WAR DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, August 29, 1813.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is an extract, has been this day received at Earl Bathurst's Office, addressed to his Lordship by Field-Marshal the Marquess of Wellington, dated Lezaca, 18th August 1813.

THE enemy's detachment under General Paris, which had remained at Jaca since it retired from the Ebro, retired again from that place into France on the night of the 11th. A garrison of eight hundred men has been left in Jaca.

No movement has been made by the allied troops, nor any of consequence by the enemy, since my last report.

I have no recent accounts from Lieutenant-General Lord William Bentinck.

I learn from General Mina, that Duroca surrendered on the 11th instant.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 14th of August 1813,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the thirty-fifth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for allowing, for a limited time, the importation of goods from India and China, and other parts within the limits of the exclusive trade of the East India Company, in ships not of British-built, nor registered as such; and for the exportation of goods from Great Britain by the same ships, under certain restrictions," it was enacted, that if, during the continuance of the then present war, and for eighteen months after the conclusion thereof, any ship freighted by the said United Company, with the approbation of the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, with home investment of goods from India or China, or other ports within the limits of the said Company's trade, should arrive in the ports of Great Britain, it should and might be lawful, upon representation made by or on behalf of the said Company to His Majesty in Council, for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to authorise the importation and entry of such goods, subject to the like duties, and no other, as if they were imported in British-built ships, though such goods should be brought in ships which might not be British-built, nor have been registered as British-built ships, nor navigated as required by the laws then in force; provided the said ships should have been built within the territories belonging to the said United Company, or in the ports under the immediate protection of the British flag in the East Indies; and also to permit such ships to export from Great Britain, to the British settlements in the East Indies, or to any of the places within the limits before mentioned, with the licence and consent of the said Company, any goods, wares or merchandize whatsoever, ordnance and military stores excepted; and it was thereby further enacted, that such ships should not be liable to forfeiture, nor should any persons whatever be liable to any penalty or forfeiture on account of any importation of goods, wares, or merchandize, in pursuance of the said Act, or of any Order or Orders of His Majesty in Council, which might be issued in virtue thereof; and whereas by an Act passed in the forty-second year of His Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for making perpetual so much of an Act made in the nineteenth year of the reign of His present Majesty, as relates to the allowing a drawback of the duties on rum shipped as stores, to be consumed on board merchant ships on their voyages; and to continue several laws relating to the permitting the exportation of tobacco pipe-clay, from Great Britain to the British sugar colonies, in the West Indies, until the twenty-

“ fourth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eight; to the giving further encouragement to the importation of naval stores from the British colonies in America, until the twenty-ninth day of September one thousand eight hundred and twelve; to the regulating the payment of the duties on cinnamon, cloves, nutmegs, and mace; to the allowing the importation of certain fish from Newfoundland, and the coast of Labrador, until the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eight; and to the allowing the importation and exportation of goods from and to India and China, in ships not of British-built, during the continuance of the exclusive trade to and from the East Indies, granted to the East India Company, by an Act of the thirty-third year of His present Majesty's reign,” the said Act of the thirty-fifth year of His Majesty's reign was further continued, during the term granted to the said United Company, by the said Act of Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign; and whereas by an Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, intituled, “ An Act for continuing in the East India Company for a further term, the possession of the British territories in India, together with certain exclusive privileges; for establishing further regulations for the government of the said territories, and the better administration of justice within the same, and for regulating the trade to and from the places within the limits of the said Company's charter;” it is enacted, that the said two first mentioned Acts, passed in the thirty-fifth and forty-second years of His Majesty's reign, shall continue and be in force, until the first day of August one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, unless any provision shall be made respecting the same in the next Session of Parliament; and that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, during such times, by any Order or Orders in Council to be made for that purpose, to authorize any of His Majesty's subjects, to import into the said United Kingdom, from the East Indies, and other places within the limits of the said Company's charter, save and except the dominions of the Emperor of China; paying the like duties only as if such importation were made in British-ships; and to export from the said United Kingdom to the East Indies and places aforesaid, save and except as aforesaid, goods, wares, and merchandise, except tea, in all such ships as above mentioned; subject to such regulations and conditions as His Majesty shall think fit; any Act, matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding; provided always, that all ships which may have commenced their voyage from India, at any time before the expiration of one year from the passing of the said last mentioned Act, shall be deemed and taken to be equally entitled to the benefit of the provisions therein before contained, as if such ships had arrived in any port of the United Kingdom, during the said twelve months:—His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in virtue of the powers vested in His Majesty, by the said Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, is thereupon pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that any of His Majesty's subjects be, and they are hereby permitted and allowed to import into the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, from the East Indies, and other places within the limits of the East India Company's charter, save and except the dominions of the Emperor of China; paying the like duties only as if such importation were made in British ships; and to export from the said United Kingdom to the East Indies, and places aforesaid, save and except as aforesaid, goods, wares and merchandise, except tea, in all such ships as above mentioned; any Act, matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding: provided always, that all ships which may have commenced their voyage from India, at any time before the expiration of one year from the passing of the abovementioned Act of the last Session of Parliament, shall be deemed and taken to be equally entitled to the benefit of the provisions therein before contained, as if such ships had arrived in any port of the United Kingdom during the said twelve months.

ANTI-ATTRITION.

IT is now unequivocally proved that the Patent Anti-Attrition Composition, is the cheapest and best thing ever yet discovered for ships' bottoms, instead of Copper; to preserve cables from being rubbed in the hawse-holes, instead of a plat, service, or rounding; the rigging of ships from the weather, and from being chafed, instead of tar, "Parceline, and Service;" for the slides and carriages of guns; to render leather and canvas water-proof; and to prevent the effects of friction in steam-engines, mills, sugar-mills, carriages, coaches, waggons, carts, and machinery of every description. It is also the best thing to preserve the blades of swords, and all kinds of polished steel articles, from rust. It will likewise preserve every kind of wood, and wooden building, from the weather, worm, and dry rot, either in the East or West Indies, or in any climate.

One pricing of this composition is in some cases equal to one hundred applications of oil, tallow, or any other kind of grease, paint, or tar, and the public save by its use from three hundred to four thousand per cent. exclusive of preventing the wear and tear in machinery, wheels, &c. &c. which is a saving of expense more than that of saving time.

parts out of ten, and nothing can be so clean in its working, or give so little trouble.

Sold wholesale and retail, for the Patentees, at No. 40, Charing-Cross, near the Admiralty, London; and by their appointment, at most coachmakers, ironmongers, innkeepers, coach-offices, and saddlers, in the United Kingdom, in boxes, price 1s. 6d.; 2s. 6d.; 5s. 6d.; 10s. 6d.; one guinea, and two guineas each.

The smallest size box contains a quantity sufficient to prime a four-wheel carriage twice, with which it will run upwards of three thousand miles, without applying any thing else to the axletrees; and it will work with wood axletrees, or with common boxes and axletrees of any kind.—The most satisfactory proofs of the merits of the composition may be seen at the Patentees' Office, No. 40, Charing-Cross, as above.

Directions are given with each box, which are signed W. D. Bellamy.
