AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 3d of June 1813,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by virtue of the powers vested in His Majesty by sundry Acts of Parliament, His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was pleased, by his Order in Council of the twentieth February one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to allow, and did thereby allow, for the space of twelve months, to commence from the twenty-fifth day of March then next ensuing, the importation from any port or place whatsoever into any port or place of Great Britain, of certain articles of provisions therein named, subject to the rules and regulations set forth in the said Order, without payment of any duty whatsoever, except in respect to the article of rice, which, when imported, should be subject to such duties as might by law be payable thereon; and whereas it is expedient that rice, imported in British ships or vessels directly from any of the possessions of the East India Company or from any British colony or plantation, should be exempted from the payment of the said duties, His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, by virtue of the powers vested in His Majesty, by sundry Acts of Parliament, set forth in the said Order in Council of the twentieth February one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, is thereupon pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council to allow, and doth hereby allow, until the twenty-fifth day of March next, the importation of rice from any of the possessions of the East India Company, or from any British colony or plantation, in British ships or vessels, without payment of any duty whatsoever; any thing contained in the Order in Council above-mentioned of the twentieth day of February last to the contrary notwithstanding. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly. Jas. Buller.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 20th of May 1813,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

IT is this day ordered by His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, that all British ships and vessels clearing out for the coast of Africa for the purpose of carrying on the trade there, be permitted to take on board, as an assorted part of their cargoes, trading guns, or blunderbusses, pistols, and gunpowder, in the following proportions, viz.

One barrel of gunpowder for every ten tons of the vessel according to the admeasurement thereof, exclusive of sea stores; and ten trading guns or blunderbusses, and ten pair of pistols, for each barrel of gunpowder, notwithstanding any thing contained in the Order in Council of the first day of February last; provided that sufficient security be given to the Principal Officers of His Majesty's Customs of the port in which the ships are fitted out, and before they proceed on their respective voyages, in treble the value of the articles exported, that the same shall be expended in trade upon the coast of Africa; which security is not to be cancelled until proof of such expenditure has been made by the oath of the captain or master of the ship or vessel, in like manner as is practised with regard to spirits and East India goods used in carrying on that trade. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly. Jas. Buller.

Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Pellew, Bart. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean, to John Wilson Croker, Esq. dated on board the Caledonia, Port Mahon, March 31, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose a statement of the capture of the island of Ponza, on the coast of Naples, which reflects much credit on Captains Napier and Mounsey, by whom the naval service was directed.

It affords me peculiar satisfaction that this enterprise has been effected without bloodshed, owing to the judicious manner in which it was carried into execution.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) ED. PELLEW.

His Majesty's Ship Edinburgh, Palermo Bay, March 2, 1813.

SIR,

IN the absence of Sir Robert Laurie, I have the satisfaction of transmitting Captain Napier's letter and reports, received this day by the Furieuse, stating the capture of the island of Ponza by the Thames and Furieuse, under his orders, and 10th regiment, under the orders of Lieutenant-Colonel Coffin, without the loss of a single man.

I congratulate you, Sir, on the capture of this island, as, by Captain Mounsey's report, it affords a commodious mole for the frigates employed on that coast, with a plentiful supply of water.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) G. H. L. DUNDAS, Captain.

Sir Edward Pellew, Bart. Vice-Admiral of the Blue, and Commander in Chief, &c. &c. &c.

His Majesty's Ship Thames, Ponza Harbour, February 27, 1813.

SIR,

AGREEABLE to your directions, I embarked Lieutenant-Colonel Coffin, and the 2d battalion of the 10th regiment, on the 16th instant, and arrived off Ponza on the 23d, the harbour of which is about a quarter of a mile wide, with a mole at the extreme end of it, defended by four batteries, mounting ten, twenty-four and eighteen-pounders, and two nine-inch mortars.

Colonel Coffin and myself agreed, that the shortest and surest road to success, was by running both ships into the mole, and carrying the place by assault; but the weather was unfavourable for such an attack, until the morning of the 26th, when the ships bore up in close order with a fine breeze.

The enemy were prepared for our reception, and opened their fire nearly half an hour before our guns could bear: the batteries were, however, passed with little injury, the ships engaging on both sides, and the Thames was anchored across the mole-head, the Furieuse bringinging up a little a-stern of her.

Colonel Coffin and the troops landed the same instant, and pushed for the height of a strong tower, into which the enemy had retreated, and their appearance, together with the severe fire from the ships, induced the Governor to hoist a flag of truce, and agree to the inclosed capitulation.

I have much pleasure in informing you that this service has been performed without the loss of a man in either profession: our being hulled three times and Furieuse twice, sails and rigging a good deal cut, is the only damage suffered.

The most perfect cordiality has subsisted between the two services, and I am much indebted to Captain Mounsey for the excellent support he gave, and his quickness in following our motions; and if the resistance had been greater, and another battery, (which was expected) I have little doubt but we should have succeeded, particularly with such a storming party as Colonel Cashell's regiment, and such a leader as Colonel Coffin.

I have much reason to be satisfied with my first Lieutenant, Davies, officers, and ship's company; their steady conduct and excellent firing-accounts for the smallness of our damage. Captain Mounsey likewise speaks highly of Lieutenant Croker, his officers and crew; Mr. James Wilkinson, mate of this ship, I attached to Colonel Coffin, and Mr. Black, of the Furieuse, I entrusted with the charge of the landing.

Inclosed is a return of prisoners, guns, &c. and I shall send a survey of the Island by the earliest opportunity.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) CHARLES NAPIER, Captain.

Sir Robert Laurie, Bart. Captain of His Majesty's Ship Ajax.

Copy of another Letter from Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Pellew to John Wilson Croker, Esq. dated on board the Caledonia, Port Mahon, April 7, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inclose copies of letters from Captains Waldegrave and Usher, detailing the particulars of the destruction of two batteries, and the capture of several small vessels near Marseilles, which reflect very great credit on the officers and men engaged on those services, who, I trust, will receive their Lordships favourable notice.

I have the honour to be, &c.

ED. PELLEW.

His Majesty's Ship Volontaire, Cape Croisette, March 31, 1813.

SIR,

YESTERDAY we perceived fourteen merchant vessels at Morgeon. This added to the importance of the destruction of the two batteries, erected there last year, which affords so much protection to the coast.

The night favoured for embracing Lieutenant Shaw's offer of attacking the place. The marines, under Lieutenants Burton and Hunt, royal marines, and boats of this ships, Undaunted, and Redwing, were placed under his orders for that purpose, and this morning justified my high confidence in him. He landed at Sormion, and marching over the hills at day light, carried the batteries in the rear, after a partial resistance of forty troops there. Five thirty-six-pounders in one, and two twenty-four-pounders in the other battery, were thrown into the sea; one mortar well spiked, and all their ammunition destroyed. The boats under Lieutenant Syer, though elsewhere opposed by two field pieces, brought eleven vessels out laden with oil, and destroyed one other loaded, and two empty, which were aground. While completing the destruction of the works, many troops arrived from Marseilles, and the enemy's fleet in motion prevented further operations.

Lieutenant Shaw's character stands so high, that his conduct on this occasion is only what it always has been, and such testimony as his to the gallantry of all his companions, adds to their merit, and among them I must strongly notice Mr. C. Wyvill, Midshipman of this ship.

I was highly pleased at the judicious position Sir John Sinclair, in the Redwing, had taken at daylight to cover the operation.

The captures are hardly worthy of consideration, compared to the destruction of this strong post, which was doubly re-enforced within these two days.

Herewith I have the honour to report the loss on both sides, and prisoners made; the rest escaped among the rocks.

I have, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Undaunted, at Sea, March 20, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that, on the 18th instant, a Tartan took shelter under the battery of Carey (four or five leagues to the westward of Marseilles); light winds preventing the ship getting up, Lieutenant Tozer offered his services with Mr. Clennan, Master, Mr. Salkeld, Acting Lieutenant, and Lieutenant Hunt, royal marines, with the boats, to destroy the battery, and bring out the vessel; which I consented to, as I considered its destruction of some consequence, from its affording considerable protection to the trade of the coast.

Lieutenant Tozer speaks in the highest terms of commendation of the officers and men employed with him, who, in a few minutes after landing, carried the battery, although the enemy were strongly posted behind palisadoes, and stood until our marines were in the act of pushing bayonets, when they turned and suffered a severe loss.

We found in the battery four twenty-four-pounders, a six-pounder field-gun, and one thirteen-inch mortar, all of which were destroyed, and the Tartan was afterwards brought out.

It affords me the greatest satisfaction to inform you, that our loss has been small, which is to be attributed to the decision and boldness with which our gallant party made the attack.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Havannah, Adriatic,

SIR,

January 10, 1813.

IN reporting the capture of the enemy's gun boat No. 8, of one long twenty-four-pounder and thirty-five men, commanded by Monsieur

Joseph Floreus, Enseigne de Vaisseau, I must beg leave to call your attention to the great skill and gallantry with which this service was executed by the First Lieutenant, William Hamley, the officers and men under his orders, who, with only a division of this ship's boats, at two o'clock in the afternoon of the 6th instant, attacked and carried the above vessel, far superior to them in force, prepared in every respect, and supported by musketry from the shore, where she was made fast: our boats not having an expectation of meeting an armed vessel, till (upon opening the creek where she lay) they were fired upon, and desired by the troops on shore to surrender: I have to lament the loss of a very fine young man, Mr. Edward Percival, Master's Mate, killed, and two seamen wounded. Three merchant vessels were also taken.

I have the honour to be, &c.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, June 15, 1813.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is an extract, has been received this morning by the Earl Bathurst, addressed to his Lordship by the Marquess of Wellington, and dated Carvajales, May 31, 1813.

THE troops arrived at Salamanca on the 25th instant, and we found the enemy still in the town with one division of infantry and three squadrons of cavalry, and some cannon, of the Army of the South, under the command of General Villatte.

The enemy evacuated the town on our approach, but they waited longer than they ought upon the high ground in the neighbourhood, and afforded an opportunity for the cavalry, under General Fane and General Victor Alten, (the former of which crossed the Tormes at the Ford of Santa Martha, and the latter at the bridge) to do them a good deal of injury in their retreat. Many were killed or wounded, and we took about two hundred prisoners, seven tumbrils of ammunition, some baggage, provisions, &c. The enemy retired by the road of Babila Fuento, and near Huerta were joined by a body of infantry and cavalry on their march from Alba. I then ordered our troops to discontinue their pursuit, our infantry not being up.

No. 16740.

Major-General Long and Brigadier-General Morillo, in command of the Spanish division, attacked Alba, from which place the enemy retired.

In the course of the 27th and 28th, I established the troops which had marched from the Agueda and Upper Estremadura, between the Tormes and Douro, under the command of Lieutenant-General Sir Rowland Hill; and I set off myself on the 29th to join the troops here, and arrived that day at Miranda de Douro, and here on the 31st. I found the troops on the Escla under the orders of Sir Thomas Graham, as I had intended, with their left at Tabara, and in communication with the Gallician Army, and their right at this place, and all the arrangements made for passing the Escla. The greatest part passed that river this morning, the cavalry by fords, and the infantry by a bridge, which it was necessary to throw over the river, as it was so deep that some men, even of the cavalry, were lost in the passage. The English hussars, who crossed first, took an officer and thirty men prisoners near Valdeperdices.

The enemy have evacuated Zamora, and our patrols have been in that town; the troops which were there have fallen back upon Toro, where I understand they have one division of infantry and a brigade of cavalry.

It appears that the enemy have joined at La Nava del Rey, the troops which retired from Salamanca, Avila, &c. with those which were at Arevalo and Medina del Campo; and I imagine that as this part of the army advances, they will retire across the Douro:

The enemy's troops were still at Madrid and on the Tagus on the 22d, but I conclude that they will have evacuated that part of the country on hearing of our movements.
