

their relationship; and in case any such should not satisfactorily make out their claim within two years next after his decease, then the testator declared that they should be excluded the benefit of his said will. And the testator appointed John Polwarth, of Pimlico, in the County of Middlesex, Stationer, and Alexander Mackenzie (therein described), Executors of his said Will. And whereas the testator, by a codicil thereto, declared, that if any of the children of his said brothers, named in his said will, should be dead at his decease, the share of such child should go to his or her issue, lawfully to be begotten, equally to be divided between them (if more than one) as they should respectively come of age, except Jane Hilton (formerly Jane MacLennan), the daughter of his (the testator's) brother Dupean, which said Jane Hilton (wife of Marsdon Hilton), and her issue, he thereby excluded from any benefit under his said will. And whereas the said John Polwarth alone proved the said will, and several of the persons who are residuary legatees of the said testator have made their claims.—Notice is therefore hereby given, that all such other persons (if any) as claim to be entitled to any part of the said residuary estate, are hereby required to transmit unto the said John Polwarth (in Pimlico aforesaid), or to Messrs. Dobie and Thomas, Crane-Court, Fleet-Street, London, his Solicitors, their several claims, and to give satisfactory proofs of their relationship to the said testator Kenneth MacLennan, on or before the 1st day of January 1815, or, in default thereof, they will be absolutely excluded from all benefit under his said will and codicil.
