WAR DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, July 9, 1812.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is an extract, has been this day received at Lord Bathurst's Office, addressed to the Earl of Liverpool, by General the Earl of Wellington, dated Salamanca, 18th June 1812.

THE army crossed the Agueda on the 13th instant, and marched forward in three columns, the troops under Don Carlos d'Espana forming a fourth; and the whole arrived upon the Valmusa, a rivulet about six miles from hence, on the 16th. The enemy shewed some cavalry, and a small body of infantry, in front of the town on that day, and manifested a design to hold the heights on the south side of the Tormes, but their cavalry were immediately driven in by our's; and the enemy evacuated Salamanca on the night of the 16th, leaving a garrison of about eight hundred men in the fortifications which they had erected on the ruins of the colleges and convents which they have demolished.

By the fire from these they protect the passage of the Tormes, by the bridge; and our troops crossed that river yesterday morning by two fords which are in this neighbourhood.

The forts were immediately invested by the 6th division, under the command of Major-General Clinton, and having been accurately reconnoitred, it was found necessary to break ground before them; this was done last night, and I hope that we shall commence our fire to-morrow morning from eight pieces of cannon, at the distance of three hundred yards from the principal of the enemy's works, the possession of which will, I hope, give us the possession of the others. Major-General Clinton conducted these operations.

It is impossible to describe the joy of the people of the town upon our entrance. They have now been suffering for more than three years, during which time the French, among other acts of oppression, have destroyed thirteen of twenty-five convents, and twenty-two of twenty-five colleges which existed in this celebrated seat of learning.

The enemy retired by the road to Toro, and their rear-guard was about fifteen miles from hence last night; they retired again this morning by the same road, and I understand that they intend to collect their army on the Douro, between Toro and Zamora.

I enclose a letter from Lieutenant-General Sir Rowland Hill and its enclosures, being two from Major-General Slade, giving an account of an affair which he had with the enemy on the 11th instant, in which, owing to the eagerness and impetuosity of the troops, considerable loss was sustained.

I have reports from the South, stating that General Ballasteros had had an action with the enemy near Bornos on the 1st instant; of which I have not received the details or any regular confirmation, notwithstanding there is no doubt of the fact.—The result has been stated differently by the two parties, and it is reported by the enemy that Ballasteros is badly wounded; but they have reinforced their troops in that direction since the action, from which circumstance it is to be inferred that the success, if on their side at all, was not very decisive.

MY LORD, Zafra, June 13, 1812.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Lordship, copies of reports which I have received from Major-General Slade, relative to an affair between two regiments of the brigade of cavalry under his command, and the brigade of French cavalry under General L'Allemand, in the neighbourhood of Valencia de los Torres, on the 11th instant, in which I am sorry to observe we have suffered severely, and have not gained the advantage which might have been expected.

Major-General Slade had advanced and was to have proceeded the following day in the direction of La Granja, to cover a reconnoissance to be made by the Count de Penne Villemur on that day, from Llerena towards Assuaga.

The 17th and 29th dragoons under General L'Allemand, which had been stationed in the neighbourhood of Assuaga, had however moved at the same time towards Valencia de los Torres, and Major-General Slade was induced to bring him to action. Whilst I forward these reports to your Lordship, I shall feel it my duty to cause further inquiry to be made into the circumstances of this affair, and shall have the honour of communicating them to your Lordship.

I have the honour to be, &c.

R. HILL.

Earl of Wellington, K. B. &c. &c. &c.

Llera, June 11, 1812, Half-past Four P. M.

SIR,

I BEG to have the honour of stating to you, that the enemy, whom I reported this morning to have been in Valencia, advanced upon this place about nine o'clock, with the 17th and 29th regiments of dragoons, under General L'Allemand. I immediately advanced with the 3d dragoon guards and Royals, attacked and pursued him nearly three leagues, to within a short distance of Maguilla, where I had an opportunity of charging him again, broke his first line, and killed a great many, among the number a Captain of the 29th dragoons, and we took an Aide-de-Camp of General L'Allemand prisoner.

I am sorry to say our loss has been severe, as the enemy brought a support, and my troops being too eager in pursuit, we were obliged to relinquish a great number of prisoners which we had taken, and to fall back upon this place.

Nothing could exceed the gallantry displayed by the officers and men on the occasion, in which Colonel Sir Granby Calcraft and Lieutenant-Colonel Clifton, commanding the two regiments, particularly distinguished themselves, as well as all the officers present.

I beg particularly to report the conduct of Brigade-Major Radcliffe, to whom I feel particularly indebted for his assistance on this occasion.

I have not yet been able to collect the returns, but I am concerned to say Lieutenants Windsor of the Royals, and Homewood of the 3d dragoon guards, have fallen into the enemy's hands, the former having his horse shot, and the latter being wounded.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) JOHN SLADE, Major-Gen.

Lieutenant-General Sir Rowland Hill,

&c. &c. &c.

SIR, Camp, near Llera, 12th June 1812.

IN forwarding the inclosed return of the casualties which occurred yesterday, I feel it my duty to state, in addition to what I had the honour of communicating to you before, that our misfortunes arose from too great eagerness and zeal in the pursuit, after having broke the enemy's first line, each regiment vying with each other who should most distinguish itself, which gave him an opportunity of bringing up fresh troops, and of charging us at a time when we were in confusion.

I beg leave again to repeat, that the exertions of the officers to restore order was conspicuous; but the two regiments having got mixed in the charge, it took some time before this object could be accomplished, during which we lost most of the prisoners we had taken, and suffered, I am grieved to say, severely. It is a satisfaction to me to be able to add, that the enemy lost in killed and wounded full as much as ourselves, and considered himself completely routed.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) JOHN SLADE, Major-Gen.

Copy of a Letter from Admiral Young to John Wilson Croker, Esq. dated on board His Majesty's Ship Impregnable, off West Capel, the 5th instant.

SIR,

I HAVE great pleasure in transmitting for their Lordships information, a letter from Captain Lennox, of His Majesty's sloop Raven, giving an account of his having attacked fourteen of the enemy's brigs, and driven three of them on shore.

I have no doubt of their Lordships being pleased with Captain Lennox's quickness in deciding on, and his skill and spirit in executing this attack; the merit of which is greatly enhanced, and the gratification attending the success of it heightened, by its being obtained in the enemy's port; under the guns of his forts, and in the face of his fleet.

I have the honour to be, &c.

W. YOUNG.

His Majesty's Ship Raven, off the Scheldt,

SIR, July 4, 1812.

I HAVE the pleasure to inform you, that when hauling over the Droograan yesterday afternoon, I perceived several of the enemy's flotilla that had been exercising considerably to leeward in the Weiling, and was induced to stand on to ascertain if there was a possibility of cutting any of the detachment off, which consisted of fourteen brigs; on proceeding into the Weiling, about a quarter past six P. M. found we could fetch some of them, but from the hazyness of the weather was unable to make it known to you by signal, and as standing back to do so would lose the opportunity of disturbing their manœuvres, we plied up with them as far as Wulpen, firing occasionally in passing. The wind blowing strong on shore, our superior sailing and working enabled us to overtake seven, four of which were obliged to anchor close to the surf under their batteries; the other three were driven on shore, and at half-past seven were still lying on the beach with the sea beating over them. I trust you will deem all has been performed on this occasion that was practicable, in face of an enemy's fleet, in an intricate passage, and on a lee shore: only one shot struck us near the stern port. From Lieutenant Berriff I had every assistance to be expected from an old officer, and the officers and ship's company behaved with that steadiness, which I trust would prove successful in a more serious contest. On reconnoitring this morning, the three brigs were on the beach, and probably bilged.

I have the honour to be, &c.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT:

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, of the City of Coventry.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the City of Coventry, in Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with every sentiment of duty and affection, to offer our sincere condolence, and to express our feelings of horror, grief, and dismay, on the atrocious assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval within the walls of the House of Commons, a public servant of the crown, and in the service of the state.

The national gloom and consternation on the reflection that an assassin's blow should have deprived your Royal Highness of a Minister whose principles were eminently calculated to enhance the glory and ensure the prosperity of the country, is in some degree diminished, on the incontestible proof, that this sanguinary crime is wholly unconnected with any political principles or consideration, and that the vile author of an act so wicked had no associates.

We beg permission to assure your Royal Highness of our unfeigned attachment to the House of Brunswick, and our determined resolution to maintain the honour of the crown and the security and independence of the country.

In testimony whereof we have caused our common seal to be hereto affixed, the 2d day of June 1812, Samuel Vale, Mayor.

[Presented by Lord Craven.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Merioneth, assembled in the Town Hall at Bala, on Saturday the 20th day of June 1812.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Merioneth, humbly approach your Royal Highness to offer our condolence, and to express to your Royal Highness the horror and detestation we all feel at the almost unprecedented and atrocious assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, in the conscientious discharge of his public duties, by which diabolical act your Royal Highness and the country have been deprived of an upright, faithful, and able Minister, and the country of one of its brightest ornaments, and whose private virtues were calculated to be the example, as they must have been the admiration, of all who were witnesses of his domestic life, cut off in his career by the hand of an assassin, at the doors of that house which had been the scene of his eloquent exertions as a senator.

We beg leave most dutifully to represent to your Royal Highness the consolation which we have derived from the reflection that a crime, of which happily but a few instances are recorded in the annals of our history, was the act of a single individual as far as has yet been discovered, and that its perpetration does not involve the character of the nation.

We most cordially thank your Royal Highness for the promptitude with which you was pleased to signify to Parliament your wish to be enabled to make a suitable provision for the widow and the numerous offspring of the much-to-be-lamented

Minister, and while we deplore the loss of the very distinguished virtues which adorned his character, we at the same time assure your Royal Highness of our unfeigned loyalty and attachment to the person of our beloved and venerable Sovereign and his family, and to the admirable fabric of our constitution.

Signed on the behalf of the County Meeting,
Wm. Wynne, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by W. Wynne, Esq. and presented by Lord Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The loyal and dutiful Address and Condolence of the Inhabitants of the City Bail and Close of Lincoln.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Inhabitants of the City Bail and Close of Lincoln, actuated by an imperious sense of duty, humbly approach your Royal Highness to express our sincere condolence on the lamented death of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, First Lord of His Majesty's Treasury and Chancellor of the Exchequer, occasioned by a most atrocious act of desperate wickedness, unparalleled in the annals of our country—an act which has deprived your Royal Highness of an upright and faithful servant, the kingdom of a statesman of eminent talent and unimpeachable integrity, and society of one of its brightest ornaments—a man whose character in private life was distinguished by every virtue, moral or religious.

In contemplating the peculiar circumstances which attended the disgraceful assassination of this great and excellent man, our minds are impressed with the deepest sentiments of horror and affliction: on the very threshold of that place where he was called upon to perform his public duty, and on his way to perform it, he fell by the hand of a base and cowardly assassin, and solely because he performed that duty conscientiously. Nor is it with less abhorrence that we regard the detestable principles by which the base perpetrator of this nefarious act has attempted to justify it—principles which render talent, bravery, and virtue of no effect, but make malice, revenge, and cowardice triumphant.

When we consider that Mr. Perceval has fallen a victim to public duty and in the service of his country, we applaud the liberality of your Royal Highness (so becoming the Regent of a generous people), in recommending it to Parliament to make a suitable provision for his numerous and afflicted family; thus alleviating (as far as human means can alleviate) their great distress, testifying the sympathy and gratitude of the nation, and evincing their marked detestation of the horrible transaction.

Amidst the just apprehension which the present and other recent acts of atrocity have given rise to, we look up with confidence to your Royal Highness, for the vigorous employment of those powers with which your Royal Highness is invested for the safety of the empire, so that a due respect to the laws of the land may be enforced, and that and decisive measures may be taken to arrest the progress of crime, to save the nation from further reproach, and effectually to protect and secure the properties and the lives of its peaceable inhabitants; and we assure your Royal Highness of our steady co-operation.

We beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our firm and unshaken loyalty and attachment to our revered and beloved Sovereign, your august father, to your Royal Highness, and to your illustrious house.

Signed on behalf of the inhabitants of the City Bail and Close of Lincoln, at a meeting held at the Guildhall, in the City of Lincoln, on the 18th day of June 1812.

Wm. Featherby, Mayor.

[Transmitted by Colonel Ellison, M. P. and presented by Lord Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Kincardine, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with the assurances of our unshakable and zealous attachment to the crown and constitution of the British empire and to your Royal Highness's person.

Language is inadequate to express our feelings of detestation and abhorrence of the assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, who exhibited an illustrious example of so many virtues, and who fell a victim to his sense of public duty as a Minister.

Amidst the horrors excited by this melancholy and lamented act of atrocity, we have one consolation that it proceeded from the hand of an isolated individual, the baseness of whose conduct rendered him unworthy of living under a free and enlightened government.

While we have the satisfaction with confidence to assure your Royal Highness of the loyalty, orderly conduct, and peaceable demeanour of all ranks of inhabitants in this county, we beg leave to express our earnest hopes that, under Divine Providence and by the vigour and exertions of your Royal Highness's government, those persons, who in some other parts of the kingdom, by unexampled depravity have committed acts of tumult and disorder, may be brought back to a due submission to the laws of the country, as the only means of securing the blessings of a free and happy constitution.

Permit us to convey to your Royal Highness the strongest assurances of our unshaken loyalty, our respect and attachment to your Royal Highness's person and government, and to add, that our duty as magistrates and subjects of the British empire, will at all times command every exertion and sacrifice in our power, when required for the preservation of our invaluable constitution.

Signed at the request, and by appointment of the County of Kincardine, by our Preses, at a Public Meeting held at Stonehaven, the 9th June 1812,

W. Burnett, Preses.
