PROCLAMATION

Published by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Island of Java, dated Djocjocarta, June 18, 1812.

THE Sultan Hamangkubwana the Second, has, by his crimes and violation of treaty, shewn himself unworthy of the confidence of the British Government, and unfit to be farther entrusted with the administration delegated to him.

But a few months have elapsed since the Sultan experienced the utmost measure of forbearance, clemency, and generosity of the British Government. He had violently seized upon the Government from which his want of faith towards his late Sovereign had removed him, and in the execution of his purpose, put to death the First Minister of his Government, an officer, whose office and person were solemnly protected in all the existing engagements, and, until his time, had been held inviolate.

The British Government, with a tender respect for his advanced age, his high rank and supposed misfortunes, were willing to make a new trial of his conduct, and on his expressing a contrition for his past offences, even confirmed him in the throne he had presumed to usurp.

Scarcely however was he restored to power, when he caused to be assassinated the father of that Minister with whose blood he had recently stained his hands, a blameless and inoffensive old man. He shortly thereafter ordered to be strangled, seven of the highest and most respectable chiefs of the country, without even an alleged offence; men, whose persons were by the existing engagements, under the immediate protection of the British Government. He degraded and affronted the Hereditary Prince, lost to all sense of the dutiful respect with which he himself, during his prior degradation, had been treated by him; nay, he even publicly threatened the life of the Prince, and was hindered from putting his threats into execution, only by the direct interference of the British Government. He has refused to deliver over the lands and districts ceded to the late Government, and confirmed to the British by the last treaty. He has entirely neglected and overlooked every minor stipulation of that treaty; and lastly, he has been detected in intriguing with the Court of the Soosoonan, in violation of the most solemn and most important engagement of all the treaties, with the avowed object of undermining and subverting the British supremacy in Java.

By such conduct, inimical to the peace, good government, and general tranquillity of the country at large, the Sultan has displayed to the world, how unworthy he is of the high and important trust which the British Government reposed in him. He has forfeited all claim to the future confidence of that Government, and entirely lost the love and affection of his people, reducing the country to a state bordering upon anarchy.

The Princes, the Chiefs, and the people of Djocjocarta at large, are therefore hereby informed, that the Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor of the whole island of Java and its dependencies, is hereby pleased, in the name and on behalf of the British Government, to depose the present Sultan, and in reassuming the administration of the one half of the high lands of Java, known by the name of the kingdom of Mataram, again to delegate the same to the present Pangeran Adipati, who is hereby proclaimed Sultan of Mataram, under the title of Hamangkubwana the Third.

All persons are therefore required to obey him as their lawful Sovereign; and it is hereby declared, that all who presume to abet the dethroned Prince in his pretensions to the Government, will be considered as traitors to their country, and dealt with accordingly.

That no person may plead ignorance of this proclamation, the same is directed to be translated into the Javanese language, and affixed at the gates of the Craton, at the British Fort and Residency-House, and in such other public places as proclamations and publications are usually affixed.

Dated at Djocjocarta this 18th day of June 1812,
By me, the Lieutenant-Governor of the island of Java and its dependencies, (Signed) THO. S. RAFFLES.

By order of the Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor,

J. CRAUFURD, Resident at Mataram.

(A true copy.)

J. ECKFORD, Assist. Sec. to Govt.

In pursuance of the above proclamation, the Pangerang Adipati has been raised to the throne, under the title of Hamangkubwana the Third, and publicly installed in that station by the Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor, on the evening of the 22d instant, the whole of the Princes and Chiefs having submitted, and the country being in a perfect state of tranquillity.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, February 20, 1813.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday next the 25th instant.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Protestant Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Cavan.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Protestant Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Cavan, beg leave most humbly to represent to your Royal Highness that, although we repose implicit confidence in the wisdom of your Royal Highness, that it will not suffer any alteration to take place in the fundamental principles of the Constitution as established at the Revolution, we should, notwithstanding, hold it to be a dereliction of the duty which we owe to ourselves and our posterity, if we did not come forward to guard against a misrepresentation, by which (urged as it is with boldness on the one side, and suffered to pass in silence on the other) the Houses of Parliament and the British nation are exposed to the grossest and most dangerous deception: we allude to the representations which have been made to Parliament, that the general sense of the Protestants of Ireland is in favour of an unqualified repeal of all the laws whereby Roman Catholics are excluded from the power of the State. To guard against so fatal a misconception, we beg leave most humbly but explicitly to state what are our sentiments on this important subject.

We entertain the most cordial affection for our fellow-subjects of the Roman Catholic religion, and heartily rejoice at the repeal of those laws which affected their persons, their property, and the free exercise of their religion; but we beg leave most solemnly to protest against the claim now advanced on their behalf, to be admissible into the offices which constitute the Government, or to seats in the Houses of Parliament—a claim inconsistent, as we conceive, with the safety of the Established Constitution in Church and State, and dangerous to the connexion between Great Britain and Ireland.

We beg leave humbly to represent that the Roman Catholics, in this part of the empire, are a numerous class, forming a strong, distinct, and connected party; under the government of a Church, the rival of that which is established by law, retaining at this hour as its head a claimant to all the dignities and possessions of the Church of Ireland, holding his title to be little less than of "divine right"—a party which, from the Reformation to the Revolution, maintained a constant struggle for the supremacy of Church and State. The wisdom of the great and enlightened characters who conducted the Revolution was not able to devise any other expedient for effectually securing the existence and continuance of a Protestant Church Establishment, than that of excluding Roman Catholics from the Throne, the higher offices of State, and the two Houses of Parliament; for they well knew that no such anomaly could ever subsist as a Roman Catholic Government and a Protestant Church. But should this principle be condemned, and the Roman Catholics admitted to all the higher offices of the State, we do not see on what principle their admissibility to the Throne can be denied: they demand perfect equality with their Protestant fellow-subjects, and boldly state that nothing short of this will satisfy them; as long as they are excluded from the Throne and the possessions of the church, they cannot consider themselves on such an equality. We confess we are not prepared to sacrifice to their demands the Protestant Constitution of these realms.

To that Constitution, as established at the Revolution, and guaranteed to us by the Act for the Union of Great Britain and Ireland, we steadfastly adhere—its wisdom and justice we strenuously maintain: there is a manifest risk in altering it—we deny that there is the smallest danger in upholding it without alteration or infraction.

On these grounds we submit to the wisdom and justice of your Royal Highness our confident hope, that no alteration may be suffered to take place in the fundamental laws of our happy Constitution, as established at the enlightened period of the Revolution.

[Transmitted by His Grace the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of Londonderry, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to renew, at the foot of the throne, the assurances of our most sincere and unalterable attachment to the sacred person of our beloved Sovereign, and to the Government of his Kingdom under your Royal Highness's wise and enlightened Administration.

In common with the rest of His Majesty's loyal subjects, we deeply deplore the calamity which in the present arduous and important crisis has deprived the subjects of the United Kingdom of their revered and afflicted Monarch; we have just cause, however, to congratulate ourselves, that the duties of the kingly office, have devolved upon a Prince, the most enlightened of his age, who has endeared himself to the people of this realm, not only by the most disinterested and pious proofs of filial affection, but by a firm and unshaken attachment to the genuine principles of the Constitution, and an unceasing zeal to advance the welfare and the glory of the United Kingdom.

The important period at which it has pleased Providence to summon your Royal Highness to wield the sceptre of this powerful nation, is pregnant with difficulty and danger; yet, in no former time has the national character stood higher in the opinion of the world: amidst the awful changes which have taken place in the nations around her, Britain has remained unshaken; to what then next to the favour of Divine Providence is she indebted for her safety, but to those principles which settled the Crown upon your illustrious house, and to her excellent and matchless Constitution.

Strongly and unalterably attached to those principles, and anxious to preserve the internal peace and prosperity of the country, we regret that the conduct of any portion of our fellow-subjects should give cause for alarm, or induce the painful necessity of urging our apprehensions at the foot of the throne; but we owe it to the memory of our ancestors, as well as to the character of this ancient and loyal corporation, not to remain inattentive to the claims made by the Roman Catholics of Ireland; claims, pressed by them, not only without qualification or reserve, but insisted on as a matter of right, requiring a total and unconditional repeal of those laws, which are the safeguard of our civil and religious establishments, and the bulwark of our happy Constitution. Under its blessings, administered by the Protestant house of Brunswick, England has withstood the storms which have desolated the fairest portion of Europe, and is now engaged in an arduous and mighty contest with the avowed and implacable enemy of her liberty and independence. We lament, therefore, to observe, that in this her hour of peril, claims of a tendency so dangerous and calculated to distract the councils of your Royal Highness, should be advanced by any class of His Majesty's subjects, and which, if conceded to the extent demanded, must shake the security and settlement of the Protestant succession.

We therefore implore your Royal Highness, that whatever measures may appear necessary to be adopted by the councils of your Royal Highness on the present important subject, they may be so guarded, as fully and effectually to secure the Protestant establishments, and that the throne of your ancestors may be transmitted with undiminished splendour to your remotest posterity.

Joseph Curry, Chamberlain.

AMBROSE G. KING,

AT a Meeting of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, Clergy, and Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Harwich, in the County of Essex, for the purpose of considering a Petition to both Houses of Parliament against the Claims of the Roman Catholics, holden at the Guildhall on the 1st day of February 1813,

JOSEPH GRAHAM, Esq. Mayor, in the Chair;

The following Petition was proposed, read, and unanimously agreed to be adopted on the occasion, viz.

The Petition of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Harwich, in the County of Essex, and the Clergy and other Inhabitants of the same Borough,

Humbly sheweth,

That your Petitioners, considering religious toleration as one of the most striking features in the constitution of the United Church of Great Britain and Ireland, have viewed with the greatest satisfaction the gradual amelioration of the condition of their Roman Catholic brethren, and rejoice in seeing them possessed of the most unbounded liberty of conscience, and the full, free, and public exercise of their religious worship, together with the most perfect freedom of both person and property; warned, however, by the recording page of history, your Petitioners look back with horror to that period when, armed with political power, the Catholic Religion deluged this happy country with blood; and now, notwithstanding the great respectability of numerous individuals attached to that communion, your Petitioners feel the strongest apprehensions that similar causes may, at some future period, give rise to similar events.

These apprehensions are very much increased by the manner in which, as your Petitioners understand, their Romish fellow-subjects are endeavouring to obtain political power and authority, and your Petitioners think it a bad presage of the use hereafter to be made of those acquisitions, when, instead of approaching your Honourable House in the language of humility, many of their accredited and most popular leaders demand them as their indisputable rights, at the same time refusing to give any adequate security in return, for the preservation of the civil and religious rights of their Protestant brethren.

Another weighty cause of apprehension to your Petitioners, arises from the situation in which the Spiritual Head of the Roman Catholics is at present placed, he being completely in the power and entirely at the command of the most artful and inveterate enemy this country ever had to contend with. How the unbounded influence he possesses over the minds of his too faithful adherents would be exercised, when under such controul, your Petitioners consider so apparent, that they should not have submitted it to your Honourable House, but from the strong conviction that that influence which, from the present state of political power in this country, is innocuous, would then be employed to arm our Catholic fellow-subjects against us, and might ultimately be productive of the destruction of our most glorious Constitution.

Confiding, however (as your Petitioners do), in the unshaken fortitude and wisdom that has hitherto always been displayed by your Honourable House in the most trying emergencies, they humbly trust that, should it be found expedient to alter any of the existing laws in favour of the Roman Catholics, it will be on such terms as shall secure inviolate to the latest posterity that happy Constitution in Church and State, which has been purchased by the dearest blood of our ancestors, and which has so long made us the envy and admiration of surrounding nations.

And the following Resolutions were then agreed to and passed, viz.

Resolved,

That the Petition now read is approved of by this meeting; and that, when fairly engrossed and signed, the same be presented to both Houses of Parliament.

Resolved,

That the Right Honourable Lord Viscount Sidmouth be requested to present the Petition to the House of Lords; and that the Right Honourable John Hilcy Addington, and the Right Honourable Nicholas Vansittart, Members for this Borough, be requested to present the Petition to the House of Commons, and to support the same.

Resolved,

That the form of the above Petition, together with these Resolutions, be inserted in the London Gazette, and the Courier and Morning Chronicle papers; and also in the Chelmsford Chronicle, the Ipswich Journal, and the Suffolk Chronicle.

Resolved,

That the thanks of this meeting be given to the Chairman, for his conduct in the Chair.
