

Law establish'd against all opposers whatsoever. In Subjection to, and defence of the best of Kings we will live, and in the bojome of the true Protestant Church will we die.

Your Majesties most Obedient, most Loyal, and Humble Subjects, and Servants.

To the Kings most Excellent Majesties.

The humble Adrets of Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, some of the Bargeses of Your antient Burrough of Barwick upon Tweede.

Royal SIR,

WHE Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, Bargeses of the Burrough of Barwick upon Tweede, Incorporated and made one Body Politick, in Law enfranchised by the favour of your most Royal Predecessors, and endowed by their Royal Bounty with many and large Priviledges and Immunities, to the great advantage of us Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects: The due Reflection and Consideration of wh'ch, and of Your most Excellent Majesties Bounty in continuing them to us, exacts and commands our most humble Acknowledgments and unfeigned Thanks to the Royal Bounty of Your most Excellent Majesty and Royal Predecessors.

And although Your Majesties Grace and Royal Favour be-flowed upon some ill Men, have produced contrary effects to their Duty, sarning and hardning their hearts and minds, even to the renting of the Peace of your Government, by running into Faction, Schisme, and Rebellion; We Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects (truly conforming to Your happy Government in Church and State) having had the great experience of Your Majesties most incomparable Prudence, Justice, and Moderation, by which we have enjoyed our Religion in the Purity of its Doctrine and Discipline, our Laws inviolated, to the Peace and satisfaction of all Your Majesties good and Loyal Subjects, do with all sense of Your Royal Care of, and Bounty to us, prostrate our selves at Your Royal feet, begging Your Majesties most Gracious acceptance of our most due and humble acknowledgments of your Prudence and Royal Conduct through the whole Series of your Government; and giving Your Majesty our humblest and most hearty Thanks for your Royal Condescension by your late Declaration read in our Churches, which hath abundantly satisfied us and all your Loyal Subjects of your great Wisdom in your Proceedings of the last Parliament; and in renewing to us your Royal assurance of persevering in the constant Care of us, our Religion and Liberties, and of making the established Laws of the Kingdom the Rule of your Government.

And, may it please Your most Sacred Majesty, we your most Dutiful and most Loyal Subjects, particularly obliged, do not from the Loyal Example of others only approach your Majesty with this our acknowledgment of your great Wisdom and Conduct, but from the dutiful sense we have of your constant Care and Resolutions towards us. And though we are the least in number we had not been the last in our acknowledgment, but that every Authority derived from your Gracious Majesty shall ever receive its proper Obedience and Duty from us. It is hence our Address and Duty is so late; for whilst that with assiduous Importunity we endeavoured to come to your Great Presence orderly, with our whole Body and Magistracy, time elapsing, we could no longer forbear our part in the chorus of Loyalty, but to evidence to your Majesty that there is a Church as well as Kirke in Barwick.

From Your Majesties Princely assurance, we account our selves the happiest people in the World, and do resolve for our selves, as we are in duty bound, to Sacrifice our Lives and Fortunes in defence of Your Majesties Royal Person, Government, and Successors in the due and natural descent according to Law, in opposition to all who shall by any means endeavour to invade the Rights of the Crown and Succession, or subvert the Constitution of our Church, as now by Law Established; declaring our open detestation and abhorrence of the Practice and Principles of our late Plotters, Conspirators, and Malignours of Your Royal Person, Government, and Ministers, resolving to acquiesce and submit, with all confidence and confidence becoming good and faithful Subjects; to the Conduct of Your Government, and to pray that your Life may be long and happy, and that Your Majesty may Reign with that perfect and absolute Dominion in the hearts of all your Subjects, that You do in ours, and that your Enemies may be athamed and Confounded.

Plimouth, Oct. 25. Part of the Sseights Fleet is come in here from the Downs, and the rest is hourly expected.

Deale, Oct. 26. This morning His Majesties Ships the Reserve, and the Mary-rose, Sailed out of the Downs with six Turkish Ships and about 20 Merchant Ships more under their Convoy.

London, Octob. 29. This Day, according to the Annual Custom, Sir John Moore Kt. Lord Mayor Elect, accompanied by the late Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, and Sheriffs of this City, attended by the Masters, Wardens, and Liveries of the several Companies in their respective Barges, went to Westminster; and having been Sworn before the Barons of the Exchequer, returned again by Water, and passed from the Place where they Landed, to the Guildhal, with the usual Solemnity. Their Majesties, who had been pleased to accept of the humble Invitation that had been made Them, to Honour the City with Their Presence, came about Noon, attended with a great many of the Nobility, and other Persons of Quality, into the City; and having seen the Show, (for which purpose a Place was prepared for Them in a Balcony in Cheapside) went to the Guildhal, where They Dined: Their Majesties were extremely satisfied with their Entertainment, which was very Noble and Magnificent, and in the Evening returned to Whitehal, as They came, amidst the repeated Acclamations of the People, who strove to express the Joy and Satisfaction which Their Majesties Presence gave them.

WHEREAS John Nevison, convicted at York Assizes in the year 1676 for Robbery and Horse stealing, was afterwards reprieved, upon promise to discover his Accomplices, and continuing in Goale for some years after, without making any such Discovery, he was at length ordered to be transported, and being taken out of Goale and listed in Captain Grahams Company designed for Tangier, He immediately ran away, and hath ever since absconded himself, and subsisted by Stealing and Robbing upon the High Ways, especially in the Countys of York, Derby, and Nottingham, and hath lately Murdered one Fletcher, who had a Warrant from a Justice of Peace to apprehend him. This is to give notice That his Majesty hath been pleased to Order the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to cause the sum of Twenty pounds, to be paid to such Person or Persons as shall apprehend and secure the said Nevison, so as to bring him to Justice,

Advertisements.

Such Persons as have already been pleased to Subscribe to Mr. John Browne's (His Majesties Chyrurgion) Treatise of Muscles, are desired to send in their Receipts, with the remainder of the Money behind, to the Author's house at Charing-Cross, and they shall have their Books delivered in, according to promise, about the latter end of this Term.

A Committee of Common-Council at Guild-Hall, London, the 27th of October, 1681. Proposals were prepared to be presented to the next Common-Council for encouragement of such persons as shall come in and subscribe to the Insurance agreed by Common Council to be made for security of Brick and Timber Houses against Fire, together with the Premiums to be paid for the same.
