By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the
Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS divers soldiers, now serving in His Majesty's army, under the provisions of the Mutiny Act, passed in the forty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign, chapter 66, schedule (A), did, at the time of their respective enlistments, engage to serve His Majesty for the limited periods therein respectively expressed, provided His Majesty should so long require the same, and for such further term, not exceeding three years, as should be directed by any Proclamation of His Majesty; provided always, that in case of such direction the said additional period should determine whenever six months of continued peace, to be reckoned from the ratification of any definitive treaty, should have elapsed, subsequent to the expiration of such limited periods as aforesaid: And whereas the continuation of the existing hostilities renders it expedient to exercise the power vested in His Majesty of enlarging such limited periods of service; We have, therefore, thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to publish this Proclamation: And We do hereby direct, that all soldiers now serving in His Majesty's army, (the Veteran Battalions excepted), who have been enlisted for such limited periods as aforesaid, shall continue to serve therein for the term of three years after the expiration of such limited periods respectively; provided always, that the said additional period shall determine whenever six months of continued peace, to be reckoned from the ratification of any definitive treaty, shall have elapsed, subsequent to the expiration of such limited periods respectively.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the thirty-first day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, and in the fifty-third year of His Majesty's Reign.

GOD save the KING.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 31st of July 1813,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was pleased, by His general Order in Council of the fifth of April one thousand eight hundred and five, touching the performance of quarantine, to direct, that where any ship or vessel shall attempt to enter into any port or place in Great Britain, or the islands of Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, Sark, or Man, whether such port or place shall have been appointed for the performance of quarantine or not, the Superintendent of Quarantine, or his Assistant, (if there shall be such Superintendent or Assistant at such port or place), or if not, the Principal Officer of His Majesty's Customs at such port or place, or such Officer of the Customs as shall be authorised by the Commissioners of the Customs, or any four or more of them, to act in that behalf, shall go off to such ship or vessel, and shall, at a convenient distance from such ship or vessel, keeping to windward, demand of the Commander, Master, or other person having charge of such ship or vessel, answers to certain preliminary questions therein set forth: And whereas His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was pleased, by His Orders in Council of the twenty-eighth of February one thousand eight hundred and eleven, and the twenty-ninth of September one thousand eight hundred and twelve, to direct, that certain questions, in addition to the preliminary questions directed by His Majesty's general Order in Council of the fifth of April one thousand eight hundred and five, touching the performance of quarantine, should be put to the Commanders, Masters, or other persons having the charge or command of such ships or vessels: And whereas it is deemed expedient, that, in the case of ships or vessels coming from or having touched at any of the places mentioned in His Majesty's said Order in Council of the fifth of April one thousand eight hundred and five, as places from which it is probable that the plague, or some other infectious disease or distemper, highly dangerous to the health of His Majesty's subjects, may be brought into Great Britain; or having on board any goods, wares, or merchandises, enumerated in the said Order, being the growth, produce, or manufacture of Turkey, or of any place in Africa, within the Streights of Gibraltar, or in the West Barbary on the Atlantic Ocean, from any port or place in Europe without the Streights, or on the Continent of America, at which there is not a regular establishment for the performance of quarantine, which shall have been declared sufficient for that purpose by any Order of His Majesty in Council, notified by Proclamation, or published in the London Gazette; or coming from or having touched at any port or place on the Continent of America, the islands adjacent thereto, or coming from or having touched at any of the ports in the West Indies; the following questions, in addition to the said preliminary questions, should be put to the Commander, Master, or other person having the charge of such ships or vessels; viz. after the tenth question,

“ Did you hear of any report, or are you aware of any suspicion having existed, at the time of your sailing, that the plague, or any other infectious disease prevailed at the place from whence you sailed, or at any other place in the Mediterranean [or in America, or the West Indies, as the case may be] ? ”

After the eleventh question,

“ At what port did you take on board your passengers? Were they residents at that place, or had they been embarked as passengers on board any other vessel from any other places, and from what places, and at what time ? ”

And whereas it is deemed expedient, that in case of any of His Majesty's ships arriving from or having touched at any of the places above described and enumerated, the following question should also be put to the Captain or other Officer having the chief command of such ship, after the eighteenth question; viz.

“ Have you any packages or parcels which you have taken charge of? if so, what are their contents, and when and where did you take them on board ? ”

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent is therefore pleased to order, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, that the two first mentioned questions above set forth, in addition to the preliminary questions directed by His Majesty's general Order in Council of the fifth of April one thousand eight hundred and five, and the Orders in Council of the twenty-eighth of February one thousand eight hundred and eleven, and the twenty-ninth of September one thousand eight hundred and twelve, respecting the performance of quarantine, be put to the Captains, Commanders, Masters, or other persons having charge or command of ships or vessels coming from or having touched at any of the places above described and enumerated; and that the third question above set forth, be put to the Captain or other Officer having the chief command of any of His Majesty's ships arriving as above:

And His Royal Highness is further pleased to order, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice aforesaid, that such Captains, Commanders, Masters, or other persons having charge or command of such ships or vessels, shall, upon such questions being put by the Superintendent of Quarantine, or his Assistant, or Principal Officer or other Officer of the Customs, authorised by the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs, or any four or more of them, to act in that behalf, give true answers to the same, in writing or otherwise, and upon oath or not upon oath, according as they shall be required by such Superintendent, or his Assistant, or Principal Officer or other Officer of the Customs, authorised as aforesaid, under such pains and penalties as are inflicted by an Act passed in the forty-fifth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled “ An Act for making “ further provision for the effectual performance of “ quarantine.”

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General, and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, His Majesty's Secretary at War, and the Governors and Commanders in Chief for the time being of the Isles of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, and Man, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain. Chetwynd.

Admiralty-Office, August 14, 1813.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received at this Office from Admiral the Right Honourable Sir John Borlase Warren, Bart. and K. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's ships and vessels on the American and West Indian station, addressed to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

SIR, San Domingo, at Sea, June 16, 1813.

I HAVE the honour to enclose, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the copies of several letters transmitted to me by the Honourable Captain Capel, of His Majesty's ship La Hogue, Senior Officer upon the northern part of the coast; by which their Lordships will perceive the meritorious exertions of the officers and crews of His Majesty's ships, in the capture of some of the large privateers of the enemy.

I have the honour to be, &c.

JOHN BORLASE WARREN.

His Majesty's Ship Nymphé, at Sea, April 21, 1813.

SIR,

IN obedience to your signal, after a chase of three hours, I yesterday captured the celebrated fast-sailing letter of marque brig Vivid, with one long eighteen-pounder on a circular carriage, and twenty-two men, from Boston.

I have the honour to be, &c.

The Honourable T. B. Capel, Captain of His Majesty's Ship La Hogue.

*His Majesty's Ship Nymphe, at Sea,
May 10, 1813.*

SIR,
I HAVE much pleasure in acquainting you of my having, on the 5th instant, in latitude 43 deg. 17 min. N. longitude 69 deg. 29 min. W., captured the fast-sailing American privateer Montgomery, of twelve guns and seventy-five men, on her return from a two months cruise off the coast of Ireland.

I have the honour to be, &c.

F. P. EPWORTH, Captain.
Honourable T. B. Capel, Captain of His Majesty's Ship La Hogue.

His Majesty's Ship Shannon, off Cape Ann, May 16, 1813.

SIR,
I HAVE the honour to inform you, that we this morning, in company with His Majesty's ship Tenedos, chased on shore a large armed ship under American colours, near Cape Ann Town: having anchored close to her, and fired a few shot on the beach to disperse the militia, who were assembling, I sent in the boats of both ships, under the command of Lieutenant Watt, of the Shannon, who brought the vessel off without any loss; she proves to be L'Invincible, a French corvette-built privateer, of sixteen guns, lately captured by His Majesty's sloop Mutine, and retaken by the Alexander American privateer. I have sent her to Halifax.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) P. B. V. BROKE.
The Honourable Thomas Bladen Capel, Captain of His Majesty's Ship La Hogue.

His Majesty's Ship Nymphe, Halifax Harbour, May 20, 1813.

SIR,
ON the morning of the 12th, after a chase of three hours, I captured the schooner privateer Juliana Smith, of thirty-seven tons, mounting one long nine-pounder and two twelve-pounder carronades (the two latter she threw overboard in the chase), and twenty-five men, four days from Boston, and had made no capture.

I have the honour to be, &c.

F. P. EPWORTH, Captain.
To the Honourable T. B. Capel, Captain of His Majesty's Ship La Hogue, and Senior Officer of the Squadron off Boston.

*His Majesty's Ship Ratler, at Sea,
May 20, 1813.*

SIR,
I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, for the information of the Commander in Chief, that His Majesty's ship under my command drove on shore, and captured on the 19th instant, off Kenebank, the United States private armed ship Alexander, of eighteen guns, returning to Salem from a cruise of ten weeks. The Alexander is a remarkably fine ship, four years old, and was considered the fastest sailing privateer out of the United States; she left Salem with a crew of one hundred and twenty-seven men, but had only about seventy remaining at the time of her capture, the greatest number of whom made their escape on her getting aground, and several were drowned in their attempt to swim from her. His Majesty's schooner Bream, which was in company, contributed much to our assistance in getting the ship off, and, I am happy to say, with hardly any injury.

I had the honour to report to the Senior Officer at Halifax, of having chased on shore, near Bayley's Mistake, the American privateer schooner Gallynippee, of two guns, long six-pounders, and thirty-five men, on the 2d instant, and of her being in that situation attacked and destroyed by the boats of His Majesty's ship, in charge of Mr. James Cutlip, Acting Master.

I have the honour to be, &c.

ALEX. GORDON, Captain.
*The Honourable T. B. Capel, Captain of
His Majesty's Ship La Hogue, &c.*

*His Majesty's Ship Tenedos, at Sea,
May 21, 1813.*

SIR,
I BEG to inform you, that I have this day, in company with His Majesty's brig Curlew, captured the Enterprize American schooner privateer, belonging to Salem, of four guns, (but pierced for eighteen,) and ninety-one men, on her return from a four months' cruise on the coast of Brazil, without having made any captures; she is quite new, and copper-fastened, and in my opinion well qualified for His Majesty's service.

I have the honour to be, &c.

HYDE PARKER, Captain.
P. B. V. Broke, Esq. Captain of His Majesty's Ship Shannon.

*San Domingo, Hampton Roads,
Chesapeake, June 24, 1813.*

SIR,
I REQUEST you will inform their Lordships, that, from the information received of the enemy's fortifying Crany Island, and it being necessary to obtain possession of that place, to enable the light ships and vessels to proceed up the narrow channel towards Norfolk, to transport the troops over on that side for them to attack the new fort and lines, in the rear of which the Constellation frigate was anchored, I directed the troops under Sir Sydney Beckwith to be landed upon the continent within the nearest point to that place, and a reinforcement of seamen and marines from the ships; but upon approaching the island, from the extreme shoalness of the water on the sea side, and the difficulty of getting across from the land, as well as the island itself being fortified with a number of guns and men from the frigate and the militia, and flanked by fifteen gun-boats, I considered, in consequence of the representation of the Officer commanding the troops, of the difficulty of their passing over from the land, that the persevering in the attempt would cost more men than the number with us would permit, as the other forts must have been stormed before the frigate and dock-yard could be destroyed; I therefore ordered the troops to be re-embarked.

I am happy to say, the loss in the above affair (returns of which are enclosed) has not been considerable, and only two boats sunk.

I have to regret, that Captain Hanchett, of His Majesty's ship Diadem, who volunteered his services, and led the division of boats with great gallantry, was severely wounded by a ball in the thigh.

The officers and men behaved with much bravery, and if it had been possible to have got at the enemy, I am persuaded would have soon gained the place.

I have the honour to be, &c.

San Domingo, Hampton Roads, Chesapeake, June 27, 1813.

SIR,

ENCLOSED herewith I beg leave to send you the copies of two letters, transmitted to me by Vice-Admiral Stirling, reporting the capture of the Lovely Lass and Mary Ann, American privateers; the former by the Circe and Forrester, and the latter by the Sapphire and Forrester.

His Majesty's Sloop Sapphire, off Isle of Vache, May 5, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, that at daylight this morning a small schooner was seen hovering about the convoy, then close in with Isle of Vache; and that after a few hours chase, she struck to His Majesty's sloop Forrester, Captain Alexander Kennedy, and to His Majesty's sloop under my command: she proves to be the Mary Ann, of Charlestown, commanded by Peter Charriol, out twenty-one days, and had made no capture; she is armed with one long nine-pounder, a midships, and a four-pounder, with a profusion of small arms, which leads me to believe she expected some addition to her crew in this country, there being only thirty hands on board at the time of capture, one of whom was found dead.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Vice-Admiral Stirling, Jamaica.

His Majesty's Ship Circe, at Sea, May 15, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that, being off Montego Point yesterday at 5 P. M. I observed a very suspicious schooner to windward, which, after an anxious chase of nineteen hours, I had the good fortune to capture: she proves to be the Lovely Lass American privateer, of five guns (four of which were thrown overboard in the chase), and sixty men, commanded by Mr. John Smith, an officer in the American navy. Says he has been out forty-four days, and had made no capture.

I have the honour to be, &c.

EDW. WOOLCOMBE, Captain.
Vice-Admiral Stirling, Jamaica.

San Domingo, Hampton Roads, Chesapeake, June 27, 1813.

SIR,

I REQUEST you will inform their Lordships, that the enemy having a post at Hampton, defended by a considerable corps, commanding the communication between the upper part of the country and Norfolk; I considered it advisable, and with a view to cut off their resources, to direct it to be attacked by the troops composing the flying corps attached to this squadron; and having intrusted Rear-Admiral Cockburn to conduct the naval part of the expedition, and placed Captain Pechell with the Mohawk sloop and launches, as a covering force, under his orders, the troops were disembarked with the greatest zeal and alacrity.

Sir Sydney Beckwith, commanding the troops, having most ably attacked and defeated the enemy's force, and took their guns, colours, and camp, I refer their Lordships to the Quarter-Master-General's report, (which is enclosed) and that will explain the gallantry and behaviour of the several officers and men employed upon this occasion, and I trust will entitle them to the favour of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, and the approbation of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

Sir Sydney Beckwith having reported to me that the defences of the town were entirely destroyed, and the enemy completely dispersed in the neighbourhood, I ordered the troops to be re-embarked, which was performed with the utmost good order by the several officers of the squadron, under the orders of Rear-Admiral Cockburn.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) JOHN BORLASE WARREN.
John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship, San Domingo, Hampton Roads, June 28, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that in compliance with your orders to attack the enemy in town and camp at Hampton, the troops under my command were put into light sailing vessels and boats; during the night of the 25th instant, and by the excellent arrangements of Rear-Admiral Cockburn, who was pleased in person to superintend, the advance under Lieutenant-Colonel Napier, consisting of the 102d regiment, two companies of Canadian Chasseurs, three companies of marines from the squadron, with two six pounders from the royal marine artillery, were landed half an hour before daylight the next morning, about two miles to the westward of the town, and the royal marine battalions, under Lieutenant-Colonel Williams, were brought on shore so expeditiously that the column was speedily enabled to move forward.

With a view to turn the enemy's position, our march was directed towards the great road, leading from the country into the rear of the town: whilst the troops moved off in this direction, Rear-Admiral Cockburn, to engage the enemy's attention, ordered the armed launches and rocket boats to commence a fire upon their batteries; this succeeded so completely that the head of our advanced guard had cleared a wood, and were already on the enemy's flank before our approach was perceived; they then moved from their camp to their position in rear of the town, and here they were vigorously attacked by Lieutenant-Colonel Napier, and the advance; unable to stand which, they continued their march to the rear of the town, when a detachment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Williams, conducted by Captain Powell, Assistant Quarter-Master-General, pushed through the town and forced their way across a bridge of planks into the enemy's encampment, of which, and the batteries, immediate possession was gained. In the mean time some artillerymen stormed and took the enemy's remaining field-piece.

Enclosed, I have the honour to transmit a return of ordnance taken. Lieutenant-Colonel Williams will have the honour of delivering to you a stand of colours of the 68th regiment, James City light infantry, and one of the 1st battalion, 85th regiment. The exact numbers of the enemy it is difficult to ascertain.

From the woody country, and the strength of their position, our troops have sustained some loss—that of the enemy was very considerable: every exertion was made to collect the wounded Americans, who were attended by a surgeon of their own, and by the British surgeons, who performed amputations on such as required it, and afforded every assistance in their power; the dead bodies of such as could be collected were also carefully buried.

I beg leave on this occasion, to express the obligations I owe to Lieutenant-Colonel Napier, and Lieutenant-Colonel Williams, for their kind and able assistance, to Major Malcolm and Captain Smith, and all the officers and men, whose zeal and spirited conduct entitle them to my best acknowledgments.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to order a conge d'elire to pass the Great Seal, empowering the Dean and Chapter of the cathedral church of St. Paul, London, to elect a Bishop of that see, the same being void by the death of the Right Reverend Father in God, Doctor John Randolph, late Bishop thereof; and His Royal Highness has also been pleased, by His sign manual, to recommend to the said Dean and Chapter, the Reverend William Howley, Doctor in Divinity, Regius Professor of Divinity in the University of Oxford, and a Canon of the Cathedral Church of Christ in the said University, to be by them chosen Bishop of the said see of London.

Stamp-Office, London, July 29th, 1813.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an Act was passed in the late session of Parliament, for altering, explaining, and amending an Act of the forty-eighth year of His Majesty's Reign, for granting Stamp Duties in Great Britain, with regard to the Duties on Re-issuable Promissory Notes (commonly called Bankers Notes), and on conveyances on the sale and Mortgage of Property; and for better enabling the Commissioners of Stamps to give relief in cases of spoiled stamps; and for better securing the duties on stage coaches.—In regard to

BANKERS NOTES,

It is enacted, that after the 10th day of October next, no promissory notes, for the payment to the bearer on demand, of any sum not exceeding two pounds and two shillings, shall be re-issued, by any bankers or others in England, at any time after the expiration of three years from the date thereof, under a penalty of 50*l.* but that all such notes shall, on the payment thereof after that period, be forthwith cancelled, by the persons paying the same, under the like penalty. The re-issuing of notes for larger sums is already restrained by the former Act. In regard to

SALES AND MORTGAGES,

Divers provisions are made for removing doubts which occurred on the former Act relating to the ad valorem duties.—In regard to

SPOILED STAMPS,

The Commissioners are authorised to allow and exchange stamps on written instruments signed by any party or parties (except policies of insurance) which have or shall become inoperative, unfit or insufficient for the purpose intended, void, or useless, in a variety of cases not before provided for. But application for the allowance must be made within six months after the passing of the Act (on 10th of July instant) or after the date of the instruments, or within six months after the instruments become void, in case of their becoming void for want of enrolment, or within six months after the same shall be received back, in case of their having been sent abroad. And all applications for the allowance of spoiled stamps, on instruments not fully written, or not signed by any party, must be made, at this Office, within six months after the passing of the Act, or within six months after the same shall have been spoiled, if belonging to persons resident in London or Westminster, or within ten miles thereof, or within twelve months after the same shall have been spoiled, if belonging to persons resident elsewhere in England. And affidavits, or solemn affirmations in the case of Quakers, of all the facts and circumstances relating to the spoiled or useless stamps brought for allowance, must accompany the application; which affidavits or affirmations must be made before a Commissioner of Stamps or a Master in Chancery, ordinary or extraordinary. And any person making a false oath or affirmation will be punishable for perjury.—In regard to

STAGE COACHES,

The Act contains a clause for more effectually securing the duties, in cases of persons running stage coaches without a licence. And it is enacted, that all licences for keeping stage coaches, which shall have been granted, within six months preceding the 1st August 1813, shall continue in force till the 31st July 1814, and that all licences granted before the 1st February 1813, and being in force on the 31st July 1813, shall cease on that day, and new licences shall be taken out in lieu thereof on the day following; and all licences to be granted after the 31st July 1813 are to have effect and continue in force, from the date thereof, until the 31st day of July following, and no longer.

It is recommended to all bankers, solicitors, stationers, and others concerned, to make themselves acquainted with the particular provisions of the Act, in order that they may avoid penalties, and intitle themselves to the relief given by it, in the case of spoiled stamps.

By order of the Commissioners,
Wm. Kappen, Secretary.
