, and in the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, and Alderney, such quantities of as may from time to time be required by the respective Barrack-Masters for the time being.

The deliveries to commence as soon after the 25th of June next as the respective Barrack-Masters shall require, and to continue until the 24th of June following.

Proposals for supplying coals, made separately for each county in South Britain, the whole of the barracks in North Britain, and likewise for those in the three islands of Guernsey, Jersey, and Alderney, sealed up and marked "Tender for Coals," will be received at this Office until twelve o'clock on Wednesday the 3d of June; the parties tendering observing, that in those counties where both sea and inland coals are used, the proposal must particularly express the price of each description.

Proposals for supplying candles, sealed up and marked "Tender for Candles," will be received until twelve o'clock on Friday the 5th of June; but no proposal, either for coals or candles, will be noticed, unless made on or annexed to a printed particular, and the prices inserted in words at length; nor unless a letter be subjoined to such proposal from two persons of known property, engaging to become bound with the party tendering, in the sum expressed in the particulars, for the due performance of the contract.

If tenders are sent by post, the postage must be paid.

Particulars of the contracts may be had on application at this Office, between the hours of eleven and five; to Deputy Commissary-General Lindesay, Edinburgh; Deputy Commissary-General Lutyens, Guernsey; and Assistant-Commissary-General Lamont, Jersey.
